M'ARTHUR MEN RAID NAGASAKI; SINK TEN SHIPS

Honshu Raid Toll: 116 Vessels

GUAM, Aug. 3 [Friday]—(AP)—As Gen. MacArthur announced from Manila today a raid by more than 250 far eastern air force planes on the Japanese port of Nagasaki Wednesday in which 10 Jap ships were sunk. Adm. Nimitz gave out a final tabulation, raising to 116 the total of enemy ships sunk or damaged by carrier planes in their sweep over Honshu Monday.

MacArthur said his FEAF fighters and bombers also damaged three other ships and a submarine at Nagasaki and left fires visible for 25 miles. Twelve other ships of varying sizes were sunk or damaged in attacks extending from Korea southward to Borneo and the Celebes.

Twenty Jap planes arose to intercept at Nagasaki and six of them were shot down without American loss. The Okinawa based pilots said 44 Jap planes had come out of hiding to meet the raids of Tuesday and Wednesday.

Thirty-three Warships Blasted

Twenty-four of the ships attacked by the fleet, including two destroyers and two midget submarines, were sunk. Of the 92 damaged, 33 were warships. These included an escort carrier, a light cruiser, six destroyers, nine destroyer escorts, a submarine, and seven midget submarines, a submarine tender, a gunboat, five identified simply as combatant ships, and a naval auxiliary.

In addition 278 planes were destroyed or damaged.

The raids, initially directed at the Tokyo area but widened to include Nagoya and the Maizuru naval base on western Honshu because of bad weather, also damaged the great Nagoya naval arsenal, naval docks and buildings at Maizuru, four main buildings of the Kanto Special Steel company and the Japanese International Aircraft company, both at Hiratsuka, near Tokyo.

Attack Same Target

Nimitz disclosed that, for the first time, British and American carrier pilots concentrated on the same target, the Maizuru naval base. Elaborating upon previous bulletins which gave partial results of Monday's strikes, Nimitz announced the additional destruction by American flyers of one grounded plane and damaging of 41; the sinking of one oil barge and 11 small craft and the damaging of five small combat vessels, two merchantmen, and nine small craft.

British airmen added two aircraft destroyed on the ground and seven damaged; one destroyer, one transport, and one lugger sunk, and two destroyers, one destroyer escort, one auxiliary, five cargo vessels, and eight small craft damaged to their previous reports. One of the destroyers damaged was of the 2,300 ton Terutsuki class, a big, modern warship.

Tokyo concerned itself with reports on the record Super Fort raid yesterday and admitted extremely heavy damage resulted. It conceded that "at the present time the number of cities that have the appearance of cities without being harmed is extremely small."

Tokyo Area Hit, Japs Say

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 2 (AP)—About 100 Mustang fighter planes attacked military targets in the Tokyo region about 90 minutes Friday morning [Japanese time], Japan's Domei agency reported today. There was no allied confirmation.

About 50 Mustangs first attacked military installations in Chiba prefecture, southeast of Tokyo; southern Ibaraki prefecture, to the north, and Tochigi prefecture, to the west, Domei added.

A second wave of equal size attacked the western Tokyo-Yokohama area 15 minutes later [about 10:15 a. m. Japanese time], Domei said. The broadcast reported a small number of B-29s led the Mustangs.

Douglas Air Field Ready Made for City

Early commercial use of the Douglas Aircraft company's airport, at Higgins and Mannheim rds., near Park Ridge, without interference with the company's warplane production, is possible if the city of Chicago can get the permission of the army air forces, which owns the property, it was learned yesterday.

Acquisition of commercial rights there would go a long way toward meeting Mayor Kelly's demand for "a new and larger airport" to supplement the overcrowded airport at 63d st. and Cicero av. and make Chicago a leader in world air transportation, observers in the industry said.

The Douglas site, 1¼ miles square and larger than the present Chicago airport, has runways ranging from 5,500 to 5,700 feet which, company officials said, could be extended to 8,000 feet without exceeding the present area. Plenty of level land is available for condemnation in the vicinity if it becomes necessary to enlarge the port. Several aircraft producers and leading pilots have predicted that 8,000 foot runways will accommodate "anything that flies" within the next 15 years.

276 Transient Planes in Month

Traffic at the Douglas port has been dropping off. Douglas "production flights"—for testing and flying away the C-54 Skymasters the company builds there — average about 12 a day. Other transient flights, including army air force planes, average only 50 to 75 a week. Last month only 276 transient planes were accommodated at the airport.

In contrast, when the navy air training station at Glenview used the Douglas port last year, there was an average of 75 navy flights an hour "all day long," company officials said. These were halted last September when the navy completed concrete work at its Glenview airport.

The army air forces still lists the Douglas field as Orchard Place air base, altho their principal use of the port is to fly in pilots to take off the completed Skymasters and for communication flights to and from Wright field, Dayton, O.

Adequate Communications

The Douglas field's control tower and communications system could handle as many flights on each runway as Chicago airport, a company spokesman said, and an average of 404 planes a day, or 16.7 planes an hour, have landed or taken off at Chicago airport during the first seven months of this year.

Chicago airport has parallel runways, but the Douglas port does not. Spokesmen said, however, there is "plenty of room" for the construction of parallel runways at the Douglas site if the traffic warrants.

The complete Douglas installation is owned by the government and the company operates it under army contract. For this reason, company officials expressed a completely neutral attitude about use of the port.

The army has one large hangar on Bryn Mawr av., near Wolf rd. It

Troop Shifts Swamp Army Mail Service

BY HAL FOUST
[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

PARIS, Aug. 2—Redeployment has staggered the army mail service with approximately 50,000 changes of address daily. Not only are soldiers being embarked to the United States and to the Pacific, but they also are being shuffled within the theater, complicating mail delivery and increasing instances of extraordinary delay.

Some GI's are complaining that they got letters from home quicker during combat than now. Others say their letters are not being received by their families back home. However, according to Col. S. G. Schwartz, theater postal officer, these are instances of unusual delay and do not represent a general slow down of the service.

Leisure Swells Mail

Some idea of the volume of mail which might have been delayed by soldiers changing their addresses may be seen in the fact that 1,200,000 soldiers got new APO numbers in June, and 1,500,000 switched APO's in July. There are duplications in these totals, some personnel in transfers from place to place having had two or three addresses in those 60 days.

The volume of mail has swollen, particularly outgoing, as soldiers with leisure try to answer the "when are you coming home?" queries. There were 87,500,000 outgoing letters from this theater in July, as compared with the 62,000,000 monthly average in January, February, and March.

Letters from the United States to the soldiers totalled 116,000,000 in July as compared with 110,000,000 during the combat months.

Catch Up Sometime

In check tests, the APO found that the army delivery of mail from the United States during the present redeployment is approximately the same as during combat last March for the bulk of the tonnage. V-letters take 7.4 days from the time of the United States postage cancelation to the APO receipt, and air mail takes 6.7 days whereas in March a V-letter took 6.9 and air mail 7.5 days.

If a soldier is at his APO he is getting his morale building missives. But if he has moved, as so many have, well, letters will catch up with him sometime or other.

JAPAN IS LOOKING FOR WAY OUT OF WAR, PATTERSON ASSERTS

Washington, D. C., Aug 2 (AP)—War Undersecretary Patterson said tonight that Japanese leaders are "looking for a way out to save their country and some of their loot," principally their "whip hand over Asia."

Warning of enemy peace feelers, Patterson said in an address prepared for the District of Columbia American Legion convention that Japan hopes the American people will become discouraged and agree to settle for less than unconditional surrender.

He said the main body of the Japanese army is still strong, intact, and free to move, and that Japan has thrown the bulk of her troops into the struggle.

ONE-WHEEL AUTO TO DO 520 M. P. H., CREATOR SAYS

LONDON, Aug. 2 (AP)—An assault on the world land speed record with a jet propelled one wheel automobile is planned by Lt. Robert Morgan, 26, a British naval air observer. He says he expects to travel at least 520 miles an hour.

Morgan says his car, the Bomb, will be powered with liquid gases and will be ready in nine months. Its pear shaped body will have a round nose tapered toward the rear, where vertical fins will serve as stabilizers after stabilizing wheels used at the start of the speed run are discarded.

The driver will sit inside a single 12 foot wheel which will be almost completely encased in a glass and steel body 15 feet high and 25 feet long. He will see thru a periscope. Steering will be done automatically by a gyroscope.

Cops and Robbers Game Gets a Realistic Touch

Las Vegas, Nev., Aug. 2 (AP)—It was a great addition to the cops and robbers game when Willie Lee Lyzar, 8, found a pair of handcuffs in the alley behind the First National bank. But when the game was over the handcuffs were still on, and Willie's frantic parents called in the police. In a realistic climax to his game, Willie got a ride to police headquarters in a police squad car, complete with siren and flashing red light, so the handcuffs lost by a detective could be removed.

'Shooting Star's' Sister Ship Crashes; Pilot Dies

Dayton, O., Aug. 2 (AP)—A P-80 jet-propelled "Shooting Star" plane, sister-ship of the craft which flew from Dayton to New York yesterday in 62 minutes, crashed near Brandenberg, Ky., this afternoon, killing the pilot, Maj. Ira Boyd Jones, 28, of Lancaster, S. C.

Dice Welshing Case Heard by Liquor Board

The Illinois state liquor control commission yesterday listened solemnly to an account of a dice game last March 3 in Marty's tavern, 7301 Madison st., Forest Park, in which Martin Mittelhauser, the proprietor, who lost, allegedly outfoxed three other men, who won.

The story was recited to the commission by one of the losing winners, Edward M. Platt of Forest Park. The dice, he said, did not favor Mittelhauser, who had lost $620 when the game broke up. Platt said the tavern owner wrote out checks for that amount to the winners.

Calls Debt Illegal

But when they tried to cash the checks, Platt complained, they learned that Mittelhauser had stopped payment on them.

"When I asked him how come," Platt said, "he told me that a gambling loss was an illegal debt."

Platt said the two other men thereupon wrote off their winnings as losses, but not Platt.

"I took the matter up with Mayor Fred C. Becker, who is also the liquor commissioner of Forest Park," he said. "I cited a law that said that gambling in a liquor establishment is illegal and that the liquor dealer's license must be revoked."

5 More Complainants Needed

Becker, however, didn't revoke the license or punish the tavern owner in any other manner, Platt said. So he carried his grievance to the state commission.

The commissioners, headed by Charles J. Fleck, told Platt that on advice of Joseph Charash, assistant attorney general, they would have to dismiss it. Charash, they said, cited a requirement of the law that five citizens must join with the complainant ir submitting the grievance.

"O. K.," said Platt. "I know five other guys in Forest Park."

WAR AGAINST JAPAN ALMOST IGNORED; TRUMAN SEES KING, SAILS FOR HOME

President Expected to Ask Public's Support of Pact

BY WILLIAM FULTON
[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

PLYMOUTH, England, Aug. 2—President Truman was far out on the Atlantic tonight, homeward bound, when the official report of the final agreement of the Big Three meeting in Berlin was announced to the world.

The President, who presided over the historic sessions in the former crown prince's palace in Potsdam, paid a courtesy call on King George VI. at this historic port this afternoon and then sailed for the United States aboard the cruiser Augusta.

It was reliably reported that the President will give the nation his views on the Big Three agreement and appeal for public support soon after his return to the White House.

Piped Aboard Cruiser

Mr. Truman, dressed in a snappy, light gray suit with a blue tie to set it off, and looking none the worse for his two and a half weeks of strenuous negotiations, was piped aboard the British battle cruiser Renown shortly after noon. With him were Secretary of State Byrnes and the President's chief of staff, Adm. Leahy.

As the President clambered up the gangway, the king tugged nervously at his tie, gave the guard a last minute checkup out of the corner of his eye and then drew up to attention and saluted as the Renown's band broke into the Star Spangled Banner. Mr. Truman, his hat held over his heart, stood on the companion ladder while the king faced him on the quarter deck.

With the final strains of the anthem both stepped forward and shook hands. "Welcome to my country," the king said.

Halifax with King

With the king was Ambassador Halifax, who it is reported, is likely to lose his post in Washington, D. C., as a result of the British Labor party election victory.

Amenities were exchanged and in reference to the playing of the American anthem by the ship's band the President told the king: "Your majesty, I am going to ask that man to give our American bands some lessons in how to play the Star Spangled Banner." The king smiled and seemed to appreciate the compliment.

Stays Aboard 2 Hours

Side by side, the king and President inspected the guard standing frozen at present arms. Mr. Truman turned and with a smile offered his hand to the captain of the guard, C. H. Barnett.

Flustered by the unusual gesture, Barnett quickly shifted his sword to his left hand and said, "Thank you, sir."

Mr. Truman remained aboard the Renown for two hours. During that time the Stars and Stripes

TAFT DECLARES POTSDAM SOWS SEEDS OF STRIFE

Washington, D. C., Aug. 2 (AP)—Democratic legislators generally applauded the Potsdam declaration tonight but Sen. Taft [R., O.] charged the agreement for a provisional westward shift of the Polish boundary "sows the seeds of future war."

Taft, chairman of the senate Republican steering committee, criticized President Truman for acting without consultation of the senate.

He told reporters it appears to him that by the terms of the settlements "Stalin gets everything he wishes to obtain and has not definitely surrendered any position he has taken in the past."

Suggests Secret Deal

Taft said the President "has assumed to speak for the United States in settling many of the most controversial boundaries and the terms to be imposed upon Germany without any consultations with the senate or the people of the United States."

"Apparently," he said, "all other questions are to be settled in secret by the council of foreign ministers so there is really no need for a peace conference. This method of determining the future of Europe and the world does not seem in accord with the constitutional principles on which this government was founded."

"Dangerous Experiment"

Taft said "the transfer to Poland of nearly one-fourth of Germany certainly sows the seeds of future war."

The senator also pointed out that there was no provision made for the supervision of the promised free elections in Poland.

Chairman Connally [D., Tex.] of the senate foreign relations committee told reporters that "as a whole" the Big Three understandings on the handling of European affairs met with his approval.

Sen. Thomas [D., Utah] said the announcement showed the United States is standing by its principles in Europe, a position that should make surrender more palatable to Japan.

Freedom of Press

Sen. Ellender [D., La.] said the agreements "hold much promise for the eventual democratization of the whole of Europe. To my way of thinking, the assurances as to press freedom are of tremendous importance."

Sen. Wheeler [D., Mont.] said he was pleased that allied newspaper men were promised freedom to report events in eastern Europe but was sorry that nothing was said about Yugoslavia.

"It is my understanding that in Yugoslavia they have no freedom of speech, no freedom of press, and that the goods we are sending are used by Marshal Tito for his own cohorts and not given to Serbs," Wheeler said. "We ought to stop sending food and materials or make them live up to their agreement for supervision by UNRRA so that the Serbian people will receive equitable treatment."

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING
[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 2—The shifting of European populations and boundaries, the creation of the mechanism for the writing of the peace treaties, and the extraction of reparations from Germany and the reduction of that country to an economy of agriculture and nonmilitary industry were outstanding decisions of the Big Three at the Potsdam conference, which ended yesterday.

A multitude of agreements by President Truman, Russian Dictator Stalin, and Prime Minister Attlee on the reconstruction of Europe and the treatment of Germany were set forth in a 6,000 word announcement issued simultaneously in Washington, London, and Moscow this afternoon. The document almost ignored the war with Japan, however.

Main Decisions

Principal decisions and agreements were:

1. A five man council was established to prepare for an eventual peace conference with Germany, and to negotiate peace treaties with Italy and axis satellites. The council will be composed of the foreign ministers of United States, Great Britain, Russia, France, and China.

2. Germany is shorn of East Prussia, which is divided between Russia and Poland, and of its eastern provinces, which go to Poland. The western frontier of Poland is fixed along the Oder-Neisse river lines.

3. Germany is to be disarmed and demilitarized, with the production of arms, ships, and aircraft prohibited, and war potential industry controled.

Trials for Criminals

4. War criminals are to be tried at once, with the first list of defendants to be issued before Sept. 1.

5. German populations will be transferred from Poland, Czechoslovakia, and Hungary.

6. Reparations in kind for "loss and suffering" are to be exacted of Germany by Russia in eastern Germany, and by the United States, Great Britain, and France in western Germany.

7. The German navy and merchant marine are to be disposed of in accordance with an unannounced plan to be de-

Protocol Opens Any Door

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune]

BERLIN, Aug. 2—As correspondents were allowed into the hitherto closed areas where the Big Three conference was held it was learned that one of the most ticklish questions of protocol the staffs of each power had to work out was how, along what passage, and thru which door Premier Stalin, President Truman, and Prime Minister Attlee were to enter the conference room.

Truman and Stalin were easy. Each entered the huge oak paneled room by a door connecting with his allotted rooms in the building. It was the position of the British leader's suite on the second floor which complicated matters. For if the British prime minister were to enter the conference room via the most obvious route from his suite, he would have to take the large stairway which descends directly into the conference hall, thus making a far more impressive entrance than the other two chiefs of state.

This could not be allowed, so the British leader was forced to walk out of the building thru the courtyard and into the building again via the main door to wait until all were ready to enter. Then, after a complicated system of signals had been exchanged to the effect that each head of state was in his appointed room, and ready for the meeting, the premier, the President, and the prime minister would enter the conference room and sit down at the big round table. Russian state and political police and allied security officers guarding the room would silently vanish, and the talks would begin.

vised by experts of the Big Three.

Franco on Blacklist

8. Neutrals are to be admitted to the new allied nations' organization but the Franco government of Spain was excluded because of its close axis associations.

9. Poland is to hold free elections as soon as possible, with allied newsmen permitted to report the event.

Except for a passing reference, in which Stalin, however, joined, the statement was silent on the question of the prosecution of the war against Japan. Whether Russia will or will not join its allies to compass the defeat of the only remaining fascist aggressor power was left to speculation. If any agreement was reached, it was a secret understanding.

In connection, however, with the reconstitution of Italy the statement said:

"Italy was the first of axis powers to break with Germany, to whose defeat she has made a material contribution, and has now joined with the allies in the struggle against Japan."

Stalin evidently set the seal of his approval upon this commendation of the war against Japan, recalling his reference several months ago to Japan as an aggressor nation.

Other Military Talks

The statement also wound up with the cryptic statement that "during the conference there were meetings between the chiefs of staff of the three governments on military matters of common interest."

Inasmuch as the war in Europe is ended the only military matters of any importance remaining pertain to the war against Japan.

Under the plans adopted by the Big Three, Germany will be ruled indefinitely by the allies and not for years will be restored as an independent nation. Elaborate provision was made at Potsdam for the extirpation of German militarism and nazism, root and branch," to assure that Germany never again will threaten her neighbors or the peace of the world."

Everything Nazi to Go

The German people, said the Big Three, are not to be destroyed or enslaved but to be prepared for reconstruction of their life "on a democratic and peaceful basis." If they cooperate they will be restored to the family of nations.

The German general staff and every organization of a military or quasi-military nature are to be abolished. All implements of war are to be surrendered to the allies or destroyed and production of arms, ships, and aircraft prohibited. The Nazi party and all nazi institutions are to be abolished and nazi propaganda suppressed. Racial discrimination is tabooed.

The provisions for trials of war criminals specified that Germans responsible for atrocities or war crimes are to be arrested and tried while nazi leaders "dangerous to the occupation" are to be interned. Nazis are to be removed from government offices and direction of business. German education is to be controled to eliminate nazi and militarist doctrines. Subject to military necessity free speech, press, and religion and trade unions will be permitted.

Cartels Are Banned

Cartels, syndicates, and trusts are to be eliminated from the German economy. Production of metals, chemicals, machinery and other articles essential to war is to be rigidly controled and restricted to the needs of an economy devoted chiefly to "the development of agriculture and peaceful domestic industries." Production of goods and maintenance of services are to be geared to a living standard comparable with that of Europe, exclusive of Britain and Russia.

On the subject of reparations the Big Three, besides providing for repayment in kind, agreed that Russia is to receive 25 per cent of the industrial equipment in the western [United States, British, and French] zones unnecessary for German peace economy, 15 per cent to be exchanged for food, coal, and other commodities from the eastern zone. Russia renounces claims to gold captured by allied troops and to shares of enterprises in the western zones while Britain and America renounce claims to shares in eastern Europe.

Among the plans for Poland, the Potsdam conferees said Polish soldiers and other Poles abroad are to be encouraged to return home with the expectation of being accorded the same personal and property rights as all Polish citizens.

Axis satellites with whom treaties are to be made include Italy, Bulgaria, Finland, Hungary, and Rumania. Italy was singled out for praise in addition to its action in declaring war on Japan. Italy, said the Big Three, has extirpated fascism and made good progress toward reestablishment of democratic government. Such peace treaties will make it possible for the Big Three to support the admission of all these countries to the united nations.

The disposition of the Italian colonies in Africa, the possession of which possibly under a trusteeship of the allied nations is desired by Great Britain, is to be made in the peace treaty with Italy and the boundaries of Italy will be considered by the foreign ministers' council next month.

CAMBRIDGE, England, Aug. 2 [Reuters]—Almost 300,000 Americans received the freedom of Cambridge today when the honor was conferred at a ceremony on the officers and men of the United States 8th air force. The airmen were stationed in this area while attacking Germany.

CONCERT BRINGS GERMANS AND GIs TOGETHER

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

WIESBADEN, Germany, Aug. 2—Craving for good music brought together American officers, GIs, German civilians, and former foreign slave laborers at the first post-war symphony concert in this musical town.

Instead of assembling in the opera house or the big hall, the Kursaal, both built with the financial aid of Kaiser Wilhelm as special protector of Wiesbaden, the music lovers went past the bombed buildings into a dingy hall in the back court of the Catholic club to listen to Hans Mueller-Kray conduct the local symphony and the Kurhaus orchestra play Mendelssohn and Tschaikowsky whose works were barred by the Nazis in recent years.

Men, women, and youths turned out in their best finery—some of the women even wearing evening coats which looked weird against the background of bombed houses they passed on the way to the crowded makeshift hall. The main auditorium of the Wiesbaden opera house was not destroyed tho the entrance was smashed.

DENY GEN. DE GAULLE RESIGNS AS CHIEF OF FRENCH REGIME

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

PARIS, Aug. 2—French ministry of information officials issued flat denials today that Gen. de Gaulle has resigned as chief of the French provisional government, the resignation to be effective after the Petain trial. "De Gaulle has no intention of resigning," a spokesman said.

[A highly placed source told the Associated Press yesterday that De Gaulle would visit Washington within three weeks. This, it was said, represents a delay in previous plans due to the general's desire to "continue his efforts to meet the political situation."]

MICHIGAN CIO LEADER NAMED TO LABOR POST

Washington, D. C., Aug. 2 (AP)—Labor Secretary Schwellenbach today appointed John W. Gibson, head of the Michigan CIO council, and Albert Abrahamson of Brunswick, Me., war refuge board assistant, as his special assistants.

Schwellenbach said Gibson will be associated with Carl Moran and Daniel W. Tracy, assistant secretaries, in the job of reorganizing the department of labor. Schwellenbach has undertaken to unify and consolidate labor functions of many agencies within his department.

Gibson had been slated by President Roosevelt to become an assistant secretary of labor at the time of Mr. Roosevelt's death in April. He had been recommended for this post by the CIO.

Gibson resigned the presidency of the Michigan State Council of the CIO to accept his new assignment. Abrahamson also resigned from the war refugee board.

Set Night Club Manager's Murder Trial for Aug. 23

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 2 (AP)—Rubin Shetsky, night club manager accused of shooting Albert Schneider, a labor leader, today was ordered to trial Aug. 23 on a charge of second degree murder. The county grand jury indicted him yesterday.

POLES AND REDS GET SLICES OF EAST GERMANY

Warsaw Handed Border 50 Miles from Berlin

LONDON, Aug. 2 (AP)—The Big Three carved vast territories out of eastern Germany and awarded them to Poland in fixing the Poles' western frontier along the Oder-Neisse river lines—at some points less than 50 miles from the center of Berlin.

While leaving the final delimitation of this frontier to the peace conference, the three leaders handed over to Warsaw the immediate administration of nearly all of agricultural Pomerania and industrial Silesia, about two-thirds of East Prussia, and a big portion of Brandenburg.

Stettin Stays German

But the Poles were denied the big German Baltic port and shipbuilding center of Stettin, which they had demanded. Stettin lies on the west bank of the Oder. It remains German.

The Poles also received less than they had expected of East Prussia, the northern third of which went to Russia.

"On the whole, however, I think our government is satisfied," said an authoritative source closely connected with the Warsaw government.

"There was some expectation regarding Stettin, so we didn't get all we asked," he added.

Polish sources here said they still hoped for some concessions regarding Stettin—possibly a declaration that Stettin is a free city with commercial passage allowed to Poles and Czechoslovakians.

Share Red Reparations

The Big Three decided that Poland's claims to reparations from Germany should not be paid separately, but instead from the share collected by Russia.

The new frontier as announced in the Big Three bulletin gave to Poland:

"The former German territories east of the line running from the Baltic sea immediately west of Swinemuende, and thence along the Oder river to the confluence of the western Neisse river and along the western Neisse river to the Czechoslovak frontier, including that portion of East Prussia not placed under the administration of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics and including the area of the former Free City of Danzig."

Poles Get Baltic Base

Thus on the Baltic coast in the north, the Poles gained the port and former German naval base of Swinemuende, which lies west of Stettin and largely controls Stettin's outlet to the Baltic.

In the partition of East Prussia—also subject to final determination at the peace conference—the Poles received the southern two-thirds of the province, including the port of Elbing, on the Bay of Danzig east of Danzig City.

Russia's share of this province—which before the war was separated from Germany proper by the Polish corridor—will be that section north of a line running from Braunsberg, on the eastern shore of the Bay of Danzig, to Goldap, near the Lithuanian border. This territory, including the capital city of Koenigsberg, apparently would be incorporated into Lithuania.

Polish sources here said this represented less than the Warsaw government had asked. The Poles wanted the port of Pillau and the territory "extending to just west of Koenigsberg."

Teschen, on the Polish-Czechoslovak frontier, was not mentioned by the Big Three. The Teschen area is claimed by both Poland and Czechoslovakia.

Polish sources here and a British foreign office commentator said the Teschen dispute was left for the rival claimants to decide.

"It would seem that this issue could be settled amicably by two allies," the British commentator said.

Polish claims were presented at Potsdam by members of the Warsaw unity government. A British source said the delegation spent at least a week in Potsdam and had "frequent contacts" with the Big Three and with British representatives separately.

Apparently there was much negotiation before the Big Three agreed to the Polish demands. A British foreign office spokesman said frankly that Britain had been opposed to the extension of the Poles' western frontiers to the Oder and added that British delegates "put up a strong case." Russia, however, won the point, at least temporarily.

BIG THREE TAKE UP JAP WAR? BRITON LAUGHS AND LAUGHS

LONDON, Aug. 2 (AP)—A British foreign office spokesman who had been present at Potsdam was asked specifically three times at a press conference today if the Big Three had discussed the Pacific war. Each time he simply laughed.

A commentator at the British war office similarly was bombarded with questions, direct and indirect, concerning the possibility of soviet entry into the Pacific war and shrugged them off or smiled them away.

Pressed for an answer on whether the Pacific war was even discussed, and asked to explain the presence at Potsdam of Admiral Louis Mountbatten, allied commander-in-chief in southeast Asia, the commentator smiled and said:

"O, Lord Louis was just en route to London on home leave."

CLINNIN WARNS U. S. WILL BOLT PEACE PARLEYS

American internationalists are ignoring the lessons of history and the limits of human nature, Gen. John V. Clinnin told the Austin Kiwanis club yesterday. He predicted the United States will withdraw from the World War II. peace treaty conference in disgust.

"Americans who propose to remake the world overnight as a result of this war will in their haste disgust the American people with the rest of the world and the rest of the world with us," he warned.

"The needs and objectives of Russia and China will not permit of a good neighbor policy contrary to common sense and as unworkable as the Atlantic and San Francisco Charters. We cannot solve overnight and from afar the complicated, centuries old problems of the old world and the far east."

ATTLEE TAKES OATH AS BRITISH PRIME MINISTER

Meets Party Chiefs to Complete Cabinet

BY JAMES SLOAN

(Chicago Tribune Press Service)

LONDON, Aug. 2—Prime Minister Attlee tonight went to bed for the first time in the British premier's official residence, No. 10 Downing st., after a busy day in which he flew back from Potsdam, headed the line of 539 members of parliament who took the oath of office in the house of commons, and conferred with his colleagues on the remaining members of the cabinet whom he is expected to announce tomorrow.

The new Laborite chieftain of Britain's official destinies arrived from Potsdam at 10:15 a. m. and drove to Downing st., where he was cheered by a crowd of several hundred.

Meet Party Chieftains

Soon such powerful Laborites as Herbert Morrison, Ernest Bevin, Arthur Greenwood, Albert V. Alexander, Stafford Cripps, and Hugh Dalton joined him, leading to the speculation that they are taking a big part in shaping the balance of the cabinet.

Thruout the morning many other important Laborites called on Attlee. Then he went to the house of commons to take the oath of office and sign the register, which put the final official stamp on his new job. He was cheered as he stepped up to sign the parliamentary register. His predecessor, Winston Churchill, also was hailed when he headed the opposition benchers who signed after the Labor government personnel.

Some Get Out of Line

During the signing ceremony some of the new Labor members got into a bit of hot water with their colleagues by shouldering their way into the line out of turn. But all the 539 got their names into the book in less than four hours, for a new commons record for one day. Tomorrow most of the remaining 101 members will sign. The parliament will recess until the royal opening on Aug. 15.

This evening the big three of the Labor party, Attlee, Morrison, and Bevin, met at No. 10, while a large furniture van was being loaded outside with the last of Churchill's effects.

TRUMAN HEADS FOR HOME AFTER VISIT WITH KING

The meeting was the first in Britain between an American President and a British king since President Wilson's visit after World War I.

Ten minutes after the President had waved his hat in farewell and left for his cruiser, the king, observing protocol with punctuality, leaped into the royal barge and chugged over to return the visit with the President.

Inspects Marine Guard

Mr. Truman greeted the king with another handshake as the white ensign was broken out on the mainmast next to the President's dark blue flag. The Augusta's band played "God Save the King" and his majesty inspected the guard of honor of American marines.

"I'm pleased to see you again," was the President's greeting. The schedule called for only a 10 minute visit aboard the Augusta but the king remained talking with Truman for half an hour.

When the Augusta got underway at 4 o'clock the king climbed to the Renown's bridge while the cruiser's complement lined the decks. The Augusta, her white ensign fluttering in the freshening breeze, steamed past slowly with the band again playing "God Save the King." The Renown's band played the "Star Spangled Banner," and the king gave his final salute. Truman's spare, gray clad figure could be made out on the Augusta's deck. The Augusta and the escorting cruiser Philadelphia were accompanied a short distance to sea past the breakwater and the Eddystone lighthouse.

Non-Stop from Potsdam

Truman came here non-stop from Potsdam aboard his flying White House, the big four engined Skymaster plane. Where the Presidential party would land was in some doubt because a thick ground fog hung doggedly over England's southern coast during the morning.

The President's plane, however, unlike the smaller C-47 carrying newspaper correspondents which had to land first near London, "sweated it out aloft," cruising over the countryside until the mist dissipated and then landed at the Harrow airport in the rolling hills and moors 11 miles from the Plymouth dock.

The President, who had 40 minutes to kill while an official welcoming committee that had been waiting for him at an airport some 40 miles away hurried over to Harrow, shook hands with three WAAFS and others on duty at the airport and posed for pictures with the girls.

On the motor ride from the airport the President was recognized by small groups of people at cross roads and along city streets. They waved and cheered. One man shouted "Good Ol' Harry" and another held up a slate on which he had written, "Good luck, Mr. President."

Many of the more heavily damaged parts of Plymouth were avoided, but the President saw much evidence of war's destruction.

RUSSIA NOW NO. 1 EUROPE POWER, WRITER ASSERTS

Position Improved by Sea Gain

BY LOUIS P. LOCHNER

BERLIN, Aug. 3 [Friday]—(AP)—President Truman, Premier Stalin, and Prime Minister Attlee, after conferences lasting over a period of 17 days, submitted to the world a report on their agreements wherefrom it appears:

1. The conditions imposed on defeated Germany make the Versailles treaty look like child's play.

2. The Big Three intend firmly to hold the world's fate in their hands as final arbiters.

3. Soviet Russia emerges as the dominating power in Europe.

4. Soviet Russia, in control of Koenigsberg and former German Baltic regions east of that city, has enormously improved her position as a maritime power.

Jap War "Indorsed"

5. The western allies' war in the Pacific received the indorsement of Premier Stalin, in that the Russian leader agreed that Italy should be rewarded by an early peace treaty for joining the war against Japan.

6. Italy, Romania, Bulgaria, Hungary, and Finland will be back on a peace basis long before Germany can hope for such status.

The end of World War I. left intact German industry and shipping—two of her greatest economic assets. The Versailles treaty also permitted her to develop civil aviation on a big scale.

The Potsdam conference agreement breaks up German cartels and trusts, puts an end to all German industry potentially serviceable to or convertible into war production, eliminates such world competitors in shipping as the Hamburg lines, and prohibits all German aviation of any kind.

End Export Dream

Potsdam flatly tells the Germans to concentrate on agriculture and peaceful domestic industries, thus shattering any hopes they may have that Germany again will become a great exporting nation with interests thruout the world.

Stalin can return to Moscow well satisfied with the results. Germany cannot possibly be a threat again to Russia's security. Russia virtually controls Poland, both thru having her dependent upon the big Russian brother for reparations and thru Poland's friendly government.

By the wording of the Potsdam agreement the United States and Britain virtually acknowledged disinterestedness in Bulgaria, Finland, Hungary, and Romania except that their press representatives are assured full freedom of movement to report in these countries.

Juliana in Netherlands After Five Years' Exile

LONDON, Aug. 2 [Reuters]—After five years of exile, Princess Juliana of the Netherlands today brought her three daughters, Princesses Beatrix, Irene, and Margriet, to Holland by air, the Dutch radio said tonight. Three planes brought the party from England.

BIG 3 DECIDES TO LET PRESS INTO POLAND

Washington, D. C., Aug. 2 (AP)—The Big Three took "note" that the Polish provisional government has agreed to full reporting by allied newsmen, and said they had "no doubt" that similar freedom will exist in former axis satellite countries.

At two points in the Potsdam report special reference was made to the freedom of reporters to tell the world what is going on in Poland, Bulgaria, Romania, Hungary and Finland.

No Mention of Censorship

The matter of getting out their dispatches without undue censorship went without specific mention. It had been expected, however, that President Truman would tackle first the problem of getting observers on the spot. There has been considerable difficulty in getting Russian permission for American newsmen to enter these countries.

With reference to Polish news the report said: "The three powers note that the Polish provisional government . . . has agreed . . . that representatives of the allied press shall enjoy full freedom to report to the world upon developments in Poland before and during the elections."

Free German Press

In the section on former axis satellite countries, the Big Three said "the three governments have no doubt that in view of the changed conditions resulting from the termination of the war in Europe, representatives of the allied press will enjoy full freedom to report to the world."

Freedom of the press was promised to Germany, subject to military security.

It was known that the right to get full news reports on Poland and the former axis hangers-on was an important point on President Truman's program when he left for Potsdam.

TEXT OF BIG 3's ANNOUNCEMENT ON DECISIONS OF POTSDAM CONFERENCE

DRAFT PROGRAM ON REPARATIONS FROM GERMANY

Tentative Borders for Poland Fixed

Washington, D. C., Aug. 2 (AP)—Following is the text of the Potsdam declaration:

I

"Report on the tri-partite conference of Berlin.

"On July 17, 1945, the President of the United States of America, Harry S. Truman; the chairman of the council of people's commissars of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, Generalissimo J. V. Stalin, and the prime minister of Great Britain, Winston S. Churchill, together with Clement R. Attlee, met in the tri-partite conference of Berlin. They were accompanied by the foreign secretaries o the three governments, Mr. James F. Byrnes, Mr. V. M. Molotov, and Mr. Anthony Eden, the chief of staff, and other advisers.

"There were nine meetings between July 17 and July 25. The conference was then interrupted for two days while the results of the British general election were being declared.

Attlee Succeeds Churchill

"On July 28 Mr. Attlee returned to the conference as prime minister, accompanied by the new secretary of state for foreign affairs, Mr. Ernest Bevin. Four days of further discussion then took place. During the course of the conference there were regular meetings of the heads of the three governments accompanied by the foreign secretaries, and also of the foreign secretaries alone. Committees appointed by the foreign secretaries for preliminary consideration of questions before the conference also met daily.

"The meetings of the conference were held at the Cecilienhof near Potsdam. The conference ended on Aug. 2, 1945.

"Important decisions and agreements were reached. Views were exchanged on a number of other questions and consideration of these matters will be continued by the council of foreign ministers established by the conference.

Ties Strengthened

"President Truman, Generalissimo Stalin and Prime Minister Attlee leave this conference, which has strengthened the ties between the three governments and extended the scope of their collaboration and understanding, with renewed confidence that their governments and peoples, together with the other united nations, will ensure the creation of a just and enduring peace.

II.

ESTABLISHMENT OF A COUNCIL OF FOREIGN MINISTERS

"The conference reached an agreement for the establishment of a council of foreign ministers representing the five principal powers to continue the necessary preparatory work for the peace settlements and to take up other matters which from time to time may be referred to the council by agreement of the governments participating in the council.

MEETS IN LONDON
Foreign Ministers' Council to Convene Soon

"The text of the agreement for the establishment of the council of foreign ministers is as follows:

"1. There shall be established a council composed of the foreign ministers of the United Kingdom, the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, China, France, and the United States.

"2. [I.] The council shall normally meet in London, which shall be the permanent seat of the joint secretariat which the council will form. Each of the foreign ministers will be accompanied by a high ranking deputy, duly authorized to carry on the work of the council in the absence of his foreign minister, and by a small staff of technical advisers.

"[II.] The first meeting of the council shall be held in London not later than Sept. 1, 1945. Meetings may be held by common agreement in other capitals as may be agreed from time to time.

Treaties to Be Drafted

"3. [I.] As its immediate important task, the council shall be authorized to draw up, with a view to their submission to the united nations, treaties of peace with Italy, Rumania, Bulgaria, Hungary, and Finland, and to propose settlements of territorial questions outstanding on the termination of the war in Europe. The council shall be utilized for the preparation of a peace settlement for Germany to be accepted by the government of Germany when a government adequate for the purpose is established.

"[II] For the discharge of each of these tasks the council will be composed of the members representing those states which were signatory to the terms of surrender imposed upon the enemy state concerned. For the purpose of the peace settlement for Italy, France shall be regarded as a signatory to the terms of surrender for Italy. Other members will be invited to participate when matters directly concerning them are under discussion.

Others to Be Invited

"[III.] Other matters may from time to time be referred to the council by agreement between the member governments.

"4. [I.] Whenever the council is considering a question of direct interest to a state not represented thereon, such state should be invited to send representatives to participate in the discussion and study of that question.

"[II] The council may adapt its procedure to the particular problem under consideration. In some cases it may hold its own preliminary discussions prior to the participation of other interested states. In other cases, the council may convoke a formal conference of the state chiefly interested in seeking a solution of the particular problem.

CHINA AND FRANCE
Big 3 Joins in Extending Other Invitations

"In accordance with the decision of the conference the three governments have each addressed an identical invitation to the governments of China and France to adopt this text and to join in establishing the council.

"The establishment of the council of foreign ministers for the specific purposes named in the text will be without prejudice to the agreement of the Crimea conference that there should be periodic consultation among the foreign secretaries of the United States, the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, and the United Kingdom.

Advisory Group Dissolved

"The conference also considered the position of the European advisory commission in the light of the agreement to establish the council of foreign ministers. It was noted with satisfaction that the commission had ably discharged its principal tasks by the recommendations that it had furnished for the terms of Germany's unconditional surrender, for the zones of occupation in Germany and Austria, and for the interallied control machinery in those countries. It was felt that further work of a detailed character for the coördination of allied policy for the control of Germany and Austria would in future fall within the competence of the allied control council at Berlin and the allied commission at Vienna. Accordingly, it was agreed to recommend that the European advisory commission be dissolved.

III.

GERMANY

"The allied armies are in occupation of the whole of Germany and the German people have begun to atone for the terrible crimes committed under the leadership of those whom in the hour of their success, they openly approved and blindly obeyed.

Agree on Policy

"Agreement has been reached at this conference on the political and economic principles of a coördinated allied policy toward defeated Germany during the period of allied control.

"The purpose of this agreement is to carry out the Crimea declaration on Germany. German militarism and Nazism will be extirpated and the allies will take in agreement together, now and in the future, the other measures necessary to assure that Germany never again will threaten her neighbors or the peace of the world.

NO ENSLAVEMENT
Opportunity to Be Given to Reconstruct Reich

"It is not the intention of the allies to destroy or enslave the German people. It is the intention of the allies that the German people be given the opportunity to prepare for the eventual reconstruction of their lives on a democratic and peaceful basis. If their own efforts are steadily directed to this end, it will be possible for them in due course to take their place among the free and peaceful peoples of the world.

Text of Agreement

"The text of the agreement is as follows:

"The political and economic principles to govern the treatment of Germany in the initial control period.

"A. Political principles.

"1. In accordance with the agreement on control machinery in Germany, supreme authority in Germany is exercised on instructions from their respective governments by the commanders-in-chief of the armed forces of the United States of America, the United Kingdom, the Union of Soviet Socialist Rpublics, and the French republic, each in his own zone of occupation, and also jointly, in matters affecting Germany as a whole, in their capacity as members of the control council.

"2. So far as is practicable, there shall be uniformity of treatment of the German population thruout Germany.

Purposes of Occupation

"3. The purposes of the occupation of Germany by which the control council shall be guided are:

"[I] The complete disarmament and demilitarization of Germany and the elimination of control of all German industry that could be used for military production. To these ends:

"[A] All German land, naval and air forces, the S. S., S. A., S. D., and Gestapo, with all their organizations, staffs and institutions, including the general staff, the officers' corps, reserve corps, military schools, war veterans' organizations and all other military and quasi-military organizations, together with all clubs and associations which serve to keep alive the military tradition in Germany, shall be completely and finally abolished in such manner as permanently to prevent the revival or reorganization of German militarism and nazism.

"[B] All arms, ammunition, and implements of war and all specialized facilities for their production shall be held at the disposal of the allies or destroyed. The maintenance and production of all aircraft and all arms, ammunition, and implements of war shall be prevented.

NAZIISM DOOMED
Racial Laws to Go and Criminals Punished

"[II.] To convince the German people that they have suffered a total military defeat and that they cannot escape responsibility for what they have brought upon themselves, since their own ruthless warfare and the fanatical nazi resistance have destroyed German economy and made chaos and suffering inevitable.

"[III.] To destroy the National Socialist party and its affiliated and supervised organizations, to dissolve all nazi institutions to insure that they are not revived in any form, and to prevent all nazi and militarist activity or propaganda.

"[IV.] To prepare for the eventual reconstruction of German political life on a democratic basis and for eventual peaceful coöperation in international life by Germany.

No Discrimination

"4. All nazi laws which provided the basis of the Hitler regime and established discrimination on grounds of race, creed, or political opinion shall be abolished. No such discriminations, whether legal, administrative, or otherwise, shall be tolerated.

"5. War criminals and those who have participated in planning or carrying out nazi enterprises involving or resulting in atrocities or war crimes shall be arrested and brought to judgment. Nazi leaders, influential nazi supporters, and high officials of nazi organizations and institutions and any other persons dangerous to the occupation or its objectives shall be arrested and interned.

"6. All members of the Nazi party who have been more than nominal participants in its activities and all other persons hostile to allied purposes shall be removed from public and semi-public office, and from positions of responsibility in important private undertakings. Such persons shall be replaced by persons who, by their political and moral qualities, are deemed capable of assisting in developing genuine democratic institutions in Germany.

Control of Education

"7. German education shall be so controlled as completely to eliminate nazi and militarist doctrines and to make possible the successful development of democratic ideas.

"8. The judicial system will be reorganized in accordance with the principles of democracy, of justice under law, and of equal rights for all citizens without distinction of race, nationality, or religion.

"9. The administration of affairs in Germany should be directed towards the decentralization of the political structure and the development of local responsibility. To this end:

"[I.] Local self government shall be restored thruout Germany on democratic principles and in particular thru elective councils as rapidly as is consistent with military security and the purposes of military occupation.

PARTIES ALLOWED
Central Government Banned for Time Being

"[II] All democratic political parties with rights of assembly and of public discussions shall be allowed and encouraged thruout Germany;

"[III] Representatives and elective principles shall be introduced into regional, provincial and state [land] administration as rapidly as may be justified by the successful application of these principles in local self government;

"[IV] For the time being no central German government shall be established. Notwithstanding this, however, certain essential central German administrative departments, headed by state secretaries, shall be established, particularly in the fields of finance, transport, communications, foreign trade and industry. Such departments will act under the direction of the control council.

Freedoms Pledged

"10. Subject to the necessity for maintaining military security, freedom of speech, press and religion shall be permitted, and religious institutions shall be respected. Subject likewise to the maintenance of military security, the formation of free trade unions shall be permitted.

"[b] Economic principles:

"11. In order to eliminate Germany's war potential, the production of arms, ammunition and implements of war as well as all types of aircraft and sea-going ships shall be prohibited and prevented. Productions of metals, chemicals, machinery and other items that are directly necessary to a war economy shall be rigidly controled and restricted to Germany's approved post-war peace time needs to meet the objectives stated in Paragraph 15. Productive capacity not needed for permitted production shall be removed in accordance with the reparations plan recommended by the allied commission on reparations and approved by the governments concerned or if not removed shall be destroyed.

Decentralized Economy

"12. At the earliest practicable date, the German economy shall be decentralized for the purpose of eliminating the present excessive concentration of economic power as exemplified in particular by cartels, syndicates, trusts and other monopolistic arrangements.

"13. In organizing the German economy, primary emphasis shall be given to the development of agriculture and peaceful domestic industries.

"14. During the period of occupation Germany shall be treated as a single economic unit. To this end common policies shall be established in regard to:

"[A] Mining and industrial production and allocations;

"[B] Agriculture, forestry, and fishing;

"[C] Wages, prices, and rationing;

"[D] Import and export program for Germany as a whole;

"[E] Currency and banking, central taxation and customs;

"[F] Preparation and removal of industrial war potential;

"[G] Transportation and communications.

"In applying these policies account shall be taken, where appropriate, of varying local conditions.

Only Necessary Controls

"15. Allied controls shall be imposed upon the German economy but only to the extent necessary:

"[A] To carry out programs of industrial disarmament and demilitarization, of reparations, and of approved exports and imports.

"[B] To assure the production and maintenance of goods and services required to meet the needs of the occupying forces and displaced persons in Germany and essential to maintain in Germany average living standards not exceeding the average of the standards of living of European countries. [European countries means all European countries excluding the United Kingdom and the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics.]

"[C] To ensure in the manner determined by the control council the equitable distribution of essential commodities between the several zones so as to produce a balanced economy thruout Germany and reduce the need for imports.

INDUSTRY CONTROL
Equitable Distribution of Commodities Planned

"[D] To control German industry and all economic and financial international transactions, including exports and imports, with the aim of preventing Germany from developing a war potential and of achieving the other objectives named herein.

"[E] To control all German public or private scientific bodies, research and experimental institutions, laboratories, et cetera, connected with economic activities.

Germans to Administer

"16. In the imposition and maintenance of economic controls established by the control council, German administrative machinery shall be created and the German authorities shall be required to the fullest extent practicable to proclaim and assume administration of such controls. Thus it should be brought home to the German people that the responsibility for the administration of such controls and any breakdown in these controls will rest with themselves. Any German controls which may run counter to the objectives of occupation will be prohibited.

"17. Measures shall be promptly taken:

"[a] To effect essential repair of transport;

"[b] To enlarge coal production;

"[c] To maximize agriculture output; and

"[d] To effect emergency repair of housing and essential utilities.

Reasonable Repayments

"18. Appropriate steps shall be taken by the control council to exercise control and the power of disposition over German owned external assets not already under the control of united nations which have taken part in the war against Germany.

"19. Payment of reparations should leave enough resources to enable the German people to subsist without external assistance. In working out the economic balance of Germany the necessary means must be provided to pay for imports approved by the control council in Germany. The proceeds of exports from current production and stocks shall be available in the first place for payment for such imports.

"The above clause will not apply to the equipment and products referred to in paragraphs 4 [a] and 4 [b] of the reparations agreement.

REPARATIONS PLANS
Allies to Be Compensated from Their Zones

IV

"In accordance with the Crimea decision that Germany be compelled to compensate to the greatest possible extent for the loss and suffering that she has caused to the united nations and for which the German people cannot escape responsibility, the following agreement on reparations was reached:

"1. Reparation claims of the U. S. S. R. shall be met by removals from the zone of Germany occupied by the U. S. S. R. and from appropriate German external assets.

"2. The U. S. S. R. undertakes to settle the reparation claims of Poland from its own share of reparations.

"3. The reparation claims of the United States, the United Kingdom, and other countries entitled to reparations shall be met from the western zones and from appropriate German external assets.

More for Russia

"4. In addition to the reparations to be taken by the U. S. S. R. from its own zone of occupation, the U. S. S. R. shall receive additionally from the western zones:

"[a] 15 per cent of such usable and complete industrial capital equipment, in the first place from the metalurgical, chemical, and machine manufacturing industries, as is unnecessary for the German peace economy and should be removed from the western zones of Germany, in exchange for an equivalent value of food, coal, potash, zinc, timber, clay products, petroleum products, and such other commodities as may be agreed upon.

"[b] 10 per cent of such industrial capital equipment as is unnecessary for the German peace economy and should be removed from the western zones, to be transferred to the soviet government on reparations account without payment or exchange of any kind in return.

Removal Provisions

"Removals of equipment as provided in [A] and [B] above shall be made simultaneously.

"5. The amount of equipment to be removed from the western zones on account of reparations must be determined within six months from now at the latest.

"6. Removals of industrial capital equipment begins as soon as possible and shall be completed within two years from the determination specified in paragraph 5. The delivery of products covered by 4 [A] above shall begin as soon as possible and shall be made by the U. S. S. R. in agreed instalments within five years of the date hereof. The determination of the amount and character of the industrial capital equipment unnecessary for the German peace economy and therefore available for reparations shall be made by the control council under policies fixed by the allied commission on reparations, with the participation of France, subject to the final approval of the zone commanders in the zone from which the equipment is to be removed.

SOVIETS GET NO GOLD
U. S. and Britain Will Keep Captured Hoards

"7. Prior to the fixing of the total amount of equipment subject to removal, advance deliveries shall be made in respect of such equipment as will be determined to be eligible for delivery in accordance with the procedure set forth in the last sentence of paragraph 6.

"8. The soviet government renounces all claims in respect of reparations to shares of German enterprises which are located in the western zones of occupation in Germany as well as to German foreign assets in all countries except those specified in paragraph 9 below.

"9. The governments of the United Kingdom and the United States of America renounce their claims in respect of reparations to shares of German enterprises which are located in the eastern zone of occupation in Germany, as well as to German foreign assets in Bulgaria, Finland, Hungary, Rumania, and eastern Austria.

"10. The soviet government makes no claims to gold captured by the allied troops in Germany.

V.

DISPOSAL OF THE GERMAN NAVY AND MERCHANT MARINE

"The conference agreed in principle upon arrangements for the use and disposal of the surrendered German fleet and merchant ships. It was decided that the three governments would appoint experts to work out together detailed plans to give effect to the agreed principles. A further joint statement will be published simultaneously by the three governments in due course.

VI.

CITY OF KOENIGSBERG AND THE ADJACENT AREA

"The conference examined a proposal by the soviet government that pending the final determination of territorial questions at the peace settlement the section of the western frontier of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics which is adjacent to the Baltic sea should pass from a point on the eastern shore of the Bay of Danzig to the east, north of Braunsberg-Goldap, to the meeting point of the frontiers of Lithuania, the Polish republic and East Prussia.

BACK SOVIET PLAN
Allies Agree Russia Will Get Koenigsberg Area

"The conference has agreed in principle to the proposal of the Soviet government concerning the ultimate transfer to the Soviet union of the city of Koenigsberg and the area adjacent to it as described above, subject to expert examination of the actual frontier.

"The President of the United States and the British prime minister have declared that they will support the proposal of the conference at the forthcoming peace settlement.

VII.

WAR CRIMINALS

"The three governments have taken note of the discussions which have been proceeding in recent weeks in London between British, United States, Soviet, and French representatives with a view to reaching agreement on the methods of trial of those major war criminals whose crimes under the Moscow declaration of October, 1943, have no particular geographical localization. The three governments reaffirm their intention to bring those criminals to swift and sure justice. They hope that the negotiations in London will result in speedy agreement being reached for this purpose, and they regard it as a matter of great imporance that the trial of those major criminals should begin at the earliest possible date. The first list of defendants will be published before Sept. 1.

VIII.

AUSTRIA

"The conference examined a proposal by the Soviet government on the extension of the authority of the Austrian provisional government to all of Austria.

"The three governments agreed that they were prepared to examine this question after the entry of the British and American forces into the city of Vienna.

IX.

POLAND

"The conference considered questions relating to the Polish provisional government and the western boundary of Poland.

"On the Polish provisional government of national unity they defined their attitude in the following statement:

"A—We have taken note with pleasure of the agreement reached among representative Poles from Poland and abroad which has made possible the formation, in accordance with the decisions reached at the Crimea conference, of a Polish provisional government of national unity recognized by the three powers. The establishment by the British and United States governments of diplomatic relations with the Polish provisional government has resulted in the withdrawal of their recognition from the former Polish government in London, which no longer exists.

PROTECTION TO POLES
All Press to Have Access to Coming Election

"The British and United States governments have taken measures to protect the interest of the Polish provisional government as the recognized government of the Polish state in the property belonging to the Polish state located in their territories and under their control, whatever the form of this property may be. They have further taken measures to prevent alienation to third parties of such property. All proper facilities will be given to the Polish provisional government for the exercise of the ordinary legal remedies for the recovery of any property belonging to the Polish state which may have been wrongfully alienated.

"The three powers are anxious to assist the Polish provisional government in facilitating the return to Poland as soon as practicable of all Poles abroad who wish to go, including members of the Polish armed forces and the merchant marine. They expect that those Poles who return home shall be accorded personal and property rights on the same basis as all Polish citizens.

Pledge Free Election

"The three powers note that the Polish provisional government in accordance with the decisions of the Crimea conference has agreed to the holding of free and unfettered elections as soon as possible on the basis of universal suffrage and secret ballot in which all democratic and anti-Nazi parties shall have the right to take part and to put forward candidates, and that representatives of the allied press shall enjoy full freedom to report to the world upon developments in Poland before and during the elections.

"B. The following agreement was reached on the western frontier of Poland:

"In conformity with the agreement on Poland reached at the Crimea conference the three heads of government have sought the opinion of the Polish provisional government of national unity in regard to the accession of territory in the north and west which Poland should receive. The president of the national council of Poland and members of the Polish provisional government of national unity have been received at the conference and have fully presented their views. The three heads of government reaffirm their opinion that the final delimitation of the western frontier of Poland should await the peace settlement.

Boundaries Tentative

"The three heads of government agree that, pending the final determination of Poland's western fontier, the former German territories east of a line running from the Baltic sea immediately west of Swinemunde, and thence along the Oder river to the confluence of the western Neisse river and along the western Neisse to the Czechoslovak frontier, including that portion of East Prussia not placed under the administration of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics in accordance with the understanding reached at this conference and including the area of the former free city of Danzig, shall be under the administration of the Polish state and for such purposes should not be considered as part of the soviet zone of occupation in Germany.

X.

CONCLUSION OF PEACE TREATIES AND ADMISSION TO THE UNITED NATIONS ORGANIZATION

"The conference agreed upon the following statement of common policy for establishing, as soon as possible, the conditions of lasting peace after victory in Europe.

"The three governments consider it desirable that the present anonalous position of Italy, Bulgaria, Finland, Hungary, and Romania should be terminated by the conclusion of peace treaties. They trust that the other interested allied governments will share these views.

ITALY TREATY FIRST
Good Progress Reported by New Government

"For their part the three governments have included the preparation of a peace treaty for Italy as the first among the immediate important tasks to be undertaken by the new council of foreign ministers. Italy was the first of the axis powers to break with Germany, to whose defeat she has made a material contribution, and has now joined with the allies in the struggle against Japan. Italy has freed herself from the fascist regime and is making good progress towards the reëstablishment of a democratic government and institutions. The conclusion of such a peace treaty with a recognized and democratic Italian government will make it possible for the three governments to fulfill their desire to support an application from Italy for membership of the united nations.

"The three governments have also charged the council of foreign ministers with the task of preparing peace treaties for Bulgaria, Finland, Hungary, and Rumania. The conclusion of peace treaties with recognized democratic governments in these states will also enable the three governments to support applications from them for membership of the united nations. The three governments agree to examine each separately in the near future, in the light of the conditions then prevailing, the establishment of diplomatic relations with Finland, Rumania, Bulgaria, and Hungary to the extent possible prior to the conclusion of peace treaties with those countries.

"The three governments have no doubt that in view of the changed conditions resulting from the termination of the war in Europe, representatives of the allied press will enjoy full freedom to report to the world upon developments in Romania, Bulgaria, Hungary, and Finland.

Others Welcome

"As regards the admission of other states into the united nations organization, article 4 of the charter of the united nations declares that:

"'1. Membership in the united nations is open to all other peace loving states who accept the obligations contained in the present charter and, in the judgment of the organization, are able and willing to carry out these obligations;

"'2. The admission of any such state to membership in the united nations will be effected by a decision of the general assembly upon the recommendation of the security council.'

"The three government, so far as they are concerned, will support applications for membership from those states which have remained neutral during the war and which fulfill the qualifications set out above.

SPAIN IS BARRED
Association with Powers of Axis Is Denounced

"The three governments feel bound however to make it clear that they for their part would not favor any application for membership put forward by the present Spanish government, which, having been founded with the support of the axis powers, does not, in view of its origins, its nature, its record, and its close association with the aggressor states, possess the qualifications necessary to justify such membership.

XI.

TERRITORIAL TRUSTEESHIPS

"The conference examined a proposal by the soviet government concerning trusteeship territories as defined in the decision of the Crimea conference and in the charter of the united nations organization.

"After an exchange of views on this question it was decided that the disposition of any former Italian territories was one to be decided in connection with the preparation of a peace treaty for Italy and that the questioin of Italian territory would be considered by the September council of ministers of foreign affairs.

XII.

REVISED ALLIED CONTROL COMMISSION PROCEDURE IN RUMANIA, BULGARIA, AND HUNGARY

"The three governments took note that the soviet representatives on the allied control commissions in Romania, Bulgaria, and Hungary, have communicated to their United Kingdom and United States colleagues proposals for improving the work of the control commission, now that hostilities in Europe have ceased.

"The three governments agreed that the revision of the procedures of the allied control commissions in these countries would now be undertaken, taking into account the interests and responsibilities of the three governments which together presented the terms of armistice to the respective countries, and accepting as a basis the agreed proposals.

XIII.

ORDERLY TRANSFERS OF GERMAN POPULATIONS

"The conference reached the following agreement on the removal of Germans from Poland, Czechoslovakia, and Hungary:

"The three governments having considered the question in all its aspects, recognize that the transfer to Germany of German populations or elements thereof, remaining in Poland, Czechoslovakia, and Hungary, will have to be undertaken. They agree that any transfers that take place should be effected in an orderly and humane manner.

Shifting Possible

"Since the influx of a large number of Germans into Germany would increase the burden already resting on the occupying authorities, they consider that the allied control council in Germany should in the first instance examine the problem with special regard to the question of the equitable distribution of these Germans among the several zones of occupation. They are accordingly instructing their respective representatives on the control council to report to their governments as soon as possible the extent to which such persons have already entered Germany from Poland, Czechoslovakia, and Hungary, and to submit an estimate of the time and rate at which further transfers could be carried out, having regard to the present situation in Germany.

"The Czechoslovak government, the Polish provisional government, and the control council in Hungary are at the same time being informed of the above, and are being requested meanwhile to suspend further expulsions pending the examination by the governments concerned of the report from their representatives on the control council.

XIV.

MILITARY TALKS

"During the conference there were meetings between the chiefs of staff of the three governments on military matters of common interest.

FOREIGN MINISTERS OF FIVE NATIONS WHICH WILL BE ON EUROPEAN PEACE WRITING COUNCIL

CHURCHILL AND EDEN THANKED BY BIG 3 FOR WORK AT PARLEY

LONDON, Aug. 2 (AP)—The Big Three told Winston Churchill today that "the whole world knows the greatness of his work and it will never be forgotten."

The message:

"President Truman, Generalissimo Stalin, and Prime Minister Attlee, assembled at the final session of the Berlin conference, desire to send a message of greetings to Mr. Winston Churchill. They wish to thank him for all his work in the first part of the Berlin conference, which helped greatly to lay the foundations of its successful conclusion.

"They remember with gratitude the untiring efforts and the unconquerable spirit with which at earlier conferences and thruout the war he served our common cause of victory and enduring peace. The whole world knows the greatness of his work and it will never be forgotten."

The Big Three also sent a message to Former Foreign Secretary Eden, noting "the lasting value of his work at earlier conferences and international meetings which has contributed so much to victory, unity, and peace."

GI WIVES FACE STAY IN BRITAIN UNTIL SPRING

LONDON, Aug. 2 (AP) — United States headquarters in the United Kingdom said today it was unlikely that British wives of American service men could be transported to the United States before next spring. The statement was issued to spike rumors that more army transportation was available.

It emphasized that reports that commercial passenger lines might soon be able to transport brides had no connection with transportation to be provided by the army, whose accommodations are reserved for personnel with higher priorities.

In Paris, Rep. Wickersham [D., Okla.] voiced support of proposals that wives of American occupation troops be brought to Europe. "We have found that GIs who expect to be here a long time want their wives with them," said Wickersham, chairman of a special house committee on a European tour. "I think they should have them, too."

Guilfoil, 6239 N. Fairfield av., Aug. 13 in the Gen. George Bell Jr. post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, 117 N. Wells st. Sgt. Guilfoil was killed in action Oct. 5, 1943, over Bologna, Italy.

HOW LIVING WALL GUARDED STALIN AT BIG 3 PARLEY

Premier on Unheralded Tour of Berlin

POTSDAM, Germany, Aug. 2 (AP)—A living wall of soviet officers of the blue capped political police guarded Generalissimo Stalin in the "inner security" zone which included the Big Three meeting place at Cecilienhof.

Looking fit and trim in his tailored uniform, the soviet premier moved about the former crown prince's lakeside home and from study to conference chamber to the communal buffet under protective measures in which scores of Russian police participated.

Yet, the story goes around that both Stalin and Foreign Commissar Molotov motored around Berlin at least once on an unheralded tour and that the German populace was never the wiser.

The security of the Potsdam conference primarily was the responsibility of soviet forces, with the Americans and British sharing limited duties. That the conference went on for more than two weeks in an enemy land without any untoward incident was a tripartite police achievement.

Use Separate Entrances

At Yalta it was estimated that 20,000 Russian military, diplomatic, and domestic personnel were used. At Potsdam that figure was outdistanced by far.

Most of the green capped frontier troops were trained for the strictest observance of sentry orders. But political police acted as bodyguards for the premier and other ranking soviet delegates.

The Big Three used three separate entrances to the former banquet hall where their deliberations were held about a round table covered with a red baize and decorated with the three flags.

Soviet guards stood not only at Stalin's door but were placed beside American and British guards at the doors of President Truman and the British prime minister.

When the Big Three talked business, there sometimes were as many as 60 trusted officials in the hall. Guards withdrew, closing the exits.

Hall Carefully Searched

Before and after each meeting the hall was searched by inter-allied police to assure safety and recover any valuable papers or notes which might have dropped unnoticed.

The soviet delegation occupied most of the ground floor. The Americans and British each had a wing on the second floor with exclusive entrances.

The prime minister's suite formerly belonged to the crown princess. It has a blue tiled bathroom with a sunken marble tub over which hung a porcelain semi-nude figure of a blonde Lorelei.

All the housekeeping and kitchen staff of Cecilienhof was brought from Moscow by the soviet government.

MRS. HAZEL R. HUGHES

When Mrs. Hazel R. Hughes, 34, of 6 N. Lotus av., came home from her vacation she found that her husband, William D., an insurance adjustor, had moved out all the furniture, she told Judge Edwin A. Robson in Superior court yesterday. Mrs. Hughes, who appeared with Irving Eisenman, her attorney, was granted a divorce by Judge Robson on her charges of cruelty, drunkenness, and desertion.

CHICAGO OFFICER 'MR. FIXIT' FOR BIG 3 DELEGATES

BY HENRY WALES
[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

POTSDAM, Germany, Aug. 2—Lt. William Pass, 4932 Lake Park av., Chicago, acted as trouble shooter for the American delegation's establishment during the Big Three conference.

Lt. William Pass

"The boiler providing hot water to Mr. Truman's house burst the night before the President arrived," said Pass, "We worked all night and fixed it half an hour before he moved in.

"We took care of 16 houses lodging the American delegates, including Adm. King, Gen. Marshall, Gen. Arnold, Ambassador Davies, and Rear Adm. Arthur B. Cook.

Impressed by Truman

Pass added: "Finding curtains was the hardest job as the Germans had stripped the house bare. We scrounged furniture but had to raid warehouses. A Russian interior decorator sewed curtains from material found. We plugged the shell and bomb holes, replastered where bomb concussions shook down plaster, and repainted everything.

"A secret service man smuggled me into the last plenary session and I was impressed by Mr. Truman's bearing and the way he acted with the big shots. He had a great air of dignity and when he walked into the conference room everybody knew the President of the United States had arrived."

Pvt. John Causeman, 5444 S. Western av., Chicago, acted as guard at Secretary of War Stimson's house. He was formerly a military policeman guard at Gen. Bradley's house and then at Gen. Hodges' residence. Causeman landed on Omaha beach on D-day plus 2, and was selected for his guard job because he is a sharpshooter and intelligent.

60 Persons in Household

Lt. Abram Jennett, Newark, N. J., a 1932 Yale graduate, had charge of the "Little White House." Twenty days after leaving the United States in September he was a rifleman in the 120th regiment of the 30th division, crouching in a foxhole in the Siegfried line. He wiped out 10 Germans and captured a machine gun nest.

"We took care of the household staff numbering 60 persons—cooks, orderlies, secret service men, and the signal corps. The cooks were mostly Filipinos from the yacht Potomac, whom the President selected. Mr. Truman went to bed between 10 o'clock and midnight and awoke at six in the morning regularly without an alarm clock or being called.

"The hardest job was coördinating the President's movements for meetings, conferences, and meals. He gave a banquet for Stalin, Churchill, and Attlee with real ice cream and nightly he had admirals, generals, and big shots to dinner. The telephone rang constantly because every one seeking any one always phoned the "Little White House."

"Mr. Truman slept between GI sheets, under GI blankets, and used GI brown towels—he's just a regular fellow!"

LOSES DIAMOND RING ON 'L'

Daniel Ingram, 6941 S. Emerald av., told police yesterday he lost a diamond ring while riding on a north side elevated train.

Woman Seized

[Associated Press Wirephoto]

Mrs. Venda Jones holding Peter Watson in Meridian, Miss.

Meridian, Miss., Aug. 2 (AP)—Little Peter Watson, 4, played with toys today and repeatedly asked to see his mother, Mrs. Evada Watson, 40, of Crystal Beach, Ont., who reported the child missing nearly a month ago at Buffalo, N. Y.

Chief of Detectives T. D. Arbour said a woman booked as Mrs. Venda Florence Jones was being held on a fugitive warrant pending the arrival of Buffalo officers.

A nation-wide search had been under way for the boy since July 3 when his mother reported to officials that a woman whom she had met on chance acquaintance in Buffalo had left with the boy.

Arbour said the woman was found with the child in a bus station yesterday.

Arbour said Mrs. Jones told him that the baby was loaned to her by the mother for 30 days during a meeting between the two women at a tavern in Buffalo last July 3.

DECIDE TO CALL LAVAL TODAY IN TRIAL OF PETAIN

PARIS, Aug. 2 (AP)—Pierre Laval, ex-premier of the Vichy government, will be brought from a prison cell tomorrow to testify in the treason trial of Marshal Petain.

Rejecting a defense protest, the court announced after debate among the jurors that it would summon Laval, who had been called the aged marshal's "evil genius."

The decision regarding Laval, himself facing treason charges, was announced after the afternoon recess. The session then was suspended. It had been a dull day of testimony during which the old marshal and three of the jurors fell asleep.

Charles Trochu, president of the Paris municipal council, was telling how Petain never really was in control of the Vichy government when the 89 year old defendant dozed off.

Portray Petain as Patriot

A procession of defense witnesses had been heard thruout the morning portraying Petain as anti-German and as a patriot who was willing to use French artillery in North Africa to prevent the Germans from marching thru Spain to attack Gibraltar.

Attorneys pointed out that summoning Laval as a witness "undoubtedly would mean" the trial would be prolonged by days.

Judge Paul Mongibeaux said it "would aid greatly in placing responsibility correctly" to bring Laval and Petain together in court.

Police Carry Tommy Guns

Even greater precautions are being taken to protect Laval from mob violence than were organized for Petain. Hundreds of extra policemen carrying tommy guns were assigned to the Palais de Justice, where the marshal is on trial. The ministry of interior declined to disclose, even to court officials, when or how the transfer would be effected.

Laval, clapped into Fresnes prison late yesterday following expulsion from Spain and a flight to Austria where he surrendered to American troops, already has been subjected to preliminary questioning in his own case.

For a time today he lost the self-possessed calm shown when he first was returned to Paris. He wept as a magistrate representing the high court of justice placed seals on the baggage he and his wife had brought with them.

Yanks Seized Money

"He was master of himself the entire time" during last night's questioning, the examiner said.

Mrs. Laval, however, was described as in a state of near prostration and weeping constantly. She is not charged with any crime, but, like Mrs. Petain, has been placed in protective custody of the high court.

Laval told his captors that $10,000 in American currency, as well as Swiss money he brought with him from Spain, had been seized by the American officers to whom he surrendered Tuesday and that they gave him "a receipt in good and due form."

MRS. GRACE KOTWICKI

Mrs. Grace Kotwicki, 34, of 137 E. 107th st., a bookkeeper, is always methodical.

Police said that after she walked away from her job in the York Women's Apparel store, 201 S. State st., last Wednesday with $3,200 of the store's funds, she placed the money in envelopes neatly labeled "For lot," "Down payment on car," "Doctor bills," "Clothing," and "Bills."

Police said they found the envelopes and $1,450 of the money in her home yesterday when they arrested her on a complaint chargin larceny by bailee, signed by store officials. At central police station, Mrs. Kotwicki was hysterical. Police said she had made a payment on a car and had purchased license plates. Her husband, Walter, works in a war plant. They have five children ranging in age from 7 to 15.

NAVY TO START CHAIN OF DAILY NEWSPAPERS

Washington, D. C., Aug. 2 (AP)—The navy is planning to publish a chain of daily newspapers in the Pacific and a weekly magazine along the lines of the army's Yank and the marine corps' Leatherneck.

Navy News has been chosen as the newspaper's name. A Guam edition has begun publication and others are to follow within a few months in the Philippines and on Okinawa. The navy said still more may be published where there are large concentrations of naval personnel and no available civilian newspapers.

The navy, in telling of its plans today, said Navy News will be an eight page, five column tabloid distributed free. It will contain national and international news, columns, comics, and crossword puzzles.

The magazine, probably to sell for 10 cents a copy, will be a 32 page, large size magazine in two colors. A 250,000 circulation is planned.

Owner of Proviso Tavern Seized on Gaming Charge

Lt. Peter Madura and Deputy John Kringas of the Willow Springs highway police station yesterday arrested Al Troutman in his tavern at 1315 S. 1st av., Proviso township, on a charge of keeping a gambling establishment. Customers were making bets across the bar, the police said. Troutman, who lives at 1011 N. 7th av., Maywood, was freed on $100 bond for a hearing before Justice of the Peace Henry J. Pendl Aug. 9.

PARENTS FACE COURT; CHILDREN ALONE AT NIGHT

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Sachs, 1605 N. Kildare av., yesterday faced a charge of contributing to the delinquency of their children after their three youngsters were found alone and neglected after midnight.

Detective Walter Scully told Judge Victor A. Kula in the court of domestic relations that the children, Robert, 8, and Myrna and Myrtle, 2 year old twins, were found at 12:45 a. m. yesterday. Two hours later the parents arrived and had been drinking, the detective said. The police were called by neighbors, who heard the babies crying.

Judge Kula set bond for each of the parents at $200 and continued the hearing until Aug. 15.

BIG 3 POLITICAL, MILITARY CHIEFS SIGN AT POTSDAM

Marshall and Arnold Among Them

Washington, D. C., Aug. 2 [Special]—In addition to the three principal figures at the Potsdam conference—President Truman, Prime Minister Attlee, and Dictator Stalin—a long list of political and military dignitaries affixed their signatures today to the declaration. They included:

FOR THE UNITED STATES—State Secretary Byrnes; Fleet Adm. Leahy, chief of staff to the President; Special Ambassador Joseph E. Davies; Special Ambassador Edwin Pauley; Ambassador Robert D. Murphy, political adviser to the commander in chief, United States zone in Germany; Ambassador W. Averell Harriman; Gen. Marshall, chief of staff, United States army; Fleet Adm. King, chief of naval operations; Gen. Arnold of the United States army air forces; Gen. Somervell, army service forces; Vice Adm. Land, war shipping administrator; Assistant State Secretary Clayton; Assistant State Secretary Dunn; Special Assistant to the State Secretary Cohen; H. POLITICS RULES VETERAN BOARD, V. F. W. CHARGES

Charges that the newly created Illinois veterans' commission is "politically controlled" and that its members are "all political appointees" have been made in a resolution adopted by the council of administration, Illinois department, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Replying to assertions of the resolution, James P. Ringley, commission chairman, declared that the commission is not political and that "our one aim is to do a good job for the veterans of World War II." Other members of the commission are Telfer MacArthur, an Oak Park Republican, and John Albert Stelle, son of the former Democratic governor, John Stelle.

In their statement, 21 officers and district commanders of the V. F. W. said they voted to take no part in recommending appointments of service officers or other commission employes.

CAB DRIVERS ASK 500 LICENSES FOR DISCHARGED GIs

The American Cab Drivers Association for Discharged Veterans will meet at 8 p. m. Monday in the Hamilton hotel to push its plan for the city to set aside 500 cab licenses for discharged veterans, Edgar Siries, president of the organization, said yesterday.

Siries said many discharged service men have disabilities which prevent them from taking heavy work in war plants and these men are eager to own and operate their own cabs. A petition has been prepared by the veterans for submission to Mayor Kelly.

The association, composed of former cab drivers and ex-service men who want to become cab drivers, has headquarters at 32 N. State st.

Death of 12 in Air Crash Blamed on Mexican Fog

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 2 (AP)—Fog was blamed today for the crash of a Mexican air liner yesterday in which 12 persons were killed. The Lamsa plane evidently brushed a mountainside 16 miles west of San Luis Potosi. Two United States citizens, Theodore Simons, 36, a mining man of Mexico City, and Ralph Hopey, employe of a Los Angeles, Cal., lumber company, were among the dead.

GROCER FINED AS GAMBLER

Jacob Freeman, 63, grocer at 1035 W. 61st st., was fined $10 and costs on a charge of keeping a gambling house by Judge Charles S. Dougherty in S. State st. court yesterday. Policemen testified they saw three men taking race bets Wednesday in the grocery.

SHERIFF CLAIMS CLEAN SWEEP OF SLOT MACHINES

Sizing up the results of gambling raids in the county in recent months, which reached a high point in capture of the syndicate's slot machine headquarters, Wednesday, Sheriff Michael F. Mulcahy said yesterday that his territory is virtually clean of slot machines.

The sheriff's drive started in April, when 48 arrests for gambling were made, as compared with 23 in March. Thus far this year, 220 persons have been arrested, as compared with 225 for all of 1944. Gamblers this year have paid $4,000 in fines and $500 in court costs.

When Chief John J. McGinnis of the county highway police raided a former gambling casino on Waukegan rd. three blocks north of Winnetka av. and seized $50,000 worth of syndicate slot machines and spare parts, he "really hit the jackpot," the sheriff said.

1,496 ARRIVE IN NEW JERSEY ON GRIPSHOLM

Many from Chicagoland Return Home

Jersey City, N. J., Aug. 2 (AP)—First passengers off the exchange liner Gripsholm, which docked there today with 1,496 persons from China, India, and the Mediterranean, brought stories of distress in the wake of the European war.

"In Greece there is very little food, practically no clothing and many people are still living in cellars," said Ulysses Parases, 17, of New York.

Peter Rangoes, 24, who was born in Philadelphia, Pa., broke down as he described children dying of starvation in Athens.

More than 615 missionaries and 244 Chinese and Indian students, here to enter schools and colleges, were aboard the ship. Also aboard was Naparajan Jegadish of the ministry of information of the Indian government. He was en route to the general agency for the government of India in Washington, D. C.

GI Joe in the Pacific

By ARTHUR VEYSEY

(Chicago Tribune Press Service)

HACIENDA LUCITA, Luzon, Aug. 2—Pvt. Wilbert Loy stopped his tractor when he came to a corner of the field where Sgt. James Reeve was kicking at some clods. Loy looked at distant, low hanging clouds just as he used to back at El Paso, Ill., and said, "We could use some rain."

Reeve, chewing on a blade of grass as he learned at home near Rushville, Ill., said, "Yep, if we don't get some we are going to lose those peppers."

The peppers aren't all that is wilting for lack of rain. The radishes are losing their sweetness with every gust of hot wind. The seedlings of tomatoes, egg plant, and okra are falling to the ground.

Truck gardening in Luzon has so many woes that when Reeve and Loy and the 80 other GI farmers attempting to grow vegetables for the army come in out of the fields at dusk, their walls make the Saturday gatherings at Illinois courthouses sound like symphony concerts.

Wild Grass Reclaims Land

Cultivation of this Luzon farm 80 miles from Manila was begun in March, two months after the soldiers began clearing it of Japs. Hacienda Lucita, a sugar cane plantation, had been idle for three years and tough, wild grasses had reclaimed its 25,000 acres. The Spanish hacienda owners leased the land to the army for $7 an acre a year, the army paying only for the acreage it uses.

The army planned to put 5,000 acres into vegetables to provide every soldier on Luzon with fresh food. Now it appears that if the acreage reaches 3,000 every one will be happy.

The grass was the first problem. Six feet high and full of moisture, it wouldn't burn. The farm had no mowers and so the only thing was to plow it under. Then the GI farmers found that wheeled tractors wouldn't pull the plows thru the tough roots. They waited for tracked vehicles.

Plows Bend on Ant Hills

The fields were full of ant hills, some three feet high and hard as granite. Plows broke or bent. Each tractor, therefore, was equipped with a bulldozer blade.

The grass that was plowed under refuses to die. In a month it breaks thru and is almost a foot high. As a result the land has to be disked weekly.

The soil is sandy loam, low in organic matter. Before the war only chemical fertilizers were used, which didn't help the organic shortage. If the GI farmers could grow two or three crops of alfalfa or soybeans and plow them under, the soil would be improved, but the army needs vegetables now, and the GI farmers have to do the best they can.

Four Inch Rain in Day

Then there is the weather. The wet season began in May. The rain has come in heavy, short storms. Last Saturday the farm got a four inch downpour. Today the crops that weren't beaten down by the rain are wilting. Filipinos don't try to grow vegetables during the wet season. They wait until October.

In the dry season, from October to May, the crops must be irrigated. Hacienda Lucita had an irrigation system, but three years of disuse has put the canals in a sorry state. The GI farmers foresee a big job getting water running in them by October.

The average temperature here now is from 90 to 95 degrees. Such heat in the planting season does queer things to seeds. Seeds of all types are being tested, but because of the lack of time some fields are being sown blindly. So far about 100 acres are in crops.

A harvest of radishes and one of cucumbers have been sent to Luzon hospitals. The radishes took four weeks from planting to harvest, the cucumbers seven.

It's All Trial and Error

A field of sweet corn was a flop. The corn tasseled when only two feet high. It was plowed under. A field of cantaloupes turned yellow and it, too, was plowed under. Farming is strictly trial and error, and sometimes the farm's officers, Capt. Mike Reagan, Le Sueur, Minn.; Lt. Hugh Senneff, Chadwick, Ill.; Lt. Charles Cobb, Boone, Ia., and Capt. Edward Davis, Salma, Cal., are tempted to call it quits. But like good farmers they plow under and start anew.

The GIs run tractors, maintain equipment, and do other mechanical jobs. Filipinos do the field work. The farm advertises for help. Two hundred and forty-five have been hired. At first Pvt. Jess Yarbrough, Belleville, Ill., boss of native labor, was amazed by the applicants. Every one was a woman. When it comes to working in the fields, Filipino men just don't.

54,000 Yanks Aid

GUAM, Aug. 2 (AP)—History's greatest air raid by 820 Super Forts today on five Japanese centers required the combined efforts of 54,000 Americans. Of these, 9,000 were pilots, bombardiers, and gunners. Forty-five thousand ground crewmen labored to get the big ships ready for their mission.

The Super Forts carried 5,330,000 gallons of high test aviation gasoline. The combined mileage was 2,460,000. The crewmen used up 126,280 man hours. If all the planes had been lined up on one giant strip, tail to nose, they would have formed a train 18 miles long.

The planes carried food for 9,000 meals. There were 45,000 cups of coffee, 9,000 apples, and 9,000 oranges.

ORGANIZE WAR VETS PARTY TO BACK O'DWYER

New York, Aug. 2 [Special]—Creation of a new veterans' party designed to give Brig. Gen. William O'Dwyer, the Democratic-American Labor party candidate for mayor, a third line on the voting machines at the Nov. 6 election was announced today. Circulation of petitions for filing Aug. 15 will start at once.

This move by a Brooklyn war veterans' group headed by Harold Burke, a Veterans of Foreign Wars leader, will give O'Dwyer an equal number of lines on the machine with Jonah J. Goldstein, general sessions judge, the Republican-Liberal-City Fusion candidate.

Burke will also be heading off another veterans' party which had been planned with former State Sen. John J. McNaboe as its mayoralty candidate. The veterans-for-O'Dwyer movement was born yesterday at a luncheon meeting at the American Legion county clubhouse, Brooklyn, with representatives of the American Legion, V. F. W., and other such groups participating.

First American Hospital in Vienna Opened by Army

VIENNA, Austria, Aug. 2 (AP)—The first American hospital in Vienna began operating tonight under the direction of Lt. Col. Ralph Shilling, Columbus, O. A former luftwaffe hospital in the northwestern section of the city, it was taken over by a medical corps team two days ago. Its personnel includes 12 nurses and 150 enlisted men. The hospital is intended to care for American, French, and British military personnel. The Russians have their own hospitals in operation.

29 Million Pacific Miles Flown; No Passenger Lost

MANILA, P. I., Aug. 3 (AP)—The air transport command of the Southwest Pacific wing ended its first year of operation today. It had flown 29,000,000 passenger miles without a passenger fatality.

MISSING GIRL, 9, SOUGHT SINCE JULY 25, FOUND

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 2 (AP)—Marjorie Wick, 9, who was sought since July 25 when she went for a bicycle ride with a "gray haired man," was reunited with her parents today while John Stanley Borten, 65, was held in a Buffalo jail charged with kidnaping the child.

Detectives found Borten and the child in a Rochester rooming house this morning, police said. Borten will be arraigned tomorrow.

Marjorie appeared unharmed, but her hair had been bleached blond. She was wearing a dress she told police Borten made for her, and several pieces of inexpensive jewelry she said he had bought.

Detectives said Marjorie told them Borten took her on his bicycle July 25 to a Buffalo rooming house, and later that evening by train to Rochester.

Borten, police said, maintained Marjorie was his daughter, adding that his wife had been committed to a mental hospital nine years ago, and their daughter was taken from him about that time. When asked why he thought Marjorie was his daughter, police said he replied, "My heart told me she was."

10TH MOUNTAIN DIVISION LEAVES NAPLES FOR U.S.

NAPLES, Italy, Aug. 2 (AP)—Approximately 6,000 troops of the United States 10th mountain division, which spearheaded the breakthru in the Po valley offensive of last April culminating in defeat for the Germans in Italy, sailed home today aboard the troop ship Mount Vernon.

With other elements of the same division which have already left Italy, the men will have furloughs before the division is reorganized as an infantry outfit and trained for the Pacific.

"10th Mountain Division"

Wild cheers greeted a statement from Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, commanding general in the Mediterranean theater, that "you will still be known as the 10th mountain division." He announced also that henceforth soldiers with 106 or more points will get top priority for shipment from his theater to the United States.

The units that sailed today were the 87th mountain regiment, division headquarters, the 126th engineer battalion, the 616th field artillery battalion, the 10th cavalry reconnaissance troops, the 10th quartermaster battalion, the 100th signal company, and the 710th ordnance company.

The 85th and 86th mountain regiments sailed earlier.

It was announced also that the entire 85th [Custer] division will sail for the United States about Aug. 15. It is now composed of high score men assembled from the 34th, 85th, 91st, and 10th mountain divisions.

Redeployment Speeded

PARIS, Aug. 2 (AP)—The assembly area command announced today that more than 166,000 American soldiers moved thru its 17 camps between June 15 and July 31. At the end of July more than 164,000 men were being processed in the camps.

It was announced that the redeployment schedule of the 13th air borne and 45th infantry divisions had been advanced several days. A summary of divisions en route to the United States for ultimate redeployment to the Pacific:

13th armored, 20th armored, 28th infantry, and 9th army headquarters—on the sea.

30th infantry — Advance units sailed from Le Havre July 22. The main body less one regiment is en route to the United Kingdom for an August sailing on the Queen Mary. The 119th regiment will sail from Le Havre at the same time.

35th infantry, 45th infantry, and 13th air borne—Advance units have sailed from Le Havre. The main bodies are the Reims assembly area.

ASSERTS JAPAN IS LICKED, JUST CASE OF WHEN

New York, Aug. 2 [Special]—Back from a 19 day trip to the South Pacific, J. M. Patterson, publisher of the New York News, today declared, "I think Japan is licked."

Stepping from the plane that brought him to New York airport from the Pacific coast, he added: "It is just a case of when. I am very much more of this opinion now than when I left. We have overwhelming force compared with the Japanese and our soldiers and sailors are all cocky."

Accompanied by John O'Donnell, chief of the Washington bureau of the News, he inspected army and navy installations, met Gen. MacArthur, Adm. Nimitz, and other top navy and army chiefs, and stopped off at Manila, Leyte, and Guam, among other places.

3.41 Inch Rain in 2 Hours, But Guam Show Goes On

HDQS. 20TH AIR FORCE, GUAM, Aug. 2 (AP)—Yesterday 3.41 inches of rain fell on Guam in two hours, threatening to spoil the world premiere movie story of Eddie Rickenbacker titled "Capt. Eddie." Water filled the open theater up to stage level. Fire trucks pumped all day and the show was put on.

JAPS NOTE BIG 3 'FAILED' TO TALK OF PACIFIC WAR

Boast 'Iron Defense' by 100,000,000

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Aug. 2 (AP)—Today's joint bulletin on accomplishments of the Potsdam conference "conspicuously failed to make any reference to the Pacific or the war against Japan," the Japanese agency Domei noted in the first enemy reaction recorded in this country.

"Failure" of the Big Three to "produce anything that has a bearing on the war in the Pacific" was "contrary to all predictions made by Anglo-American propagandists," Domei added.

Other broadcasts boasted an "iron defense" by 100,000,000 Japanese determined to scorn surrender and fight the war to a finish.

Tokyo radio chose the vehicle of a letter to the newspaper Yomiuri Shimbun from an unnamed reader in announcing that the Japanese people were indignant over the Potsdam unconditional surrender ultimatum.

By threatening to punish war criminals, the anonymous letter writer said, the allies were scheming "to alienate the military and the civilians," but that 100,000,000 Japanese had determined to go to war and all were responsible.

One broadcast said the Japanese air force, ready to repel invasion, had cleverly remained intact by refusing to fight the allied raiders.

"The main strength of our air force," this account continued, "has patiently refrained from participating in these counter-attacks, cleverly refusing to fall for enemy tactics seeking attrition of our air power."

Canty Urges Wacker Dr. Extension as Memorial

A proposal that Wacker dr. be extended from Michigan av. to the Outer drive as a memorial to Chicago veterans of World Wars I. and II. was made yesterday by Arthur E. Canty, American Legion state commander. He spoke to the war memorial committee of the Cook county council of the Legion. Niches and tables should be placed along the extension of the route, Canty said, to honor war heroes and record Chicago history.

Why DOES FANNIE MAY SHIP CANDY ONLY TO SERVICE MEN and WOMEN?

Shortage of shipping cartons! That's the big reason why we can't send candy out of town—except to service men and women!

The small number of containers that we can 'scare-up' just about takes care of those orders—and we know you won't blame us for reserving our entire supply for candy sent to folks in the armed forces!

So during this emergency, we can ship candy only to service men and women!

WACs SERENADE QUEEN MARY, GET CANDY FROM GIs

14,698 Vets Reach N. Y. on Big Transport

New York, Aug. 2 (AP)—Fourteen thousand six hundred and ninety-eight soldiers returning from Europe on the one-time luxury liner Queen Mary roared a pre-dawn greeting to their native land today—and New York harbor responded with a cry of "welcome home!"

The 81,235 ton transport led a flotilla of 10 troopships bringing a total of more than 25,000 European war veterans home, for discharge, hospitalization or redeployment.

WACs serenaded the men from the army's "welcome home" boat and from the second deck and roof of Pier 90 in the North river. They laughed when soldiers uttered wolf calls and tossed candy bars to them.

Arrive in Four Days, 17 Hours

It was the huge liner's third and fastest westbound voyage since V-E day.

Col. Dallas D. Dennis of Santa Monica, Cal., army transport commander, said the trip from Scotland took four days and 17 hours.

Officers said the only excitement during the trip came when British officials discovered two dogs aboard. The animals, pets of some soldiers, were chloroformed and buried at sea under British regulations.

Two former enemy vessels were part of today's convoy—the Hermitage, once the liner Italian Conte Biancamano, with 5,867 troops, and the E. B. Alexander, formerly the German liner Amerika, with 4,404.

2,000 Wounded Men

The Alexander carried nearly 2,000 wounded men who were taken to Halloran general and Camp Kilmer, N. J., hospitals. All the others entrained for Camp Kilmer for processing preparatory to 30 day furloughs.

Among those returning on the Queen Mary were units of the 8th and 9th air force, general hospital units, 1,723 navy personnel, 38 WACs and 36 American Red Cross personnel. Units of the 20th armored division were aboard the Hermitage.

ORDER ARMY COURT TO TRY CAPT. SCHULTZ FOR HIS MARRIAGE

BERLIN, Aug. 2 (AP)—A court martial trial was ordered today for Capt. Carl G. Schultz, whose marriage here to WAC Sgt. Kanella Koulouvaris was protested by Mrs. Ruth Priscilla Schultz of Chicago, the captain's wife.

Maj. Gen. Floyd L. Parks, American district commander, announced that Schultz had been put under observation of physchiatrists at an army hospital. Lt. Col. Alfred Osgood and Maj. Arthur Summerfield were assigned as Schultz's defense counsel.

Sgt. Koulouvaris, who said the captain had told her his first wife was dead, has started proceedings for annulment of their civil marriage.

DOOLITTLE PLEA: ONE COMMANDER IN WAR ON JAPS

OKINAWA, Aug. 2 (AP)—Suicide planes will be the principal Japanese weapon against an invasion, Lt. Gen. Doolittle, commander of the 8th army air force told officers and men of the United States 10th army in an army air forces' anniversary address last night.

"That's why we are trying to knock out Japan's air power," he said. "We know the enemy has airplanes and we know how many. They are widely dispersed and well camouflaged. We know the enemy is conserving his power to oppose an invasion. If he won't come up and fight, we must go get him on the ground. This we aim to do."

Doolittle also made a strong appeal for teamwork thru unity of command. He said effectiveness of one supreme commander over all arms of the services "proved itself in North Africa, Sicily, and on the [European] continent. We had a divided command at Pearl Harbor."

ANOTHER WAR THE NAZIS LOST—ON BOY SCOUTS

Boy Scouts in enemy occupied countries in Europe were threatened with death if they wore their uniforms and in Germany the Scout program was banned, a former scout in Belgium wrote W. Arthur McKinney, Chicago scout executive, recently.

Foreign scouts organized despite German orders and helped sabotage railroads and sniped at enemy troops, the letter said. Several were killed while performing such duties.

Spurred by the letter, Chicago Boy Scouts have contributed $2,318 to the World Friendship fund, which will buy literature, equipment, and uniforms for Scouts in liberated countries, McKinney said.

Three Army Scout Cars Boost Paper Drive Today

3 U. S. LEADERS SEE SPEEDY END TO WAR IN CHINA

CHUNGKING, China, Aug. 2 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Simpson, former commander of the United States th army in Germany, and Maj. Gen. Chennault told a press conference today that the situation in China is bright for allied arms.

Simpson's statements, mostly off the record, were a report to correspondents on his 10 day, 5,000 mile tour of the China fronts.

Lt. Gen. Wedemeyer, also back from a 5,000 mile tour of six Chinese provinces, joined in the press conference. He said that as a result of what he saw he feels "more optimistic about a speedy end to this war against Japan."

Will Open Fort Soon

Chennault said, however, that he did not believe air attack alone would defeat the Japanese, and that it would be necessary to invade Japan. He made the assertion despite his prediction that within a month the enemy would be unable to move personnel or supplies to or from the Asiatic mainland, and that within four to six months the situation in Japan would become "very bad."

Chennault said the chances were good for opening a seaport on the China coast before the end of the year to supply China's armies.

Chennault said he hoped to return to China after his impending trip to the United States, tho he had no definite plans to do so.

Thousands Cheer Chennault

Tonight Chennault was given the most enthusiastic demonstration of good will ever accorded a foreigner by the Chinese people at a farewell mass meeting sponsored by 169 Chinese organizations.

Chennault was placed under the "umbrella of honor" before cheering thousands thronging the streets to see the famed general. Extra police mobilized were unable to cope with the crowds as hundreds fought their way into the new life center where the meeting was held.

Japanese forces retreating from southern Kiangsi province have pushed within 74 miles of Nanchang and about 25 miles from a junction with a relief column striking westward to protect their flank, Chinese headquarters said today.

Four Miles from Siakiang

The Japanese, estimated at 20,000, have stabbed 150 miles north of the rewon United States air base at Kanhsien. Their push thru Chinese held territory now has carried them within four miles of Siakiang, a Kan river town 70 miles from the enemy's powerful base at Nanchang, a bulletin said.

2,000 ON STRIKE IN FOUNDRIES TO DEFY WLB EDICT

Two thousand members of the International Molders and Foundry Workers union [AFL] will remain away from work in 39 foundries today in defiance of a war labor board directive to terminate their strike, it was learned last night.

A union official said the men would not return until the employers sign a contract yielding on so-called fringe issues, such as pay for holidays, sick leave, and prorated vacation pay in the event of discharge.

The official said the union members emphasized their defiance of the WLB by setting their next strike meeting for tonight after the deadline for their return. The meeting will be held at 8 p. m. at 110 S. Francisco av. The strike began July 23 and virtually paralyzed war material production in the foundries.

'SHOOTING STAR' FAILS TO BREAK ITS OWN MARK

Dayton, O., Aug. 2 (AP)—Col. William H. Councill, Wright Field test pilot who Wednesday set a new speed record of 62 minutes between Dayton and New York in a P-80 jet fighter plane, returned today but failed by 18 minutes to approach his west-east record. He buzzed over Wright Field an hour and 20 minutes after leaving New York.

As he did at New York airport, New York, yesterday, Col. Councill circled the Wright Field area for nearly half an hour before landing his speedy Lockheed "Shooting Star."

BRITISH PURSUE BURMA JAPS IN LIFE JACKETS

CALCUTTA, India, Aug. 2 (AP)—British and empire troops, sometimes forced to wear life preservers in crossing monsoon flooded streams, have beaten back fresh Japanese attempts to cross the Sittang river and escape toward Thailand, the southeast Asia command announced today.

The jungle fighting is continuing in the area between the Mandalay-Rangoon road and the Sittang river along a stretch 40 to 150 miles north of Rangoon. More than 6,000 enemy troops were killed in this area in recent days.

Troops back from the front said rains had turned normally narrow streams into raging torrents, necessitating use of life preservers. Shoulder deep mud and malarial mosquitoes added to the difficulties, and troops are being pulled back to dry quarters after three days at the front because of the danger of foot rot, they said.

ARBITRATION IS FIXED IN CANADA PACKERS STRIKE

TORONTO, Ont., Aug. 2 (AP)—Arbitration of differences between Canada Packers, Ltd., and union workers in the firm's Toronto plant was agreed to today, pointing to a quick return to their jobs by 9,000 meat packers who had struck in cities all across Canada.

The strike began July 24 over refusal of the company to fire or transfer a worker who had declined to join other members of the United Packing House Workers of America [CIO] in a walkout to protest what they charged was overloading during the last hour of work. The company based its refusal on grounds that the walkout was illegal.

Ontario's minister of labor, Charles Daley, announced that Canada Packers, Ltd., and the union agreed to submit the issues to a three man board of arbitration, and that the 1,800 workers who walked out of five Toronto plants would return to work tomorrow morning. Workers who walked out in sympathy in other cities were expected to return also.

CANCER ONE FOE U. S. HAS NEVER ROUTED — GLORE

Cancer, with a yearly death rate of 170,000 in the United States, is taking a toll twice as heavy as American battle deaths in World War II., Charles F. Glore, Illinois chairman of the American Cancer society, said yesterday in urging support for the society's current appeal for funds.

"Cancer is one enemy the American people have never defeated," he said. "Since Pearl Harbor it has taken a toll twice as heavy as the war and it continues to be a more ruthless destroyer of children than polio. The American Cancer society can and will do something about this."

The society's goal is 5 million dollars. Illinois' quota is $560,000 and the Chicago district, Cook, Lake, and Du Page counties, has been asked to raise $390,000 of that sum.

Backed by Clubs

Plans to link Chicago and Detroit by the middle west's first interstate super-highway were announced yesterday.

"We want a faster and safer route between Chicago and Detroit," said Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor club. "It is 273 miles by way of U. S. 12 and 112, which is one of the most popular routes. An excellent driver can make the trip in eight hours. We ought to be able to make the trip in four and one-half hours."

Hayes addressed Illinois and Indiana highway leaders at a luncheon meeting in the Palmer House. Simultaneously in Detroit the Michigan club started to mobilize sentiment in that state. Thomas H. MacDonald, commissioner of the public roads administration, in a telegram said the route should be one of the first completed with the aid of federal grants.

MAKE JAPANESE ADMIT DEFEAT —ADM. MITSCHER

East Hartford, Conn., Aug. 2 (AP)—Vice Adm. Mitscher, who returned recently from the Pacific, asserted today, "the Jap warlords are facing disaster and I think they know it," and predicted that "continued pressure will force them to surrender or be destroyed forever as a nation.

"I say we must exert that continued pressure until they acknowledge complete defeat," the admiral said in a prepared address at a ceremony on the 20th birthday of the Pratt & Whitney Aircraft division of United Aircraft corporation.

WAR DOG BREAKS RULES AND DIES SAVING MARINES

OKINAWA—[Delayed]—(AP)—Red, a marine corps war dog, is dead because he didn't follow training rules. Red knew what he was doing.

Red, a big Dobermann, was a scout dog and had been taught to freeze when he flushed Japs. The other night he went along with a patrol to an island off Okinawa. Shortly after the marines landed they were pinned down by a machine gun. Its first long burst wounded 12 men.

Red Jumps Jap

With his master and a small unit of sharpshooters Red was sent to locate the gun and wipe it out. They were on a wooded road, Red in the lead. A shot rang out. Red froze as his wounded master dropped.

"Then he did what we taught him not to do," said Marine Sgt. Alfred Allen of Pocatello, Idaho. "Instead of holding the freeze he took one big bound over a hedge and landed right in the middle of the machine gun nest."

Dog Battles Foe

There was a mad scramble, with the Japanese screaming and grunting—and Red snarling and thrashing around like an infuriated tiger. Pistol shots cracked and the snarling stopped. The marine patrol dashed forward and a burst from an automatic rifle put an end to four Japanese. The marines gently moved Red from the machine gun nest. But they found it difficult to extract one Japanese hand from between Red's clenched teeth.

ARMY REFUSES TO ALTER POINT DISCHARGE PLAN

Renew 'Hoarding' Charge on Capitol Hill

Washington, D. C., Aug. 2 [Special]—The army today postponed indefinitely any change in the 85 points for soldier discharges, ending its own earlier expectations of fixing late in July a lower score for releases under the point discharge system.

While the service was thus turning thumbs down on proposals for faster demobilization, new protests were registered on Capitol hill against its asserted strangiehold on the nation's man power and food resources. A full account of army "hoarding" of men and supplies in the face of a mounting strain on the civilian economy was demanded by members of both houses of congress.

Postponement of a point change means that eventually men now going to the Pacific will get point credits for combat and overseas service. There is no change in the plan to fix another and probably lower score ultimately.

Risk Higher Casualties

War Secretary Stimson said at a press conference that the program had been discussed in detail with Gen. MacArthur and his army and air force commanders with the resultant decision that the present rate of discharge is the maximum that "can be carried out without endangering operations and risking an unnecessary rate of casualties due to loss of experienced combat leadership."

Stimson said the rate of discharge during the next three months will decline somewhat as the full brunt of redeployment to the Pacific is met.

The present discharge score of 85 will be continued, the army said, until 800,000 now eligible on the basis of service, time overseas, combat, and parenthood have been released. No date was even estimated for fixing a new count requirement for the contemplated release of 700,000 more on points.

Expect 2 Million Cut

Under the present planned discharge rate, the army will be reduced to 7 million by next June 1. A total of 2 million enlisted men and 100,000 officers would thus be released by that time. About 1½ million of the discharges will be on points and the remainder for such causes as wounds, age, and illness. Approximately 235,000 troops have been released under the point system since May.

Meantime, supporting developments followed a denunciation of army policies yesterday by Sen. Johnson [D., Colo.]. He had charged in a senate speech that the army is keeping a force almost three times the size needed to beat Japan and that its continued draft of key workers is curtailing industrial output.

Chairman May [D., Ky.] of the house military affairs committee told reporters he was "sick and tired" of the army's maintenance of what he called unnecessarily large forces in this country.

Puts Blame on Army

"Any hardships that may result from keeping such a huge army when men are needed on farms and in industry," he said, "will rest squarely on the shoulders of war department officials."

Critical war output is threatened, Rep. May declared, by the war department's refusal to release sufficient men for full operation of the nation's farming, railroad, and coal mining requirements.

Rep. Daughton [D., Va.] announced he will demand from President Truman an accounting of army stockpiles of food unless the war department supplies such information to congress. Daughton disclosed that yesterday he wrote a second letter to Lt. Gen. Somervell, chief of the army service forces, requesting data on army food stocks, after his first letter, written July 13, was ignored.

Entitled to Inventory

The congressman, who recently charged in the house that excessive army purchases of food were chiefly responsible for civilian shortages, declared that congress and the people are entitled to full inventory of military food supplies.

Daughton said figures supplied him by the war shipping administration show that the agency has in stock almost 50 pounds of butter for each of the 240,000 men in the merchant fleet.

He said Vice Adm. Land, head of the WSA, informed him the shipping agency has been making heavy purchases of butter for advance needs on the theory that butter output will decline later this year.

Store Meat and Poultry

Adm. Land wrote, Daughton related, that the WSA and licensed ship suppliers in Atlantic and gulf ports have inventories of 11,606,000 pounds of beef, 2,200,000 pounds of lamb, 500,000 pounds of veal, 664,000 pounds of poultry, and 7,648,000 pounds of butter.

Sen. Taft [R., O.] said he agrees fully with Sen. Johnson's criticism of the army's present practices and added:

"The war departmeht has been and still is grabbing everything—not only the men but the materials needed to get our economy back on its feet."

Shooting of Boy Held Accident

Father Rebuked

Use of a loaded pistol during a game of cops and robbers resulted in the fatal shooting Wednesday of Denis Bruce Donahue, 10, of 1453 E. 71st pl., a coroner's jury was told yesterday. A verdict of accidental death was returned.

Donald Hulet, 14, of 1451 E. 71st pl., in whose home the shooting took place, said he took his father's .25 caliber pistol from a dresser drawer, pointed it at the Donahue boy, and pulled the trigger. He said he forgot that he had replaced the cartridge clip after removing it.

Deputy Coroner Chris McGarigle rebuked the boy's father, Elmer Hulet, for leaving the loaded gun around a house where there are young boys.

EXPLAINS NAZIS' 20 MONTH FIGHT FOR PO VALLEY

[Seymour Korman, Tribune correspondent who has just returned from Germany, France, and Italy, tells in this article why the Germans fought for 20 months to save the Po valley in Italy.]

BY SEYMOUR KORMAN

The stiff fight the Germans put up in Italy for 20 months, from September, 1943, thru April, 1945, was, it is apparent now, dictated by nazi high strategy based on retaining the rich Po valley for as long as possible.

This expanse in the northern part of the peninsula, hemmed in by great mountains, was needed by the Germans not only for its productivity but because it was the back door to the proposed national redoubt. That redoubt, where it once was believed Hitler and his cohorts would wage their last battle, had its northern line around Berchtesgaden and Salzburg and Innsbruck.

The redoubt scheme was smashed by rapid sledgehammer blows delivered by the American 7th army, which crossed the Rhine and drove southeast thru Bavaria, and the American 5th army and the British 8th army, which moved north in Italy and broke the back door.

Valley Rich in Food

The Po valley, bounded by the maritime Alps on the northwest, the Swiss and Dolomite Alps on the north, the Julian and Carnac Alps on the northeast, and the Apennines in the south, normally feeds two-fifths of Italy. Among its principal crops are wheat, corn, grapes, beans, oats, and potatoes. Of the 22 million acres of those crops in Italy, most are in the Po territory. Detailed figures are not yet available but there were bumper crops in the valley this year.

Moreover, the big industrial cities of Italy, including Milan and Turin, are in this region, and 90 per cent of their industries were unimpaired by the war. They need only coal to function. They are not getting sufficient coal now, but they got all they needed while the Germans occupied them.

To stock the national redoubt, the Germans were counting on the agricultural yield of the Po valley, and to keep their armies and air forces going, the Germans needed the factory production of Milan and Turin.

Nazi Strategy Good

The German defensive strategy in Italy was excellent. The nazi high command planned to spend the winter of 1943-1944 holding a line hinged on Cassino in southern Italy, and the winter of 1944-1945 on the Appennine line in the north, and that is what was done.

The Germans had the advantage of terrain that is among the easiest in the world to defend, and they didn't hesitate to send troops to Italy. No matter how hard pressed the German army was on the western and eastern fronts in Europe in the last half of 1944 and the first part of this year, the line in Italy was kept well manned.

The Germans kept about 26 divisions in Italy, including many crack infantry, mountain, and armored units. About 200,000 combat troops and service and rear echelon forces of several times that number were employed. Our prisoner bag in Italy, when the Germans finally collapsed, ran to about 800,000.

Strong Line, Says Its Creator

The Cassino and Apennine lines were planned and developed by Field Marshal Albert Kesselring. When Field Marshal Von Rundstedt was deposed as commander of the German armies on the western front early this year Kesselring succeeded to that post.

Kesselring believed the Appennine line was so well constructed some divisions could have been withdrawn.

After his capture in Berchtesgaden last May, Kesselring told me: "The Appennine line could have been held for a long time with fewer troops, and those taken away might have slowed, and possibly stopped, the Russians in the east."

Spurned by Soldier Host, Woman Sets Hotel Fire

The reason Rose Elizabeth Wishner, 21, of 2109 W. Division st. set fire to the furniture in a Morrison hotel room Wednesday night was that the soldier who invited her there left her after changing his socks, she told Judge William V. Daly in Felony court yesterday. Judge Daly continued hearing on charges of drunkenness and malicious mischief and ordered the woman examined at the county behavior clinic.

WARNS MAIL BOX THIEVES WILL BE SENT TO PRISON

Judge Elwyn R. Shaw warned in United States District court yesterday that mail box thefts by young Negroes have increased so that he no longer will grant probation. Before him was Cleophus L. Hull, 18, of 1700 Taylor st., charged with stealing a $19 federal check. Hull's mother was in court and Judge Shaw called her to the bench.

"Madame, I want you to carry the word back to your people that I am thru trying to be lenient in these cases," he said. "There has been a tremendous increase in the last year. I am thru granting probation."

Judge Shaw then sentenced Hull to a year and a day in a federal prison.

Capt. Thomas Callaghan of the secret service confirmed Judge Shaw's statement that thefts from mail boxes, particularly of soldier allotment checks and other federal vouchers, had increased sharply in Negro neighborhoods. He said he had held several conferences with Negro leaders and asked them to help solve the problem.

MAIL BOX THIEF HELD TO JURY

Norman G. Demetracakis, 30, of 1611 Hyde Park blvd., pleaded guilty before United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker yesterday to stealing 200 letters from mail boxes in the last six weeks. He was held to the federal grand jury.

JULY WAR COSTS UP 123 MILLION OVER '44 PERIOD

Washington, D. C., Aug. 2 (AP)—Government war spending in July was $7,324,000,000, which was $123,000,000 more than in July a year ago, according to figures appearing in the daily treasury statement for the last day of July, issued today.

The proposed 20 billion dollar cut in war spending for the fiscal year which is now one month old—a cut forecast by the budget bureau—will not begin to show up until later in the fiscal year.

Not counting government corporations, total federal spending in July was $8,557,000,000, compared with $8,109,000,000 in July, 1944. Receipts in July were $2,695,000,000, compared with $2,163,000,000 in July a year ago.

BIDS FOR RELIEF REACH HIGHEST MARK IN 3 YEARS

Nine hundred persons applied to the Chicago welfare administration for relief last month, the highest number in any month in the last three years, George J. Klupar, welfare commissioner, reported yesterday.

A study of the applications is being made to determine if the increase was seasonal or indicates a trend caused by production cutbacks since the end of the war in Europe. Last month the CWA gave aid to 28,000 persons in 15,350 families.

DENIES RATION STAMP GUILT

Thomas A. Golden, 32, of 3522 N. Bell av., charged with possession of 16,738 counterfeit ration stamps, pleaded not guilty yesterday. Federal District Judge Elwyn R. Shaw continued the case to Aug. 13.

GIs IN BERLIN PROVE SHREWD YANKEE TRADERS

Extract $3,000,000 in 1 Month's Sales

BERLIN, Aug. 2 (AP)—American occupation troops hit a bonanza in Berlin from which they extracted some $3,000,000 in cold cash in July by sales of watches, "liberated" cameras, cigarets, candy bars, and foodstuffs, American authorities disclosed.

From July 9 to July 27, army post offices wrote money orders for $1,600,000 and sold $65,000 worth of war bonds. Long lines of soldiers still form daily before the money order and war bond windows.

An additional $1,491,000 was put in personal transfer accounts whereby a soldier leaves his surplus cash in the hands of his commanding officer, and another $500,000 was placed in soldiers' deposits. In the latter case, the money is handed to the soldier upon discharge, unless an emergency arises and he needs it beforehand.

Extra $100 Apiece

The army pay roll here was about $100,000 in June, and probably about the same in July. It was evident from this that there was an extra $100 apiece floating around for the 30,000 soldiers here, and that the money came from "outside" sources.

The most lucrative trade was in the sale of wrist watches to the Russians, who have shown an amazing weakness for timepieces. Some watches sold for as high as $1,200. Deals at $600 are commonplace.

Russian soldiers, who had collected as much as three years back pay, have a preference for blackfaced, luminous dial watches with sweep second hands. However, they are ready prospects for any wrist watch that ticks.

Can't Sell Army Issue

There is no law against an American soldier selling his own watch, or cigarets, or candy and other foodstuffs received from home. But there is a strict ban on trading anything issued by the army or purchased thru post exchanges.

Taking cognizance of the Berlin situation, Maj. Gen. Floyd L. Parks, commander of American forces here, issued an order July 24 calling attention to regulations forbidding black market dealings in captured or allied currency, and ordered severe punishment for those found guilty.

The general, at the same time, directed unit commanders to pass upon all applications for money orders, war bonds, personal transfer accounts, and soldiers' deposits.

$180,000 in Day

On the day before the general's action, $180,000 passed thru the money order windows—the army post offices' biggest single day. The day he acted the money order and war bond windows were closed down and stayed that way for two days.

When they reopened on July 26, business slacked off to $98,000 for the day, and has kept on at that daily average.

"The boys have gone money crazy," said one officer. "When they heard watches were going for hundreds of dollars, chocolate bars for $5 apiece, and cigarets for $10 a pack, they sent rush orders home for their people to stock them up by airmail."

We'd better fix that hole in the roof, Chief. That squirrel thinks he's hiding nuts up there.

GERMAN PAPERS RESTRICTED TO NEWS FROM OWI

BY HENRY WALES

(Chicago Tribune Press Service)

BERLIN, Germany, Aug. 2—Brig. Gen. Robert A. McClure of Madison, Ind., director of the American information control service, said today that the German newspapers' foreign news will be furnished them by OWI, and they will be prohibited from publishing any other news from the United States.

With the rigid censorship the army is imposing on domestic German news, the result is that every controversial, or dissenting, or criticizing line is blue penciled.

"We aim to impress on the German people that every one is guilty of the aggression and atrocities of the Nazis and militarists," said McClure, "and to correct the German people's misconceptions about the United States and appraise them of the reasonableness and justice of American views.

Relax Control Soon

"We will make available to the pro-democratic elements in Germany all facilities to make themselves heard. Our desire is to relax control as rapidly as possible, but first we want to make sure of the anti-nazi character of Germans who will be permitted to carry on newspaper, film, and radio activities."

Gradually, McClure will permit hand picked Germans to publish newspapers, first with pre-censorship, then with post-censorship. The first license has been issued to the Frankfurter Rundschau. This is controled by a board of seven men, representing all religious and political parties, and presided over by a Communist.

Reporters asked how the seven men would ever agree on formulating the policy of the newspaper, but the answer was that the paper will have no policy—printing only material from OWI and army sources.

Seeks Radio Station

McClure is anxious to obtain a radio station in Berlin, as the sole transmitter now functioning is located in the Russian zone, and the soviets use it constantly, broadcasting news and political propaganda.

Theaters will soon be permitted to open, and OWI will supply the list of American plays they consider proper. Twenty movie houses are open in various German cities, but they show only news reels and propaganda pictures thus far. Selected features are promised soon.

Rust Cuts Into Beams of Bridge

Repairs Under Way

The Harrison st. bridge, closed for repair work on June 26, could not have remained in service more than another 30 days, Stephen J. Michuda, city bridge engineer, declared yesterday after repair work revealed deterioration far beyond that shown by preliminary tests.

Temporary repairs costing $70,000 are being made to the bridge, built in 1905 at a cost of $237,630. Plans for a new bridge costing $1,300,000 were abandoned because of material shortages. A previous bridge was built at this point in 1877 at a cost of $34,900.

Michuda said demolition of pavement at the bridge approaches disclosed that some cross beams were rusted almost completely thru and the counter-weights also badly rusted. The preliminary survey showed rusting girders and a three inch sway.

END HEARING IN NEWSPAPER CONTEMPT CASE

Corpus Christi, Tex., Aug. 3 (AP)—Counsel waived argument today at the contempt of court hearing against three Corpus Christi newspaper men, and court recessed awaiting a decision which County Judge Joe D. Browning said he would render at 10 a. m. tomorrow.

Conway Craig, Caller Times publisher; Bob McCracken, managing editor, and Tom Mulvany, reporter, were summoned to the hearing, which began Tuesday, to answer allegations in Judge Browning's citation holding them in contempt and sentencing them to three days in jail.

The Caller Times, which presented no witnesses, has said it would press the case to the Supreme court if necessary.

Judge Browning's citation said the newspaper reports were made while the case—a suit of forcible entry and detainer—was still pending last May. The stories were based on two resolutions by the Corpus Christi Soldiers and Sailors' Advisory council, criticizing the court's actions at the trial.

Missing

MISS JEAN SEARS

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 2 (AP)—A student nurse who left a note saying she was "a psychiatric case" has been missing from Temple University hospital for four days. In announcing the disappearance of Jean K. Sears, 19, of Baltimore, Detective Richard Ambrose said she left this note: "Dear dad: Your daughter is very ill. This is a psychiatric case and it's better this way. In my own way I love you all and know you'll understand. Jean."

Ambrose said an investigation revealed the girl had suffered a fall recently, injuring her leg so that she walked with a slight limp. The investigation disclosed that the pain of the injury had preyed on her mind, he added.

Cyclist, 17, Hitching Ride on Truck Trailer Is Killed

Edward Sewnig, 17, of 4848 Princeton av., was killed yesterday when he fell from his bicycle under the right rear wheel of a motor truck trailer on which he was hitching a ride, in Pershing rd., near Iron st. Witnesses said the driver, who did not stop, apparently was unaware of the accident.

DOUGLAS FIELD MAY BE ANSWER TO AIRPORT NEED

Could Be Used Soon if Army Consented

is used by the central procurement district of the air forces, but yesterday housed only one small biplane while three other twin engined craft were parked on the apron outside.

The army has given blanket permission to airlines to use the Douglas port in emergencies, but will not permit it to be used as a regular alternate to Chicago airport. No scheduled commercial liner has landed there since the port's construction. Douglas field has an added advantage in that it frequently can operate when Chicago airport is closed down by a combination of fog and factory smoke.

Simultaneous with the disclosure that this ready made airport lies available for auxiliary use by Chicago if arrangements can be made with the army, Public Works Commissioner Hewitt released a report showing a tremendous increase in traffic at Chicago airport.

60% Increase at Chicago Airport

Hewitt said that in the first seven months of this year 44,892 aircraft landed or took off at Chicago port, an increase of 60.8 per cent over the 27,912 planes that used its facilities in the same period of 1944. Passengers in and out for the period increased in number 56.7 per cent, from 452,015 in 1944 to 708,526 this year. The figures covered scheduled flight operations.

Nonscheduled flights for the period, mostly military, increased from 33,933 in 1944 to 40,732 this year, while mail handled increased from 9,003,506 pounds in 1944 to 11,359,315 pounds in 1945. Hewitt said that the airport has a large unused capacity in runways but that other facilities are not adequate for a traffic increase.

Mayor Kelly said yesterday that he considered appointment of a committee of civic, business, and aviation leaders to select the site of the new alternate terminal he has demanded so important that he wants more time to "think it over" and to report to the city council.

City hall observers said, however, that three men were almost certain to be named. They are Commissioner Hewitt, Merrill C. Meigs, chairman of the Chicago Aero commission, and Ald. Grealis (44th) chairman of the city council committee on aviation.

$300,000 ADDITION TO BE BUILT AT DOUGLAS PLANT

The Douglas Aircraft company yesterday announced the army will construct a $300,000 addition to the company's Chicago plant, Higgins and Mannheim rds., by fall. The two story, 90 by 235 feet, steel and brick of concrete structure will be west of the assembly building.

It will provide space for completing army construction changes in Douglas' C-54 four motored Skymaster transport plane. The changes will eliminate fuselage tanks in favor of more wing tanks, and release space for cargo.

The company also announced it is seeking 400 workers a week to train on the job.

Fordham Confers Degree on 'The Guerrilla Padre'

New York, Aug. 2 (AP)—Fordham university today conferred the honorary degree of doctor of laws on Rev. James E. Haggerty, Jesuit superior on Mindanao, famed as "the guerrilla padre" who rallied and led Filipino resistance forces in a continuing fight to preserve Philippine independence against Japanese invaders. The degree was conferred by the Rev. Robert I. Gannon, Fordham president, in his university office.

CHICAGO NAVY GUNNER'S MATE KILLED BY FALL

Daniel Willard Buric, 28, a navy gunner's mate, died yesterday in Treasure Island hospital after falling from the fourth floor window of a San Francisco hotel Wednesday night, his wife, Blanche, 2105 S. 58th av., Cicero, learned yesterday. He had been in the navy two years. Charles L. Nalley, a sailor, who registered at the hotel with Buric, told police he was asleep and did not know how Buric happened to fall.

Chicago Daily Tribune
THE WORLD'S GREATEST NEWSPAPER

FOUNDED JUNE 10, 1847

10 ★★ FRIDAY, AUGUST 3, 1945

ENTERED AS SECOND CLASS MATTER MAY 14, 1903, AT THE POSTOFFICE AT CHICAGO, ILL., UNDER ACT OF MARCH 3, 1879.

All unsolicited articles, manuscripts, letters, and pictures sent to The Tribune are sent at the owner's risk, and The Tribune company expressly repudiates any liability or responsibility for their safe custody or return.

WHAT SHOULD HAVE COME FROM POTSDAM

As these lines are being written the communique announcing the results of the Potsdam conference is expected momentarily and appears in this edition of THE TRIBUNE. Rather than discuss the text on the basis of a hasty reading, we prefer to indicate the agreements that should have been reached, in the hope that by doing so we may help clarify judgment regarding the work of the conference.

At the outset, however, a word of caution should be uttered. The official communique probably will be a work of art or, rather, of artfulness, like the one which followed the Yalta meeting. A great many people all over the world thought from a first reading of the Crimean document that it promised a decent and honorable settlement of the Polish question with which it was largely concerned. In fact, as we now know and as a careful reading of the communique made clear at the time, Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Churchill gave Mr. Stalin everything he wanted. They got minor and inconsequential changes in the outward appearance of the Polish government; he got the government and he got Poland. He also got, as we learned subsequently, for the subject was not even mentioned in the communique, the promise of three seats in the assembly of the San Francisco league.

What should the conference at Potsdam have done?

First of all, it should have brought Russia into the war against Japan and committed her in detail to the maximum effort of which she is capable in bringing that conflict to a speedy conclusion. Russia should have agreed to play her part with no more thought of territorial gain than we had in joining the European conflict. That is to say, Russia should have pledged herself unequivocally to demand neither territory nor concessions in Asia at the expense of China or any other power. In particular, she should have promised hands off Manchuria and Korea.

It may be said that this is too much to expect. Any one who takes that view of the matter is merely saying that the system of collective security which is supposed to have been created at San Francisco is a fraud. It is precisely the devotees of San Francisco who should insist most strongly that Russia join in the war against Japanese aggression and join it without expectation of profit to be gained at the expense of our ally China.

As to Europe, the conference should have recognized the obvious fact that the continent is in torment and that the first duty of statesmanship is to revive Europe's economy. To do that will require some positive decisions and some negative, self-denying ones, on the part of the victors. The latter are the more important.

In the first place there should be no division of the continent into an eastern and a western economic sphere, divided by the line of the Elbe and the Adriatic. Events have been moving in recent months toward such an unnatural separation which can only intensify the prevailing misery and political unrest on both sides of the line.

In the second place, the scheming for reparations must be postponed at least until there has been a sufficient revival in Europe to give some reason to think that reparations can be paid. There is no reason whatsoever to delay a decision declaring flatly against slave labor now or at any time. The war prisoners should be returned, all of them, and at once, to their homes, the only exceptions being those who will be maltreated by their governments if they return. Slave labor can only aggravate the present difficulties of Europe and build new hates.

The symbol of what ought to have been accomplished at Potsdam is the Ruhr. Here is Europe's most productive industrial region. It is inconceivable that western Europe can escape from her difficulties until the Ruhr is again pouring out her characteristic products. They are what Europe needs most at this time: materials for bridges, locomotives, freight cars, and the coal to heat her houses and provide power for her factories. The other day it was reported that the Ruhr mines are producing only a tenth of their normal output.

For the moment it is of no great importance which nation or combination of nations is placed in charge of the facilities. What is of primary importance is the creation of conditions which will bring the region back into production at the earliest moment. Measures, if any can be devised, to prevent the misuse of the basic industries for future warmaking can and should be taken, but for the moment it is of first importance to get European industry started anew.

The notion is prevalent, even in this country, that America can supply Europe's basic needs for the next year or two out of our surplus. That is nonsense and dangerous nonsense. Our 130,000,000 people cannot support twice their number in Europe in addition to themselves.

What Europe needs is a relaxation of hate and a revival of hope. If the Potsdam conference didn't provide both it failed.

EXILE PREFERRED

From the headquarters of the British army in Germany comes the news that half a million Poles in that area have refused to return to their homes tho travel accommodations were available. Similar reports have come from the American zone where other hundreds of thousands of these unfortunate people find themselves.

When the slave labor camps and the military prisons were overrun, almost every American, Englishman, Frenchman, Belgian, and Hollander who had been held in them seized the opportunity to start homeward. Those who couldn't get on a railroad train set off on bicycles. Those who couldn't find bicycles walked. The only people who remained behind were those whose countries had been overrun by the Red army. The Poles are merely the most numerous of the national groups that have refused to be repatriated. The liberated Baltic and Balkan prisoners have made the same choice.

Some day, it may be supposed, there will be plebiscites in the areas conquered by the Russians to decide what form of government the people desire. Thus lip service will be paid to the Atlantic Charter and the Russians will point to the 95 per cent majorities in their favor to prove that their rule is welcomed. Just what forms of terror and just what means of electoral trickery will bring about the results remain to be seen, but meanwhile we know from the action of the Poles in the American and British zones what their countrymen really think. They have shown that in their judgment anything—even exile among strangers in a devastated country facing the most severe deprivations—is better than they can expect at home under Russian rule.

Those who are forever saying that America's highest duty is to coöperate with our great allies never seem to realize that we did coöperate at Yalta with results which cannot promote the cause of peace or enhance our reputation for good faith, good sense, and common decency.

"BLIND, STUPID, AND CRIMINAL"

Acting Secretary Patterson's plan for discharging skilled railroad men from the army is inadequate to break the transportation jam caused by the army's own redeployment blunders. His proposals are of a piece with the hoarding of unneeded soldiers by the bureocrats and chair-borne generals which Sen. Johnson of Colorado has rightly denounced as "blind, stupid, and criminal."

Mr. Patterson's proposal is to release 1,362 men with railroad experience this month. He proposes to let out an additional 6,000 men by the end of the year. Before then the transportation crisis, or its peak at least, should be over.

The army's own figures show that any such rate as this would be pitifully inadequate. It is sponsoring a program to recruit 65,000 civilians to help run the railroads. It is doubtful whether such a labor force will be of much help to the railroads. Most of the men will be inexperienced. The experienced railroad men are in the army. There are 300,000 of them there. The best that the army, thru Mr. Patterson, offers is to release less than one in 40 of these experienced railroaders, and the majority of these after the greatest need for their services will have passed.

It is obvious that Patterson and his generals aren't going to do anything willingly to solve the transportation crisis. The only way to meet it is, as we suggested the other day, to tell them what to do, and not ask them. Let the railroads, thru the ODT, name the men they want back and make it obligatory on the army to get them back without delay. If they haven't the points to discharge them from the army, let them be furloughed. The main thing is to get them to work at once to break the railroad traffic jam which was caused by brass hat blundering and the failure to consult the railroads on the redeployment plan.

Secretary Ickes is also trying to get men out of the army. He wants 30,000 coal miners and paints a dire picture of suffering this year because of an impending coal shortage. He will be lucky if he gets a tenth of this number, if the experience of the railroads is any index. At the same time that he is warning American consumers to prepare to suffer, Mr. Ickes is demanding 6 million tons of American coal for shipment to Europe, where he alleges it is necessary to "prevent anarchy."

If Mr. Ickes got the discharge of all the soldier-miners he is asking for, it would take them nearly two months to mine just the coal that he wants to send abroad. By the time that coal was laid down in Europe, it would cost in money and man effort from three to five times as much as the same amount of coal does from European mines.

Obviously, the place to get coal for Europe is in Europe. Europe's mining facilities have not been so greatly damaged by war as most of its other equipment, and the transportation difficulties of moving coal on the continent will be just as great for American coal landed at European seaports as they will be for coal produced in Europe.

Gen. de Gaulle and his national assembly, to pick an example, have devoted the last six months to political maneuvering and bickering without making any serious effort to rebuild the economic and industrial machinery of France. If they are going to neglect the welfare of their own people in this fashion, it is hardly the duty of Americans to deprive themselves in order to remedy the deficiencies.

Mr. Ickes and his talent for vituperation might, with great profit, be transferred to Europe, where he could abandon his favorite game, the American people, and advise the Europeans to dig or freeze.

WE'D RATHER BE HOT THAN HUNGRY

The only trouble with the smart alecks who go around asking whether it is hot enough for you is that they inquire in the right quarters. If they posed the question in Bloomington or Champaign, or Oskaloosa, Ia., or Lafayette, Ind. (pronounce the first syllable with a long a), they would escape damage to their persons and apparel, and also would get a reasoned reply.

Corn is really a tropical plant. The crop got a late start this season. We'll be well contented if it hits 90 every day from now until Sept. 15, with a good heavy thunderstorm every fourth or fifth night. We'd rather be uncomfortable now than hungry next winter.

Our philosophical approach to the matter may, of course, arise in part from the fact that the foresighted management of this enterprise air conditioned The Tribune Tower in 1934.

COLLECTOR'S ITEM

When you see Vincent Starrett trudging around town with a brief case big enough for an admiral, you may be sure that it contains rare chunks of printed matter from the bargain bins of the secondhand bookshops, for he prowls those joints like a character in a novel by Anatole France. Out of his bibliophile's pouch, the other day, came a 25 cent item which he donated to this column as a possible source of tidbits of Chicagoana. Its title: "Stories by the Original Jawn McKenna from Archey Road."

* * *

"Vincent," we said, "this is hot stuff for any library's shelf of books by and about Finley Peter Dunne. The original Jawn McKenna was one-half of the original Mr. Dooley."

* * *

Dunne's humorous sketches in Irish dialect started with two characters from life: James McGarry, disguised as Col. McNeary, a Dearborn st. saloon keeper, and John J. McKenna, a politician. McGarry objected to his exploitation, but McKenna reveled in the publicity. They faded out of the picture when Dunne's colloquial essays took the familiar form in which Mr. Dooley of Archey road does the talking and his friend Hennessy the listening.

* * *

Elmer Ellis says in his biography of Dunne: "McKenna was a small-time Irish politician, honest, friendly, likable, and possessed of considerable earthy humor. He was a Republican from the Democratic stronghold of Bridgeport on Archer av., and secured his living out of small political jobs that were his reward for leading his party's forlorn hopes in that area. . . . As the Dooley essays developed, McKenna became the one active character unquestionably drawn from life and traveling under his own name."

* * *

BOMBER COMMAND

"Six hundred planes; six hundred Super Forts . . ."
In crisp, precise, well modulated tones
The commentator tells the story much
As if he'd been with them himself to sweat
Each mission out. . . . "The greatest raid to date!"
The perfect diction galls. A dozen names
Sweep over me at once. I twist the dial . . .
A dozen names like Boyd and Mollerskov;
Like Jimmy Copple, tall and lank and young,
A sucker for a touch or for a blonde.
Like Jackie James, like Nanny, Charlie Hall,
And fifty faces never linked to names.
On Saipan now? On Tinian or Guam?

Six hundred Super Forts! I can recall
The stuff they had to have; the tools, the nails,
The razor blades, the soap, the set of drums,
The thousand little things like string and stuff
We couldn't get but did. And I recall
An autumn night, the toasts, then—"Auld Lang Syne."
The tune was off, the harmony was bad,
But, arms across each other's backs, we sang!
The bold, the doubtful and the wild, arms clasped
We sang!

Across dim fear-filled miles of sea
They fly in Super Forts. And as I wait
Glib commentators keep me up to date.

Pass the Pipe of Peace

Long ago, when South Chicago was a swamp area with a winding river that flowed to Lake Michigan, a group of Indians gathered to make peace among themselves. Their war was over. With few words they reached their agreement, and silently passed around the calumet, their pipe of peace.

From their conference the district received its name—the Calumet region. Perhaps no Indian ever fought another in this area where peace became so important as to leave its name on the land. How changed it is today!

A girdle of smoking chimneys forms a jagged picket fence around the Calumet. From its industries comes an endless stream of the goods of war. We can't help but remember the silent, pipe-smoking Indians who established peace here. The modern counterparts of their spears and arrows would be frightening monsters to them.

O Great Spirit of the Red Man, hear the voice of those who have come after him and show them the way to find peace! Reach down thru this mantle of smoke and dust and hand us the calumet.

The lady who keeps our place more or less immaculate failed to show up the other day. I remonstrated with her, as this absenteeism was becoming frequent.

"You can't take a day off just when you feel like it," I said

"Ah didn't take no day off," she protested indignantly. "Ah jes' overslep'."

It is fun these hot days to think of the line of Santas we saw last Christmas walking to their stations, each carrying his own chimney.

Friend of the Yanks

[The Friend of the Yanks will answer questions of service men, veterans, and their dependents by mail if stamped envelope is sent to 435 N. Michigan av. The Tribune's veterans' bureau, 1 S. Dearborn st., Superior 0800, gives personal interviews.]

Mrs. T. S. asks: "How soon will my husband be discharged from the navy under the point system? He is 34, has been in service four years, and has five battle stars and a Presidential unit citation."

According to the information supplied, your husband will not be eligible for point discharge for two years. He now has 46 points and needs 53. One point is given for each year of age and one point for each four months of active duty. Thus he has 34 plus 12, or 46 points. In two years he will have 36 points for age and 18 for time in service for a total of 54.

Mrs. G. S. asks: "Will a widow who received pension because of the death of a son in action lose the pension if she is married again?"

Not because of the marriage alone, but perhaps because the dependency for which she is receiving a pension ceases to exist. Remarriage of dependent parents is not a bar to continuation of the pension as it is to the widow of service men. However, proof of the dependency must be sufficient to satisfy the administrator of the veterans' administration.

L. D. asks: "Must I employ a lawyer to represent me if my former employer declines to reinstate me in my old job?"

No. The United States attorney for the district in which your employer is located will represent you at no cost if he is satisfied you have a reasonable claim to reinstatement.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made, under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

A CIRCULATORY DISEASE IN THE YOUNG

YOUNG men may be attacked by a circulatory disorder which can prove as incapacitating as severe arteriosclerosis in the aged. This condition is called "thromboangiitis obliterans" is more frequently referred to as "Buerger's disease," after the physician who fully described it.

The cause remains a mystery. It behaves like an inflammation but, to date, scientists have been unable to find the responsible germ. On only one occasion has the ailment been transmitted from one individual to another and this was purely by accident, when a surgeon punctured his finger on a sharp piece of infected bone. There is some evidence that it may be related to typhus fever and others consider ringworm of the feet as a possible origin.

Since almost every victim is a heavy smoker, tobacco seems to play a part. This is further substantiated by the observation that manifestations decrease on giving up the weed and tend to recur if the habit is resumed.

The walls of the arteries are affected principally and the damage may be so great that the passage of blood is obstructed completely. Should this befall the channels supplying one of the large toes, pain develops, with associated coldness and blanching. Unless the process is controled the color of the skin deepens and the foundation is laid for ulcers or gangrene. As a general rule first one foot and then the other is involved. Later, similar changes may be noted in the hands.

Near-by veins may undergo alterations, resulting in phlebitis. If the arteries are disturbed, symptoms are aggravated because of the resulting neuritis. When distress occurs in the calf muscles on walking [intermittent claudication], standing still for a few minutes will permit the circulation to reach the parts.

Treatment is of no avail unless the sufferer absolutely discontinues the use of tobacco. The patient should always favor his extremities in order to ward off complications. Injury and exposure to cold should be avoided as they tend to reduce the blood flow still further. Ringworm infections are a potential source of trouble but care must be exercised in eradicating the parasites not to inflict serious burns. It must be remembered that the tissues are far from normal and strong solutions, such as tincture of iodine or silver nitrate, should never be employed. The wearing of well fitting shoes and socks is a precaution against blister formation and scrupulous cleanliness will aid in preventing infections. All these procedures are necessary if the limbs are to be saved.

Measures may be taken to dilate the impaired structures. All are familiar with the flushing of the skin when fever is present. During this period, all the arteries are wide open, bringing warm blood to the surface. The same situation may be created artificially by means of typhoid vaccine, with marked benefit. In early cases, a more lasting effect can be produced by performing an operation on the sympathetic nerves leading to the extremities. These fibers carry the impulses which narrow the openings of the arteries. When severed, improvement in circulation is noted.

The malady is confined chiefly to the male sex. Perhaps now that so many women have become chain smokers, they will be afflicted more frequently.

UNEQUAL

Mrs. F. T. writes: My daughter, 13 years old, is quite thin. The calf of one leg is stouter than the other. Please advise.

REPLY

A complete examination may be necessary to determine the cause of enlargement of one or diminution of the other. If no abnormality can be found it is likely that the child has favored the more developed side. Remember that no one is entirely symmetrical—not even the movie stars.

NOT FROM THE OPERATION

G. H. writes: Does a person usually suffer from colitis after an appendix operation?

REPLY

Inflammation of the colon may exist before, during, or after the appendix is removed. So-called colitis may mean a spastic bowel and, in the majority of cases, mental tension is responsible.

SUN ON HEAD

E. G. E. writes: Do you believe a small child should wear a hat when in the hot summer sun?

REPLY

During any lengthy exposure it is advisable to protect the head from the direct rays.

London Letter

[Or keeping up with the other side of the world with the aid of Jim Sloan, Tribune war correspondent:]

It is reliably reported that during a brief adjournment of the Petain trial caused by the excessive heat in the courtroom, an attendant was dispatched to bring in cooling drinks for the jurors and attaches. He returned with bottles of Vichy water.

A British sergeant just returned from Germany tells a story of nonfraternization in reverse. He was in charge of several German women working, by military order, for the allies. On the day Montgomery relaxed the nonfrat ban, one woman asked permission to go home for half an hour to welcome her husband, who had just returned from a Russian prison camp. She did not return to work that day, or the next, or the next. When an m. p. went to her home, her husband said: "My wife's not going back to work. I don't approve of her fraternizing with the British."

Jack Thompson, the Tribune's man with a beard [who parachuted into action twice with American air borne troops], probably will take a dim view of the announcement that in Burma mules now are being enlisted as full fledged paratroopers and decorated with neat little parachute "wings" on their collars. Of course, Jack is still ahead. No mule could ever grow a beard like his. And nobody ever dropped him just so he could lug supplies to an army. But, on the other hand, what mule ever lost a typewriter?

The Laborite Daily Herald ran into this pertinent little typographical error in a recent report on the election campaign. Quoting a Stanley Baldwin speech in 1930 in which the late prime minister castigated Lord Beaverbrook, now Churchill's No. 1 boy, it alleged that he said:

"The Lloyd George candidates at the last election [1918] smelt; the last election [1918] smelt; these will stink."

Which seems to sum it up succinctly in any election campaign.

A lot of London correspondents will agree, too, with this recent typographical error in the Daily Telegraph: "Disposition of the pests in the new Polish government is expected to be announced, immediately."

An English professor who was a great stickler for using the exact word had for years been schooling his wife against her speech errors. One day she caught him kissing his pretty young secretary. "Really, John, I'm surprised," she said. The professor looked at her sadly. "After all the trouble I have taken!" he moaned. "What you should say is 'I am astonished.' It is I who am surprised."

An American flyer in Africa made friends with an old native who lived near the air field where he was assigned. Attempting to teach him basic English, he would point out another native and say, "Man," and the native would repeat it after him. Gratified by such success, the officer pointed out other items which the native laboriously identified in the American's very words. Then a plane flew overhead. The flyer pointed to it and asked, "What?" The native looked up and said quietly, "I'm not sure. It looks like a B-24, but it might be a B-29."

A DRAFT BOARD HELPS THE RAIL LABOR SHORTAGE

Chicago, July 26—For the last few days the papers have carried the news, also the army with loud speakers have paraded the streets, "Work for the railroads. They need men."

Yeah? Our welder on the last shift, Milwaukee coach yards, Western av., reports for induction Saturday. He's married and has at least one child. Now who is holding up the war work? He is no kin of mine, I hardly know the man. But he is an experienced railroad man. If you wish to move soldiers, just why not leave experienced railroad men in their place to take care of that?

W. E. SCOTT

"SOCIALIST BY COMPASSION"

Chicago, July 30—A radio commentator, discussing the result and the meaning of the British general election, said that while Prof. Harold J. Laski was a Socialist by intellect, Prime Minister Clement Attlee was a Socialist by compassion. He went on to explain that Attlee, Oxford graduate and son of a successful London lawyer, became a Socialist because of the social conditions he observed in the Limehouse district of London.

There is something profoundly and grimly significant in this statement about Attlee. It should not be lost on America. It is this: Attlee, product of the caste system, wants to help the "working classes." Shades of Walt Whitman and Ralph Waldo Emerson! I hope it will not happen in America. In America we are all workers and there is no room for "classes." In America people instinctively help themselves by production and mutually advantageous coöperation.

Heaven help America if it ever can be said that a President was elected who was a "Socialist by compassion." America would then be completely Europeanized and on the toboggan back to European standards of living arranged from above. It would be backtracking from all the blessings and material benefits of the onward march of the American revolution in thought, act, and accomplishment. Emphatically "compassionate" legislation is not the American way.

SCRAMBLED EGGS ON HIS CAP?

Fort Wayne, Ind., July 24—I wonder what his egg hungry countrymen would have thought of the one pip British officer at breakfast last Sunday in the Victorian room of the Palmer House when, on being served his poached eggs, he said to the waiter, "But I ordered them underdone; these are overdone. Perhaps we'd better try an omelet, instead." So the overdone eggs [count 'em, two] went out with the melon rind.

Or is it cricket to mention the incident at all?

I'd certainly like to know why the 10 beautiful courts at Sheridan rd. and Addison st. are so securely locked and so desolately netless? Perhaps the park district fears some hardworking taxpayers or war worker might sneak in an hour's recreation here and there.

WHAT WE SAID 43 YEARS AGO

Chicago, July 30—Your editorial entitled "A Fraud Defeated" in your July 28 issue is about as completely removed from a fair and honest discussion as it is possible to make an editorial. Without attempting to correct all factual errors, permit me to write that the following statement is completely false: "The proponents of change in the constitution have at no time been honest enough to acknowledge just what sections in it they want to change."

THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE in 1902, after changing its position, advocated a constitutional convention for Illinois. At that time it stated that the Illinois constitution "has outlived its usefulness. It is not the Ark of the Covenant. It has no sacred qualities. We may touch it without dropping dead." But stated improvements could not be introduced because the "rock-ribbed, ironclad, remorseless constitution" stood in the way. Again on Nov. 2, 1918 THE TRIBUNE had a long editorial advocating the calling of a constitutional convention, and in this editorial it set forth certain specific reasons for its position.

However, it is only necessary to call attention to the fact that on Jan. 13, 1945, at the weekly forum held at the City Club of Chicago 17 specific reasons were listed for altering the Illinois constitution thru a constitutional convention. THE TRIBUNE published some of this address on the following day.

CAN FORCE SALE

Chicago, Aug. 1—I am the heir of one of four people who bought a piece of property in Lake county as tenants in common. The house has gone to ruin and I wish to have the property sold to get my share of the proceeds. The others are not willing to sell, in spite of the fact that they have not kept up the taxes. Is there any legal action I can take to force sale of the property?

DAY by DAY on the FARM by GAIL COMPTON

Aug. 2, 1945.

OLDTIMERS would have gotten a kick out of activities at the Fox river farm yesterday. The men were firing up the big steam threshing engine in preparation for threshing oats next week.

This huge engine, looking like an ancient locomotive, is a favorite piece of equipment at the farm. The manager does all his threshing with it, besides handling the grain on seven other farms. He contends it is the only way to handle grain, and would not take a combine if it were given him.

Readying for Harvest

The men were checking over the engine and also the big separator. On Monday they expect to start work on a neighboring farm. When they started to fill the boiler with water, a hose was connected and it took half a day for the hydraulic ram to pump the boiler full.

When the machine gets under way, it takes a crew of 23 men to keep it going. The mammoth separator, as big as three combines, will handle between 4,000 and 5,000 bushels of oats a day. It takes hard and steady work to keep the separator full of bundles.

23 Men Kept Busy

At threshing time, the engine is fired up early in the morning and does not shut down until noon. One man gives all his time on the separator to watching the belts and wheels, making sure they are greased and functioning properly. Another man is stationed on the engine to keep it fired up and running smoothly. A third man hauls water and does any other essential odd jobs. The other 20 men are pitching bundles in the field, hauling in the wagon loads, and feeding the oats into the thresher.

This year, as last, the threshing crew will eat in a town restaurant instead of at one of the farm homes. It will be necessary for the farmer having his grain threshed to supply the restaurant with meat so the hungry crewmen will be able to get all they want.

The big threshing outfit is owned by the Fox river farm and the work done on other farms is billed to the farmer. A charge of 2½ cents per bushel is made for oat threshing. Most threshing crews charge 3 cents a bushel. The 2½ cents permit the paying of all expenses and, usually, for the time of the Fox river farm men who help run the thresher.

The steam rig, once a familiar sight, now rapidly is becoming an oddity. Most farmers are using combines in the belief they have made great progress over the old days.

The GARDEN by Ben Markland

LEAF hoppers have been persistent pests this season on potatoes, snap beans, celery, and several other vegetables. Professional gardeners recognize this tiny green insect as one of the most destructive pests, but amateur gardeners often overlook it because it is small, and its damage to foliage is not spectacular.

Like aphids, leaf hoppers suck plant juice. They cause "tipburn" on potato leaves and a steady drying of other leaves. Their presence may be detected by shaking the bean or celery plants. They fly out in swarms.

The standard spray of two tablespoons of bordeaux mixture and the same amount of arsenate of lead in a gallon of water controls both potato beetles and leaf hoppers on potatoes. Pyrethrum is safer for use on beans. Any commercially packaged insecticide containing pyrethrum kills the insects. Vegetables may be reinfested, however. Therefore several applications may be necessary.

U. S. CASUALTIES INCREASE 1,855 IN LAST WEEK

Washington, D. C., Aug. 2 (AP)—American combat casualties increased 1,855 during the last week, raising the combined army-navy total to 1,060,727 since the start of the war.

War Secretary Stimson gave his news conference today the current army figures: 197,676 killed, 570,766 wounded, 34,734 missing, and 117,741 prisoners of war—a total of 920,917 casualties as reported thru July 29.

Navy casualties reported to date are 51,588 killed, 72,855 wounded, 11,611 missing, and 3,756 prisoners or a total of 139,810.

Stimson said that of the 570,766 army wounded, 351,317 have returned to duty and of the 117,741 army men listed as prisoners 95,709 have been since exchanged or returned to military control.

Australia Cuts Services by 75,198 in Two Years

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 2—John A. Beasley, defense minister, said in a Melbourne radio broadcast today that Australia's army, navy and air force had been cut to 558,174 men on June 30 from a high of 633,372 in August, 1943.

132D INFANTRY'S VETERANS TO BE MILITIA GUESTS

All 132d infantry members back from service are invited to a party planned in their honor by the 2d infantry of the Illinois reserve militia, the sponsors said yesterday. It will be given next Monday night in the armory at 2653 Madison st. Among those who will welcome the returned veterans are the Rev. J. Francis Gorman, regimental chaplain when the 132d was called to duty, now stationed at Gardiner General hospital, and Col. Lawrence J. Davidson, commanding the reserve regiment.

LE HAVRE LOSES ITS WAR TEMPO AND YANKS WAIT

BY HAL FOUST

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

LE HAVRE, France, July 25 [Delayed]—This main port of embarkation for America bound troops has lost it war time tempo. That is an obvious explanation of the tardiness in removing United States soldiers from Europe, altho it is more popular on the water front to blame the British and the French.

During July 212,000 soldiers are to board ships here for the United States, but the port director's office said the August schedule probably would be cut to 35,000 or 50,000 because transports would be shifted to Pacific service.

Even an untrained eye, however, can see here that the port itself is one bottleneck. On one afternoon six ships could be seen lying off harbor waiting for quay space or inside anchorage to be made available. Ships at the docks were being worked with two shifts, rather than the war time three shifts, and French civilian stevedores appeared to be taking their time.

Ship in 18 Days; Still Unloads

The Liberty ship George Shiras, in port for 18 days, was still unloading from the forward hatch while loading thru the aft hatch. Because the cargo was civilian goods, the French were doing the unloading. There was none of even the peace time hurry at American ports.

Port records show that a freighter handled by the French takes an average of 10 days to make a turn about, while a freighter carrying military cargo, which is handled by the United States army, takes seven days.

Cargo on the George Shiras included 4,000,000 pounds of synthetic rubber and 1,000,000 pounds of lamp black for tire manufacture. Already loaded was Hermann Goering's 8,800 pound limousine, consigned to Gen. Marshall, chief of staff.

Another Ship, Same Picture

The Liberty ship James Jackson, in port for eight days, presented a similar scene near-by. Cargo being leisurely unloaded included tractors, plows, cultivators, 600,000 pounds of used clothing for the united nations relief and rehabilitation administration, and 3,000,000 pounds of newsprint.

American salt water men at a fleet of a dozen tugs tied up at one quay, said the port's congestion, as far as embarking soldiers is concerned, could be relieved if British big passenger ships would call at Le Havre. They spoofed at an official explanation that the British refuse to call here because of navigation hazards.

Some American soldiers are being transported by water to Southampton, England, moved by rail to Glasgow, Scotland, and there loaded on British ships, a procedure that accumulates British reverse lend-lease charges against the United States as well as delays the return of soldiers.

A water tour of the harbor disclosed damage by allied air raids and German demolition squads. The French have estimated it will take 40 years and 10 billion francs to restore the properties. This is about $100,000,000 at the rate of exchange in New York, or $200,000,000 at the military rate of exchange.

The world's largest dry dock, designed to accommodate the luxury liner Normandy, has been blocked by two ships sunk by the Germans.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

Aug. 3—Beginning of the Middle West

TODAY is the 150th anniversary of the treaty of Greenville, which virtually destroyed British and Indian power in what is now Ohio and resulted eventually in the opening to peaceful settlement of the whole Northwest Territory.

After the Revolutionary war the United States theoretically possessed the lands between the Ohio river and the Great Lakes, but the practical problem was how to get them. Hostile Indians roamed the great forests, and British and Canadian agents circulated among them. The British even held forts in what was clearly American territory.

Between 1789 and 1792 the United States suffered two defeats—one of them disastrous—in its attempts to subjugate the Indians. Then President Washington selected "Mad Anthony" Wayne, his old Revolutionary war general, to head the next expedition into Indian territory.

Wayne painstakingly trained his men at Fort Washington, Cincinnati, then moved north in the fall of 1793 and built fort Greenville, on the present site of Greenville, O. To his own 2,600 troops were soon added 1,600 Kentucky militia.

Again he moved north, this time to the rich Indian lands along the Maumee. The Indians were strong and well equipped, but when they attacked Wayne's army they were decisively defeated and their power shattered. This was the battle of Fallen Timbers [Aug. 20, 1794].

Wayne now returned to Fort Greenville and awaited Indian peace emissaries. They were not long in coming. Preliminary pacts were prepared, and beginning in the early summer of 1795 there were seven weeks of negotiations and speech making. Some 1,130 Indians participated.

The treaty was signed Aug. 3, 1795. The Indians agreed to withdraw from much of the vast and rich territory they had been occupying. The next year the British gave up their posts on American territory. The stage was set for the middle west's phenomenal growth.

One of the tracts specifically mentioned in the treaty was an area of 36 square miles "at the mouth of the Chicago river, emptying into the southwest end of Lake Michigan, where a fort formerly stood." This was the future site of Chicago.

FORTY-FIVE YEARS

TODAY is the forty-fifth anniversary of the founding of The Firestone Tire and Rubber Company. I remember how proud and happy I was five years ago when I recalled the many contributions which the men and women of Firestone had made toward the progress of civilization during our first forty years. But little did I realize the problems, the sacrifices and the suffering which the following five years were to bring.

On this occasion I want to pay tribute to the 14,000 members of the Firestone organization on the fighting fronts for their service to their country and to the 95,000 on the home fronts for their loyalty, skill and efficiency in performing many miracles of production and distribution so essential to the war effort.

When the tragedy and treachery of Pearl Harbor blasted our country into war and cut America off from its principal sources of rubber, the fruits of many Firestone pioneering achievements suddenly became vital to the very existence of our nation. The rubber plantations, established by my father nearly twenty years ago in Liberia on the west coast of Africa, became one of the few sources of natural rubber which remained open to the United Nations. The score of years which Firestone research men had spent in studying various types of synthetic rubber and learning how to use them gave our Company an advantage in "know-how" which we gladly shared with the Government and with the rubber industry.

On the day war was declared, we dedicated all of our resources, our manufacturing facilities, our engineering experience and our scientific skill to the cause of victory. Our existing factories were converted with all possible speed to the manufacture of war materials and additional plants were built or leased. For example, we erected in just fifty working days, a huge new plant in which to make Bofors forty-millimeter anti-aircraft guns. But before a single gun could be built, we had to translate hundreds of blueprints from Swedish into English and from the metric system to American standards. In record time we found the way to produce these guns quicker, stronger and at lower cost by making numerous changes in design and by the use of welding instead of rivets. Since then, more than thirty thousand have been built. They played a leading role in the defeat of the Luftwaffe and recently we received word from the Navy Department that these guns are the most effective answer to Japanese suicide planes.

Today, there are forty-eight Firestone plants in nineteen states and ten in foreign countries. From these fifty-eight Firestone factories comes a continual flood of war materials. In the past five years, we have produced millions of tires for military vehicles and combat planes. We have also built millions of tires for civilian cars, trucks, buses and tractors so essential on the home front for transportation and power farming.

Products of the Firestone plants have seen service in every theater of war from Oran to Okinawa. Life vests, life belts, gas masks, bullet-sealing fuel and oil cells, shatterproof oxygen cylinders and inflatable rubber boats, like the ones which rescued Captain Eddie Rickenbacker and his gallant crew, have saved countless American lives. Firestone barrage balloons have guarded cities and convoys. In General Patton's daring dash across France, many of his fast-moving tanks rolled on Firestone tracks and bogie rollers over Firestone bridge pontons and fired their guns from Firestone-built turrets. Billions of machine gun bullets were fired from metallic belt links made by Firestone. Giant Curtiss Commando transport planes, flying on wings built by Firestone, have carried thousands of tons of precious cargo over the hump from India to China and, with Firestone-built gliders, have carried air-borne troops to their rendezvous with destiny behind the enemy lines in Europe.

These are a few of the different products we have made during the war from rubber, metals, plastics and textiles. Some of them are still secret, but I can tell you that Firestone bombs, mortars and rockets have wrought terrible destruction among our enemies.

Our Company was the first in the rubber industry to win the coveted Army-Navy "E" Award, and many of our men and women have been paid high tributes by the Government and by professional organizations. Our chairman, John W. Thomas, for example, was recently awarded the annual gold medal of the American Institute of Chemists for his outstanding leadership in the American synthetic rubber program.

Yes, ever since the first day of war, we at Firestone have been all-out for victory. During the world-shattering events of the past five years we have learned many things which will, in the postwar world, enable us to make products of even greater quality and value than in the past. As soon as the Government gives the word, we are prepared to reconvert our factories from wartime to peacetime production. When that happy event occurs, there will come from Firestone hundreds of new and better products for a new and better world.

WOLL HERALDS DRIVE TO SMASH BLACK MARKETS

Summons U. S. Bureaus to Conference Today

A drive against black market operators with coöperation of all federal agencies concerned with price control was announced yesterday by United States District Atty. J. Albert Woll. It will be part of the nation-wide move ordered by Atty. Gen. Clark and will be aimed, Woll said, at "speedy and vigorous" prosecution of all violators.

Woll arranged a conference for 3 p. m. today with metropolitan and regional directors of the office of price administration, the war production board, and the war food administration. Also asked to attend were representatives of the federal bureau of investigation and of the treasury department, which includes the secret service, alcohol tax unit, and intelligence unit.

War Declared on Racketeers

"The purpose of this conference is to enlist the aid of these agencies in the prompt apprehension, conviction, and punishment of black market operators," Woll said. "The handwriting is on the wall, and federal law enforcement agencies will see to it that these racketeers need no Daniel to interpret it for them."

Woll said he planned prosecution under federal income tax laws and "all other relevant federal laws," including the price control act. He named three assistants, all veterans of World War II, to give full time to the drive.

Three Assigned for Campaign

They are Raymond L. McClory, 41, graduate of Notre Dame law school, lieutenant commander in the navy from April, 1942, to March 18, 1945; Hugo Sonnenschein Jr., 28, medically discharged from the marines in July, 1943, after eight months' service, and Bernard H. Sokol, 28, who was in the army from March, 1943, until medically discharged in June, 1944. Sokol has been on Woll's staff 13 months. McClory and Sonnenschein were appointed a month ago.

They will be under direct supervision of Frances J. McGreal, assistant district attorney in charge of the criminal division of Woll's office. Another assistant, William J. McCormack, will continue to prosecute ration coupon counterfeiters, a special assignment on which he has been active for 18 months.

OPA Predicts More Food

Rae E. Walters, metropolitan OPA director, said that the drive should make more food available to the public.

"Closer coördination among federal agencies, plus public support, will force food out of the black market," he said. "Black market saboteurs will be exposed as enemies of their country."

BABY AWARDED $757,547 ESTATE OF LT. LLOYD

Boston, Mass., Aug. 2 [Special]—Tangley Campbell Lloyd, 16 months, today was awarded in Suffolk Probate court the $757,547 estate of her father, Lt. Demarest Lloyd Jr. of Dartmouth, Mass., navy pilot killed in action in the southwest Pacific a year ago.

The sum would have been Lt. Lloyd's inheritance had he lived until his 25th birthday. His father, the late journalist and publicist, willed him in trust a quarter of his estate, which included 70 shares of Chicago Tribune stock, with the provision that the principal of the trust be paid him in parts when he reached 25, 35, and 45.

Petition for distribution of Lt. Lloyd's inheritance was filed by his widow, Mrs. Nancy T. Lloyd of Hyannisport. It was contested by his mother, Mrs. Katharine Nordell Lloyd of Washington, D. C., a co-trustee of the family estate.

KEEPER BITTEN BY BEAR DIES; INQUEST TODAY

An inquest in the death of Anton Rauch, 59, of 1677 Olive av., keeper at the Lincoln park zoo, in Passavant hospital yesterday from injuries he suffered Monday when attacked by a 500 pound bear, will be held at 10 a. m. today in the chapel at 5501 N. Ashland av.

Rauch was cleaning the bear's cage when the animal seized him. He was bitten and clawed severely on the arms and head. Park Policeman Jack Lanning killed the bear with a sawed off shotgun. Rausch's right arm was amputated Monday night.

Rauch is survived by his widow, Anna, and two daughters, Sister Antona, a nun, and Mrs. Rose Kaiser. Services will be held at 10 a. m. tomorrow in St. Gregory's church.

UFE COLLECTS FUND TO FIGHT UNION MERGER

To build up a fund to fight a Congress of Industrial Organizations mandate that it merge with the United Automobile, Aircraft, and Agricultural Implement Workers union [CIO], the United Farm Equipment and Metal Workers union [CIO], is collecting a $1 assessment from the membership. The union claims to represent 70,000 workers.

The assessment was voted last week by the executive board of the UFE, which is communist dominated. Joseph Weber, organization director of the union and its nominal boss, is a Communist whose real name is Josip Ruic.

When the UFE voted the assessment last week, it notified the membership that it was to be used as a "defense fund against company wage cutting and union smashing activities in the reconversion period."

TUOHY PICKS AID TO KEEP EYE ON SERVICE WIVES

Adultery Action to Start with Filing of Bills

State's Atty. Tuohy yesterday assigned Collins Fitzpatrick, an assistant state's attorney in the county building office, to canvass divorce courts for evidence of adultery upon which to base criminal prosecutions.

Tuohy said special attention will be given cases involving misconduct of wives of soldiers and sailors serving overseas. Adultery charges set forth in divorce actions will be investigated, the state's attorney said, with a view to criminal prosecution of erring wives and their paramours.

State "Obligated" to Act

"In any charge of adultery in a divorce bill there is public record of the essence of a crime," Tuohy said. "We don't have any right to overlook that. It is certainly the state's obligation to follow up with criminal prosecution. Adultery is a crime, and a guilty person must be punished."

Tuohy asserted that the state has a solemn obligation to do all that is possible to help preserve the sanctity of the family.

"Particularly is this true in regard to men who are fighting for their country and their homes," he said. "I can conceive of no greater blow to the morale of a soldier than to learn that the home he has been fighting for has been broken up thru adulterous conduct."

Filings to Initiate Quizzes

Investigation of adultery charges will begin with the filing of divorce cases, Tuohy said, and will not wait until they are aired in court. The veracity of the charges, he said, often may be proved or disproved before the case is called. If the charges are proved, criminal prosecution can ensue; if found untrue, a fraud upon the divorce court can be prevented, he pointed out.

The state's attorney's plan was commended by judges and attorneys, who agreed that its effect would be salutary.

Circuit Judge Michael Feinberg, a veteran divorce judge now assigned to the Criminal bench, said:

"This is a capital action for State's Atty. Tuohy to take. Those guilty of adultery may not mend their ways, but their prosecution will deter women on the brink of misconduct.

Sees Need of Strictness

"My observations last year, when I handled hundreds of divorce cases, convinced me that tightening the laws on marriage and divorce will have a salutary effect upon those who marry without a serious understanding of their responsibilities and those who approach divorce with even less serious attitude."

Judge Frank M. Padden of the Superior court, now assigned to the Criminal calendar, said that his experience in divorce courts indicated that "many things happen which might be investigated."

"However, divorce courts are civil—no representative of the prosecuting agencies ever has been assigned there," he continued, "and even when the judge feels something should be looked into further, he is too busy, except in the most flagrant cases. Personally, I will welcome a representative of the state's attorney's office when I am on the divorce calendar, especially in cases where soldiers' wives have been unfaithful."

U. S. to Watch for Frauds

United States District Atty. Woll said the federal government's interest would be focused upon divorces involving wives' fraudulent acceptance of government allotment checks.

Atty. Samuel M. Starr, a divorce specialist, said adulterous wives should be prosecuted. "We will not stop immorality until examples have been made of a number of the guilty wives, and the men involved," he said.

Starr added that he believed the problem was sociological, and that a bureau of the friend of the court type should be established to counsel wayward wives, and try to set them "in the straight and narrow path."

20TH CENTURY LIMITED HAS FREAK MISHAP

The Twentieth Century Limited of the New York Central arrived in Chicago from New York yesterday with 34 windows broken as a result of a freak occurrence at Rome, N. Y., the previous evening. The Century and another train passed each other over a water trough, both filling their tanks, without stopping, by means of air suction machinery. An unusual atmospheric condition at the time caused a strong air pull that shattered the windows. An employe of the railroad said that he had not heard of such a thing in 40 years. No one was injured.

THE QUESTION

WHERE ASKED

Uptown Theater, 4814 Broadway.

THE ANSWERS

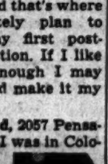
Bonnie Rae Yeaney, candy girl, 4906 Magnolia av.—My very best friend and I have been planning a post-war vacation since we were in school. We both agreed to save money for a trip to several of the national parks, then to the New England states and on thru Canada. We've been friends for years and we'll have fun.

Shirley Kirkpatrick, student, 4922 Winthrop av.—We used to live in Seattle, Wash., and have many friends there. It used to be possible to take a trip out there occasionally but it's been a long time since we've been there. Right after the war mother and dad, my brother, sister-in-law, nephew, and I are going for a long visit.

Joe Connors, tool grinder, 4857 Kenmore av.—I've been thinking that if they'd open up the Alaskan highway for tourists it would make an ideal vacation. Scenery would be new to most of us and fishing and hunting would be perfect. I've heard that they don't intend to use the road but here's hoping.

Pvt. Gloria Martin, WAC, 1134 Sunnyside av.—My mother and dad lived in Los Angeles for five years. They've always told me wonderful tales about California and that's where I definitely plan to spend my first post-war vacation. If I like it well enough I may decide to find a job and make it my home.

Staff Sgt. C. Gronlund, 2057 Pensacola av.—The last time I was in Colorado was in 1933. When the war ends and I'm out of uniform I intend to go to Denver, Colo. and spend about six months. I'm going to visit Pike's Peak, Estes Park, Canyon City, and all the gorgeous places that I've seen before.



FREE GIRL FOUND ASLEEP IN ARMS OF DEAD MAN

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 2 [Special]—Miss Wilma Pitts, 20, who was found asleep this morning in the embrace of her dead escort, Phillip Fishman, 26, in the front seat of his parked automobile, was given a lie detector test and then released from custody after police decided her companion had died of a self inflicted bullet wound.

Wilma Pitts

The girl said she and Fishman, a discharged serviceman, visited taverns last evening and that she fell asleep on the way home. She said she hadn't heard a gunshot. She knew of no reason, she said, why Fishman should take his life, but recalled he once had told her "a man should live only until he is 30 and should have all his fun before then."

Patrolmen who found the couple in the car, Fishman with his right arm around the girl, first thought both were asleep but discovered the man was dead from a bullet wound in the abdomen. A revolver lay on the seat beside him. Tests showed powder burns on Fishman's left hand and none on the girl's hands.

OLD SETTLERS PICNIC MONDAY IN HARMS PARK

The 71st annual Old Settlers' picnic and reunion sponsored by the Chicago Turners will be held Monday in Harms park, 4200 N. Western av. Chicagoans who have lived here continuously since 1920 have been invited. Medals will be distributed on the basis of age, length of residence in Chicago, number of descendants in the army or navy, and similar distinction. Mayor Kelly officially proclaimed Monday as Old Settlers' day in Chicago.

SUSPECT VICTIM OF RIDE MAY BE VAULT SUSPECT

McHenry county authorities last night were seeking the identity of a man, possibly a ride victim, whose body was found early yesterday concealed in weeds beside a gravel road three miles southeast of Crystal Lake. It had been there more than a month.

The body bore no bullet or knife wounds and because of decomposition physicians were unable to determine the cause of death. The man wore only a shirt, underwear, and dark socks. His body may have been taken in an automobile to the place where it was found.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Fred C. Bau said the man was 5 feet 6 inches in height and between 45 and 60 years old. Half of his teeth were missing and the others indicated he never had been treated by a dentist.

Chicago police said they would investigate the possibility the man may have been John [Jiggs] Sullivan, the last of seven men sought in connection with the 2 million dollar looting of the Rumbold safety vaults at 624 W. 119th st. Another member of the band, Wencel Urban, was found strangled in a ditch near Kankakee last March 15.

FIANCE'S HOLDUP ARREST STILLS WEDDING BELLS

Pretty, dark haired Miss Lucille McLean, 20, of 1714 North Shore av. professed undying love for her fiance, William Woods, 27, 5452 Broadway, a professed war hero, yesterday even tho they spent their proposed wedding day in Central police lockup and she discovered he was an escaped convict.

Woods was arrested early Thursday for the holdup of a tavern at 5511 Broadway. He admitted robbing the establishment of $230, and told police he needed the money for his wedding, scheduled for later in the day. Authorities discovered he escaped from the Florida state penitentiary Jan. 25, 1945, while serving a life sentence for armed robbery.

The young woman said she met Woods six weeks ago. Two weeks ago they decided to be married. She said he told her he was a discharged soldier who served seven months in Sicily with the 101st air borne division. He had been wounded twice, according to his story.

Water Superintendent's Body Removed from Lake

The body of Alvin G. Simantel, 39, of 4374 Woodland av., Western Springs, who was drowned Sunday in Bangs lake near Wauconda, was recovered from the lake yesterday. Simantel, who was superintendent of the Western Springs water department, is survived by his widow, Esther, and by three children.

A REAL PRINCE COURTS DETROIT GIRL BY PHONE

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 2 [Special]—A royal romance is blooming in Detroit. The principals are his royal highness, Amir Mohammed Ibn Abdul Aziz, 29, son of King Ibn Saud of Arabia, and Mary Mohammed, 22, a Detroit stenographer and former WAVE.

Every night at 6:30 the telephone rings in the one and a half story house on Detroit's west side where Mary lives. It's his royal highness, calling from Washington, D. C.

They met July 5 in a hotel here when Arabic people of Detroit gave a party for his highness, who was on his way home from the San Francisco conference.

Meets Her Parents

After the banquet the prince asked to have Mary presented. He took her to her home, after the party, American fashion, and met her parents in the little living room of the middle class American home.

Mary's father, Mhsen Mohammed, was born in Assyria, a few miles from the Arabian border. He is Mohammedan, but Mary's mother is a Roman Catholic. Mary is a follower of the religion of her father.

Mary won't admit the prince has proposed. She just says: "I've wanted to go to Arabia all my life. I have applications in Washington for any kind of a job in Arabia I can get. I can read and write French and Spanish and Arabic."

But Mary's friends at the office of the Fisher Body Fleetwood division of General Motors corporation say the prince has proposed. They say with feminine logic that a man does not call up long distance every night just to talk about the weather.

Calls from New York

The night after that first call Prince Amir called from New York to invite Mary and any one she chose to take with her to visit New York as his guests. Mary, flustered, thought it over for two days. Then she and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Dorothy Mohammed, packed and went. There wasn't a night club in New York that they didn't visit. There were exotic dinners of pheasant and other rare foods with the royal party.

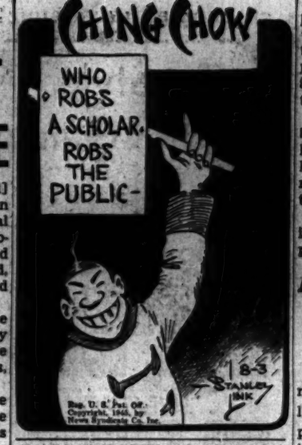
The climax was a trip to Coney Island. Discarding his burnoose, the mark of his country, the prince and his girl strolled hand in hand like many other couples in love.

Ride Roller Coaster

They had "ditched" an escort of secret service men and the whole glittering world was theirs. They rode the roller coaster, shot at clay pigeons, and his royal highness won a plaster of paris doll. He gave it to his girl.

But the night before she left he brought two jewel boxes to her and her sister-in-law. Mary's was a lover's knot of gold set with 17 rubies. Dorothy's was a smaller edition, without jewels.

Mary was reluctant to talk about it all. But she did say: "I'm so proud."



PARKS SEEKING TRASH CANS FOR CLEANUP DRIVE

The park district is seeking 4,000 metal and mesh containers for delivery this month to help keep the parks and beaches free of paper and trash, George T. Donoghue, general superintendent, said yesterday. The parks are 30 per cent short of the man power considered adequate to keep them clean.

If the containers are obtained before fall, a campaign to keep the parks and beaches clean will be undertaken, Donoghue said. Altho persons scattering trash are subject to fine, containers now are so scarce the park district cannot enforce this rule, Donoghue said.

Buffet style parties are gaining in popularity, if this department's phone and letter requests for menus are any indication. Each day brings more calls—for wedding breakfasts and suppers, welcome-home-soldier parties, showers, and just plain buffet suppers.

The buffet method of serving is easy on the hostess, with the food set out in attractive style for the guests to help themselves. Most persons who ask assistance want to know about the type of foods that fit best into such service.

The most important requirement is ease of handling from the serving dish to the plate. Tossed fruit and vegetable salads or gelatin molds with meat, fish, fruit, or vegetables are better than individual salads. Meat pie or a casserole with meat and vegetables is a better choice than separate dishes of meat, gravy, and vegetables. On the other hand, since dessert either is brought to the guests or they come back for it, it can be on individual plates or of the serve-yourself variety.

Working girls prefer buffet service, since much of the food can be fixed the night before. Here's just the kind of menu to fit that requirement.

Tomato Aspic Ring filled with Fresh Shrimp Salad
Crisp Potato Chips
Relish Tray with Olives, Radish Roses, Celery Curls, Sweet Gherkins
Hot Blueberry Muffins
Vanilla Pudding Pie with Peanut Butter Crust
Coffee or Tea

The previous night the tomato aspic is made, the shrimp is cooked and cleaned [ready to be combined with dressing just before serving], the vegetables are cleaned and left in ice cold water overnight, and the pie is prepared.

Vanilla Pudding Pie
[Serves four or six]

1¼ cups graham cracker crumbs
¼ cup peanut butter
1½ tablespoons honey
2 packages vanilla pudding
3½ cups milk
Chopped peanuts

To make crust, blend together crumbs, peanut butter, and honey. Press firmly into bottom and sides of 9 inch pie plate and bake in moderately hot oven [375 degrees] for 8 minutes. Cool. Prepare vanilla pudding according to directions on package, using 3½ cups milk. Cool and fill pie shell. Chill and sprinkle with peanuts.

Another light supper menu follows:

Baked Macaroni and Cheese
Tossed Fresh Vegetable Salad with French Dressing
Ripe Olives Pickled Peaches
Hot Cloverleaf Rolls
Hot Fudge Sundaes Tiny Cookies
Iced Tea

Tossed Fresh Vegetable Salad
[Serves eight]

1 head lettuce, shredded
2 cups shredded cabbage
4 tomatoes, cut in sections
1 cucumber, sliced
1 bunch radishes, sliced
1 green pepper, cut in rings
1 cup thinly sliced carrots
6 green onions, sliced

Before slicing, score unpared cucumber with fork tines to produce green scalloped slices. Keep out some cucumber slices and tomato sections for garnish. Just before serving, toss prepared vegetables lightly with French dressing in large wooden salad bowl.

Special Care Will Assure Success in Poaching Eggs

Poaching a few eggs? Give them special care and they'll be well rounded and of jelly tenderness. Use sufficient boiling water to cover the eggs and add a half teaspoon of salt or vinegar to congeal the whites more quickly, thus keeping them more shapely. Slip the eggs from a saucer [don't drop] into rapidly boiling water, but do not allow the liquid to continue boiling. Reduce the heat and let the eggs simmer in the water until as firm as desired, then lift out without removing water from the pan.

Today's $5 Prize Winning Recipe

6 tablespoons coffee, ground
1 cup boiling water
3 egg yolks, beaten
½ cup sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ cup cream or evaporated milk, whipped
3 egg whites, stiffly beaten
¾ cup vanilla wafer crumbs

Combine coffee and boiling water and simmer 10 minutes. Strain and cool. Mix with egg yolks, sugar, and salt. Cook in top of double boiler, stirring constantly, until thickened. Cool. Add vanilla and fold in whipped cream and egg whites. Line refrigerator tray with ⅓ cup crumbs and cover with mixture. Top with remaining crumbs. Freeze quickly with control switch turned to coldest position. Serves six.

Guard Baby's Food During Hot Weather

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

[Copyright: 1945: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

We have talked recently about a number of precautions to take in making your baby comfortable in summer and also in protecting his health—two angles which at some points cross each other.

Today I want to emphasize the health angle directly, as it relates to the vital matter of the baby's food. If your baby is breast-fed, some of these directions will not apply to you now. But since he may soon have supplementary bottle-feedings and will later be weaned, it will do no harm for you to note them.

Mothers and babies today are fortunate, in that the dreaded "second summer" nightmare is a thing of the past. Rigid inspection of cows and dairies and the almost incredible cleanliness observed in the milk industry safeguard babies against many summer as well as winter ills. The good refrigeration in most homes and the care of milk there has been another help in bringing babies thru hot weather. But even canned evaporated milk, once opened, must be cared for.

Bottles and nipples must be kept sterile-clean and covered, both for his orange juice and water, as well as for the baby's milk.

If the baby has begun his strained foods, wash off the jars before opening. If not all is consumed, cover carefully and put remainder in refrigerator.

Wash your own hands before handling the baby's milk or other foods. Also wash his hands frequently, since he is always popping them in his mouth.

And don't forget, if you love your baby, to give him plenty of water to drink between feedings and even at night. Some babies wake up crying and are only thirsty. Keep reminding and reminding yourself of this need of theirs.

SUGAR—the magic ingredient

Few realize how really important sugar is until it's difficult to get. Perhaps all of us have rather taken sugar for granted . . . just something sweet for our coffee, tea, cereals and fruits. Actually, sugar is the magic ingredient in many every-day foods—bread and cakes, ice cream and desserts, in preserves, jams, jellies and canned fruits. Sugar is the indispensable product which makes most foods palatable and attractive.

Right now, sugar is scarce and will continue to be for some time ahead.

A severe drought made a big cut in Cuba's crop of raw cane sugar this year. And sugar must continue to be sent to our fighting forces to provide them with fighting energy. Also, at Government direction, sugar is going across the seas to help feed people in liberated lands.

"You never miss the water till the well runs dry." Use your sugar stamps wisely—and make a little do a lot.

Benefit Events of Interest on Fall Calendar

BY JUDITH CASS

SEVERAL interesting benefits on the calendar promise a variety of early fall diversions.

To raise money for its work with underprivileged children, the senior board of the Evanston Infant Welfare society will sponsor a series a book reviews starting Oct. 16 and continuing for five consecutive Tuesdays in the Evanston home of Mrs. George B. Dryden. The programs will be given by Sarah Weidner Youngren [Mrs. Milton Youngren].

Mrs. George Sollitt, project chairman, is in charge of plans for the series. Assisting her are Mrs. Warren Buckley, Mrs. William Faricy, Mrs. Dennis Gent, Mrs. John Leslie, Mrs. John Manley, Mrs. Donald Miller, Mrs. Harold Roby, Mrs. Leon Welch, and Mrs. Aubrey Whittemore.

Since the Mayfair room of the Blackstone hotel has a limited seating capacity, reservation cards will be inclosed with the invitations to be mailed out the end of this month for a benefit luncheon and fall showing of furs and millinery there Sept. 18 to raise money for Arden Shore's summer and winter camp in Lake Bluff. Mrs. Robert Berghoff is chairman of the 1 p. m. luncheon, with Mrs. Harold D. Wright as co-chairman. Also serving on their committee are Mrs. David M. Rhodes, Mrs. Maynard Fessenden, Mrs. George Williamson, Mrs. Chris Paschen, and Miss Mary Mertes.

Mrs. James O. McKinsey serves as chairman of the Chicago Arden Shore committee, and Mrs. George W. Traver heads the Arden Shore association.

Other Future Events

The attractive stables of the Oak Brook Polo club which served as a setting for a benefit Country Fair held by the junior center of the Hinsdale Infant Welfare society last year will be put to the same use next Sept. 8 and 9. Mrs. David Thomas and Mrs. W. S. Martens are serving as co-chairmen of the benefit. Booths will be set up behind the Dutch doors leading into the stables, and among the attractive items for sale will be home canned goods, bakery goods, aprons, baby gifts, knit goods, and needle-work. The pick of vegetables from gardens in the Hinsdale area will be on display in one of the booths, and a board of judges will award prizes to the largest and best.

Furniture, bric-a-bac, and perhaps some antiques will be on view in a resale booth. There will be a merry-go-round and jeep and pony rides, as well as a hit-the-target game which will be played from the back of a wooden polo practice pony. Visitors will be able to buy sandwiches and cold drinks from the food booths.

Some of those on the various committees are Mrs. James Emmett Jr., Mrs. Walter Mueller, Mrs. Ben Beale, Mrs. James Frederickson, Mrs. Oscar Day, and Mrs. Carl Ericson Jr. Mrs. William L. Singer heads the center.

Another fall benefit is a tea which the auxiliary of the Sacred Heart is planning for Oct. 17 in the Lake Shore dr. home of Mrs. Gordon C. Thorne. Mrs. Thorne's collection of antiques and paintings will be on view. The auxiliary, which is made up of mothers of students in Sacred Heart convents, is headed by Mrs. A. Frank Cuneo. 10 Singers Win Music Festival County Honors

Ten singers who will represent Chicago and Cook county in the semi-finals of the Chicago Music Festival on Aug. 18, were chosen last night in the county finals in the Drake hotel. Twenty-nine sectional contest winners sang in the county finals before an audience of about 500.

The semi-finals will be held in the Drake the morning of the festival day. Two women and two men will be chosen to appear on the festival stage in Soldiers' field in the evening.

One of those in the audience last night provided inspiration for Mrs. Emily Aull, 29, of 1907 Montrose av., a Stockton school music teacher, who placed first in the coloratura soprano division.

Her ally was her husband, Henry, a petty officer in the merchant marine, who is home on leave from the Pacific.

Miss Leona Farrington, 22, of 535 S. Clarence av., Oak Park, and Miss Katherine B. Brummel, 17, of 3304 W. 59th pl., were second and third in the coloratura contest.

The contralto division contest was won by Miss Winifred Heckman, 21, of 7818 Crandon av., a voice student who reached the county finals in 1942 and won her sectional contest a year ago. Miss Mary Jane Hogan, 20, of 1300 N. Dearborn st., was second, and Mrs. Eleanor Castell Gosse, 26, of 547 N. Laramie av., third.

Thaddeus W. Sztuka, 26, of 3650 N. Long av., a Detroit born Pole who returned to the United States in 1940 when the German invasion interrupted his studies in Poland, won the contest for dramatic tenors. The runners-up were Carl E. Chevedden, 34, of 8409 Vernon av., and Herbert I. Hardt, 33, of 1462 Foster av.

Relatives who prevailed upon him to sing at his own wedding six years ago started Henry Louis Gorz, 30, of 3537 Overhill av., on his music career. Last night Gorz, a carpenter, won the lyric tenor division contest. The sectional contestants who competed against him were Gael W. Way, 25, of 1431 Greenleaf av., and Lewis Hartfield, 31, of 1511 E. 66th pl.

Miss Dorothy Sandre, 23, a secretary in an employment office, placed first among the dramatic sopranos. Her home is at 4129 West End av. Miss Alberta Eikenberry, 19, of 1300 N. Dearborn st., was second, and Miss Mary Francis Crowley, 28, Negro, 4925 S. Michigan av., third.

Herbert Baehr, 28, of 2330 N. Halsted st., director of music at the Fullerton Presbyterian church, won the baritone division honors from Ben Summers, 35, of 5240 Fullerton av., and Harlan H. Schroeder, 31, 7241 Constance av. Baehr, who won in the 1943 finals, is studying for his master's degree at the Chicago Musical college.

A packing house butcher, William E. Johnson, 38, Negro, 4856 Indiana av., took first place in the bass division. Johnson competed in the semi-finals a year ago and won sectional and finals contests in 1943 and 1944. Second place was won by Roy Urhausen, 23, of 5626 Kenmore av., and third by Theodore Roupas, 39, of 537 N. Humphrey av., Oak Park.

Miss Lois Bernice Shamberg, 18, of 6820 Cornell av., a De Paul university music student, won the mezzo soprano division contest. A year ago she placed first in the south side sectional contest. The runnersup in this division were Miss Lola Gilbert, 20, of 5222 N. Christiana av., and Miss Lorraine Kostelny, 19, of 5056 Lawrence av.

Mrs. Marion Olson Brown, 25, wife of an army officer in Italy, won first place among the lyric sopranos, repeating a victory she scored a year ago in the county finals. Her home is at 6829 Indiana av. Marion Lorraine La Badie, 19, of 328 S. Oakley blvd., and Jean Breyfogle, 17, of 1114 Garden st., Park Ridge, were second and third, respectively.

The bass baritone division contest was captured by Robert F. Dalton, 31, of 5905 Ohio st., whose wife, Jeane Price, once won in the county finals.

A trio of opera singers, Margery Maxwell Hodgkinson, Dimitri Onofrei, and Anna Fitzu, judged the contests, which were directed by Mrs. Edmund J. Tyler, chairman. John Wiederhirn was the accompanist.

Thru the Looking Glass

If we seem pre-occupied with bath glorifiers these days, we can hope to be forgiven only on the grounds of our firm conviction that bathing well and often is the best possible indoor sport in hot weather. And not just bathing to shed the day's grime—but the kind of bathing that helps shed fatigue and that feeling of being smashed flat by heat.

One hot night last week we went into the bath cabinet and our hand fell, happily, on an old cosmetic friend—a little box of lavender bath meal. This we commend to you with all enthusiasm if you're a fan for the bath that refreshes.

This doesn't make bubbles, which is perfectly all right with us. We know that 10 million men, women, and children in America think bath bubble stuff is wonderful; we must have a blank spot on that score. We can take it or leave it alone, and sometimes when we reflect how the bubbles on the top of the water are cold and the water itself is warm we are happy to leave it alone.

Our lavender meal is just that, a fine powdery meal, a blend of lavender flowers, and soft, old fashioned skin beautifying cereals that dissolves instantly in your tub, softens the water, and scents it with the clean, tangy fragrance of lavender.

On a hot night, when you've had a sticky day, your lavender bath is a rejuvenator. In the morning, when you pull yourself together for the day's struggle, a dip in the softened, scented water arms you beautifully for your battle against heat. The stuff is really lovely—and it's inexpensive, too.

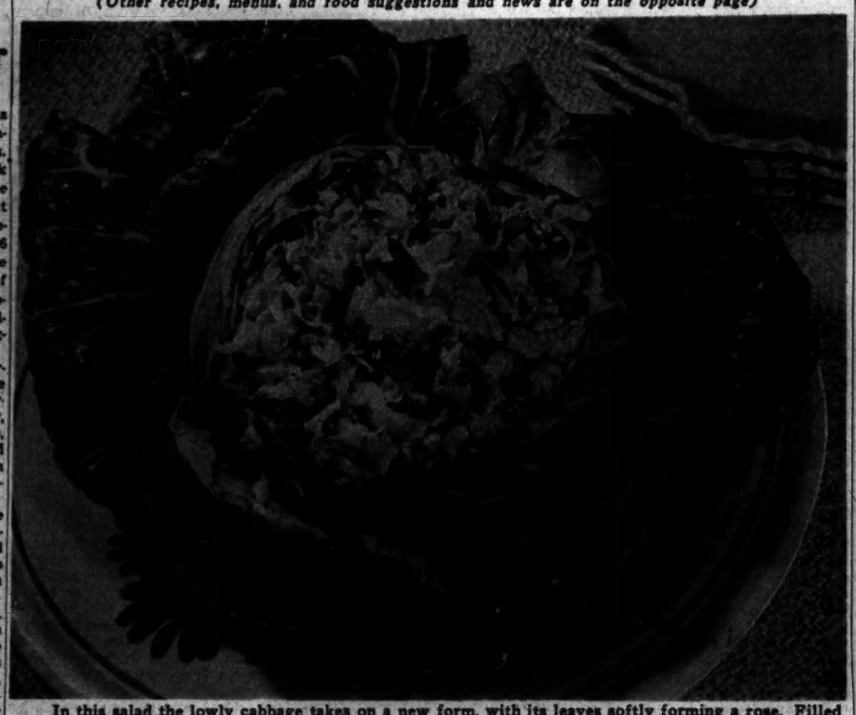
Cabbage Rose Salad for Summer Buffet Menu

(Other recipes, menus, and food suggestions and news are on the opposite page)



In this salad the lowly cabbage takes on a new form, with its leaves softly forming a rose. Filled with any favorite coleslaw, this attractive cabbage bowl becomes an important part of summer buffet menus. To make it: [TRIBUNE Studio Photo]

Remove outer leaves of large head cabbage and soak them in ice water. Wash head thoroly and cut off top. Carefully remove center, leaving a shell about ¾ inch thick. Shred finely enough of cabbage removed to make 6 cups. Core 3 tart red apples and dice. Combine cabbage, apples, and ½ cup chopped walnuts and sprinkle with 1 teaspoon salt. Add 1 cup salad dressing and toss together lightly. Pile as much of mixture as possible into shell, keeping remainder chilled for refilling. Drain leaves and arrange about shell in the form of rose petals. Serves 10 to 12.

White Collar GIRL

Souvenir

Your plans for our vacation
Are like a story book,
And I grow quite ecstatic
As thru the list I look.

There's swimming, boating, sunning
Along our favorite lake,
And dancing at the roof club,
With afterward a steak.

Each evening ends by driving
Say, 50 miles or so;
That was a grand vacation

Ain't Again

The contraction "ain't" is an old one and has been given various spelling and pronunciations. In Great Britain the vowel sound seems to be the broad "a." The expression appears as "an't" in Victorian English novels and earlier. In modern British fiction it is seen in the phrase "Aren't I?" As there is no other convenient way of shortening "Am I not?" [or the older "Am not I?"] in our language, Americans pick up "Aren't I?" from their reading, but carefully sound the "r"—a thing that English writers who use the expression would not think of doing. The spelling is merely a quaint British way of indicating that the sound is that of the broad "a." EDWARD

Bernstein Style Simpler and Music Better as He Conducts Ravinia Second Concert

Concerto for orchestra, D major ..... C. P. E. Bach-Steinberg
Symphony No. 103, E-flat major ..... Haydn
Symphony No. 3, E-flat major ("Eroica") ..... Beethoven

Leonard Bernstein is a daring young man who inadvertently caught the flying trapeze of fame before he was ready for it and is doomed to learn to ride it in high places as thousands cheer. Judging by his "Jeremiah" symphony and his scores for "Fancy Free" and "On the Town," all he needs as a composer is time, and judging by his Ravel last summer he is a talented pianist if he cares to pursue the trade. But as a conductor he is an attractive young man with undeniable talent who won't get very far until that talent is hitched to a sound technique.

Yet last night's concert with the Chicago Symphony orchestra was better than Tuesday's storm tossed opening. Mr. Bernstein's manner was simpler, his music better. He was more inclined to recognize the basic fact that if you give a good orchestra its head it will take you to more interesting places. But he still needs to discover that if you sentimentalize a menu you automatically spoil the sweet discovery of the lyrical oasis that is the trio. And he will discover soon, I hope not to his dismay, that a slow movement is a little like taffy. You can pull it up to a point—then be careful.

The concert was a Joseph's coat of colorful changes in preparation, but it finally settled down to C. P. E. Bach's concerto for orchestra in D major, Haydn's lovely Symphony in B flat major, and Beethoven's mighty "Eroica."

Save for the slow movement, which was romanticized almost out of existence, the Bach went well enough, tho it lacked the purity of line and elegance of style to claim distinction.

Haydn was better on the whole, with some delightful interludes, particularly in the allegro of the first movement and the opening of the finale, tho there the silky beginning was snarled in an ending, lost the dramatic impulse.

Those extraordinary people who consider the prefection of Koussevitzky's "Eroica" a sign of decadence must in all logic find Bernstein's performance robustly healthy. Obviously, he has the magnificent score in his heart, but it will take years of devoted study to place it at his orchestral fingertips. There were outbursts of passionate lyricism, the scherzo had a tempestuous pace, and now and then there was a glimpse of the majesty of Beethoven in excelsis. But of the structure of the mighty score, the glory of its sustained line, the tragic sweep of its funeral march, there was scarcely a hint. If your chief interest was in Bernstein, the performance was a gallant error; if it was Beethoven, it was just an error.

Rachmaninoff Fund

Tucked in Ravinia's programs Saturday night and all next week you will find handsome announcements of the launching of the Chicago campaign for the Rachmaninoff Fund, Inc., of which Vladimir Horowitz is president. This memorial to the late composer has as its purpose the discovery and encouragement of pianists, composers, and conductors, as well as the desire to promote musical exchange and understanding between the peoples of America and Russia. The first plan is to hold a nation-wide contest for pianists, the winner to receive a season's tour of concerts and appearances with leading orchestras. The fund is supported entirely by voluntary contributions and will welcome any sum you feel inclined to send to the Rachmaninoff Fund, Inc., Room 1928, 231 S. La Salle st., Chicago. The reason for launching the campaign Saturday was to time it with Leon Fleisher's playing of Rachmaninoff's Rhapsody on a Theme of Paganini, which, alas, he canceled in favor of Liszt.

Fall Openings Draw Youth to College Shops

BY REA SEEGER

Jive, cokes on the house, glamor mannequins, all the newest clothes, everything except the red carpet is out to celebrate fall openings of college shops in Chicago stores. It's the final fling with whimsy and fun before the long stretch of serious routine on a college campus begins. These college shops are the busiest spots in town, in spite of heat and the fact that the fashions on display feature wool, corduroy, velveteen, fur trimmed coats and fur jackets together with fall and winter accessories such as sweaters, jackets, blouses, mittens, socks, and other accessories with which to complete a well balanced college wardrobe.

The best lures in the shops are the staffs of counselors. There's hardly a college or university in the country that doesn't have a representative available—a second year girl to serve as advisor and guide in helping select the wardrobe that will assure a correct freshman entrance. This is super assistance, free to any one who asks for it. And the wardrobe chosen usually is one that will suffice till you come back at Christmas to shop for formals. Some of the stuff will last thru the four years easily, especially the smart tailored suits and coats of tweed or wool mixtures, the classics of checks and stripes, or the casual dresses of wool jersey and wool crepe.

Everything is out and on parade, from hats to footgear. And this year the sartorial emphasis is on the trim, neat silhouette. Anything sloppy is definitely frowned upon. A new era is about to start, that of being smooth, neat, and feminine. Dresses that are unmistakably feminine are the most popular, and still gaining. Masculine copies are out.

INSTALMENT XI

DISTRUST

Bruce crossed the bridge and moved across a vacant lot to the corral. His eyes were vigilant and wary. Since he did not want to be recognized by anybody meeting him, his hat was pulled well down on his forehead. He got into the corral over the back fence and moved forward in the dark shadows of the wagon sheds. A man came out of the small office near the gate.

"'Lo, Prop," drawled Bruce.

The owner of the corral whirled on him. "What you doing here, you crazy galoot? Haven't you got any sense a-tall?"

The man was Flack. He had been caught unaware. More than once there had been an ugly thought in the back of Sherrill's mind. He could not believe that Bill Cairns and his raiders had discovered them cutting wire by sheer chance. Somebody had given him a tip, and nobody knew in advance of the raid except those expecting to ride on it. Bruce remembered that Flack had come without his wire clippers, that he had volunteered to hold the horses and had kept them some distance from the men at work, and that at the first alarm he had turned the mounts loose instead of waiting for their riders. Had he expected the attack?

That Prop Zang could be trusted, Bruce knew. He flung questions at Flack. How was Pete Engle? Had there been any trouble with the cattlemen since the night of the raid?

Flack was suavely ingratiating. He was tickled to death to see Bruce. All his friends had been worried for fear he had been killed in the hills. Pete was doing all right, but somebody had burned his cabin down while he was staying at Gilcrest's recovering from his wound. Flack was sorry to report that two of the haystacks in Bruce's meadow had been fired and his fences cut in 40 places. There had been an attempt to destroy his house but his three cowboys had shown fight, and the attackers had given up without success.

"At the Gilcrest place. We're building them a new house right where the old one was. All the neighbors have turned in to help." Flack said he had come to town to get a new wheel for his wagon.

Flack looked down at his new clothes uneasily. It was well known that he never had a dime to spend. "My father died and left me some money—not much, just a little."

"Have you got your new wheel yet?"

"No, Yates didn't have one. He's sent an order to Cheyenne for it."

"I might as well see you started," Bruce said. "You can tell me all the news as you think of it."

"That's right. And of course the boys will want to know how you made out so long in the hills without any grub and just where you holed up so you couldn't be found."

"I want to borrow five hundred dollars, Prop," he said. "Do you know any guy can lend it to me?"

"I could get it at the bank tomorrow," he suggested.

"I need it tonight," Bruce explained. "I'm taking a long trip on a train, but I don't want anything said about it."

"I reckon that's smart of you," he replied. "They'll sure get you if you stay."

"I'll be back—in about 10 or 12 days, I should think. How about Kilburn? Think he could get it for me right away? I want to start for Casper soon as I can."

"I'll ask him. Wait here till I come back."

In a little more than an hour Zang returned. He handed Bruce a roll of bills, and the ranchman put them in his pocket without counting the amount. "I'm much obliged to you, Prop."

"Say," Zang said. "You're good as the wheat."

"He kicked some, but not too much. I didn't tell him I wanted it for you."

"Good. Now I want a horse that will take me to Casper."

Zang had only two. He recommended a flea bitten gray.

At Casper Bruce took the train for Cheyenne. There he bought a ticket for Washington.

Cliff Applegate drew up in front of the Humphreys house and helped his daughter out of the buggy. The sheriff and his wife were old time friends, and when Linda came to town she always spent the night with Jessie.

"Father had to come for supplies, and as I wanted to match some dress goods I made him bring me," Linda explained.

"You'd never guess who slept in your room last night." Since Linda gave it up, her hostess said, "Bruce Sherrill."

"I'm not so sure about that. Of course all of you at the Bar B B detest him. But I like him."

"I think he is the most conceited, insufferable pup I ever met," the girl answered.

The young woman flushed angrily. "He told you that, did he? That's like him — to boast about what I was forced to do. How could I help it when he was sick and wounded?"

"He didn't say it was you." Jessie added: "It must have been hard on you all to shelter the man."

"Hard on us!" Linda exploded. "When we told Uncle Jeff he practically flung father and me out of his house. Where do you think we stand with our friends? We're traitors — double crossers — turncoats who have thrown in with the trash nesting in the hills. O, I know you feel differently about these settlers. They all voted for Tim."

Romantic News

Here on leave with his pretty southern bride is Capt. Walter E. Teich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Curt Teich of Glencoe. Mrs. Curt Teich and another son of the Teiches, Ralph, went south for the wedding, which took place July 24 in the Riverside Methodist church in New Bern, N. C. The bride is the former Myra Love Paul, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grover G. Paul of Bachelor, N. C. Capt. Teich, who served overseas with the marine corps reserve for 19 months, recently has been stationed in Cherry Point, N. C., where the former Miss Paul was associated with the navy department. He and his bride will depart Monday for his new post at Eldoro, Cal. Capt. Teich attended Lake Forest academy and the University of Leipzig in Germany.

Mr. and Mrs. Forest D. Siefkin of Glencoe announce the engagement of their daughter, Lt. [j. g.] Martha Eleanor Siefkin of the WAVES, to Lt. John Douglas Gordon of the naval reserve, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Gordon of San Marino, Cal. Lt. Siefkin, a 1943 graduate of the University of Chicago, is stationed at Bronson field, Pensacola, Fla., from which her fiancé is being transferred to Jacksonville, Fla. He attended the University of California at Los Angeles and has been in the navy for four years.

News of Births

Some time next month Corp. John E. Weinstock Jr. hopes to come from Long Beach, Cal., where he is stationed with the army, to meet his new son, born Wednesday in Evanston hospital. The baby has been named John Robert for his grandfathers, John E. Weinstock Sr. and Robert M. Sherritt. Until Corp. Weinstock is assigned to a permanent post, his wife, the former Arlee Sherritt, and baby will stay in Kenilworth with her parents. The senior Weinstocks live in Wilmette.

The baby's aunt, Miss Evaro Sherritt, will leave soon for Briarcliff Junior college. As she is busy with music and drama studies, she has decided not to make a debut this year.

Mrs. R. Douglass Cooper [Margaret Howard] and the Coopers' third son, born July 25 in St. Luke's hospital, will go to their Winnetka home today. The baby has been named Douglass Allen.

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
1 diamond	1 spade	3 hearts	Pass
4 hearts	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Six of spades.

We have recently observed several cases in which hands that appeared to be safely "in the bag" were wrecked by the ravages of unfavorable distribution. Some of these misfortunes were inevitable, and must be accepted as hazards of the game. Quite a few others, however, could have been avoided by the exercise of due caution. Complaints of hard luck should fall upon unsympathetic ears where the hard luck could have been circumvented by proper play.

Today's hand was played in a rubber bridge game and the contract of four hearts was reached by normal bidding. South led the six of spades in response to his partner's overcall. The trick was won with the queen and followed with the king. South playing the trey. North continued with the ace. The question as to what East should play at this point is up for consideration. There is not much doubt that South has no more spades. He opened the six and followed with the three on the next trick. If he held the five or four it would be conventional to follow suit with the higher of the remaining worthless cards in partner's suit. And since the deuce is showing in dummy South has no more. However, if the remaining trumps are divided in the normal 3-2 manner, declarer could afford to ruff high, still be able to draw trumps, and thus make an extra trick. Declarer therefore ruffed with the queen of hearts. Even if the trumps were 4-1 he would still make his contract, since when he learned of the bad break he would pull all the trumps but one, and then lead out all his solid side cards until the adverse trump was used.

But when declarer ruffed and led a high trump he got a rude jolt when South showed up with all the remaining hearts. There was now no way to avoid the loss of two trump tricks. While a 5-0 trump break is a most unusual occurrence, nevertheless when a rubber is waiting to be chalked up, it is hardly the proper time to try to make an additional 30 points. Declarer should have ruffed the spade with the three of hearts. Now when South overruffs declarer can pull down the trumps and make the balance of the tricks, even the there were all five trumps in one hand. If South refuses to overruff, declarer just persists with his high cards in the side suits until South makes up his mind to win, after which his remaining trumps can be picked up. Had the game been duplicate, declarer would have been perfectly right in his play. It is no pleasure to make four hearts when everybody else is making five with the same hand, and the chance of a 5-0 trump break is too remote to be considered. But when there is cash to be had, that's another story.

Militant Leadership Should Be Church's Goal, Pastors Told

The church would be wise to shake off its lethargy if it aspires to leadership in a world order, the Rev. H. C. Buchmueller, minister of St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church in Evanston, told the 14th annual Pastors' institute yesterday at the University of Chicago. In fulfilling its mission of proclaiming the message of forgiveness and in facing the social issues of racial and minority groups, the church needs to be at the acme of its spiritual power, he asserted.

Dr. Buchmueller said that only an alert and active church will be able to face the challenge of some 12 million men and women returning to civilian life.

"The returning service men already are expressing concern about the church's program," he continued. "They have gained a new appreciation of religion in their lives and they want to participate in church activity, not as cases, but as human beings."

Similar advice was given by Lt. William B. Lyons, navy chaplain for 18 months in the Pacific area, who urged the church "to become a militant and dynamic force in this generation."

Hit by Illness, Family Seeks New Furniture

[Sally Joy Brown department activities are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.]

BY SALLY JOY BROWN

Will some of our north side readers help the X family refurnish its quarters? The household numbers five members, including parents and three youngsters. For a time both parents worked and were able to purchase furniture on a payment plan. Recently, however, Mr. X became ill and several pieces of household goods were repossessed because of the family's inability to arrange the last remaining payments. His wife's salary supplied bare coverage for food, rent, and other essentials. Two full size beds complete, one single bed complete, two dressers or chests, a 9 by 12 rug, kitchen chairs, and living room pieces will greatly aid them.

Mrs. L. of the near north side is a navy wife, mother of a small son, and is expecting the arrival of another child in the early fall. During her husband's absence she has been living with his parents' family, which consists of five members, all crowded together into a four room flat. For her babies' welfare, she is eager to establish a home of her own and has appealed to us to try to locate living room furniture, a 9 by 12 rug, a heater, and a gas or combination stove.

WAC to Recruit 10,000 More in Next 6 Months

Washington, D. C., Aug. 2 (AP)—The war department announced today a program to recruit 10,000 additional members of the WAC within the next six months. The women are needed, the department said, to assist in redeploying army troops to the Pacific and to facilitate discharge of battle veterans with high point scores. Skilled clerks, typists, and stenographers will be assigned to jobs after basic training at Fort Des Moines, Ia. Untrained women will attend a clerk's school at Fort Des Moines after their basic course.

By Mae Tinée

"Molly and Me" is rather good fun, even tho it is a bit far-fetched. Gracie Fields, aided and abetted by Reginald Gardiner and Roddy McDowall, has quite a job of softening up to do on Monty Woolley, but she has the old boy right where she wants him before long.

An unemployed actress, she inveigles a job as housekeeper for a sour old rich man via an actor who took up butling when hunger got the best of him. Things are topsy-turvy in the big mansion—the servants are cheating merrily, the old man and his young son are total strangers and almost enemies, and just when the former is about to run for parliament doesn't his wicked ex-wife have to turn up! As Molly, Gracie fires the servants and is forced by circumstances to improvise a staff—you might know her old theatrical pals would come in handy; makes friends with the youngster and forces the father to treat him as a human being, and, last but not least, disposes of the wife in a manner that is gaudy but neat.

Miss Fields does some of her usual warbling, Mr. Gardiner is a mighty slick butler, and all the other members of the cast fit nicely into the rather complicated plot. It's a pleasant little comedy and good light summer fare for people of any age.

Church Buys Property

The Methodist church of Des Plaines recently purchased a lot in the village at Graceland and Prairie avs., where a $100,000 church will be erected.

FASHIONS

By Angela

This year's silhouette is one of curves, and the curves are most in evidence in broad, rounded shoulders. The sleeves get away from the narrow lines of a man tailored suit, and the jackets are full length rather than nipped off below the waist.

The smart black and white checked wool at the left has broad, rounded shoulders which form a brief cape effect. Collarless, it buttons high at the neckline with two shiny black buttons. The long jacket has vertical bands trimmed with the same buttons creating the illusion of pockets. Deep armholed sleeves have narrow turn-back cuffs at the wrist. The arrow slim skirt has short kick plaits at each side.

Victory white, a popular shade for suits, is used to fashion the 100 per cent wool gabardine suit in the center. Again broad but rounded shoulders and deep armholes are seen. Hand stitching detail around the collarless high neckline and armholes is effective in the smooth-fitting long jacket. The skirt is interesting in the use of four kick plaits in front, retaining its narrow back line.

Men's gray and white striped flannel suiting is used for the new fall suit at the right. It has rounded shoulders, moderately deep armholes, and the new collarless neckline. Large metallic buttons trim a cleverly cut fitted jacket. The straight, narrow skirt has a single plait in front.

Looking at Hollywood

By Hedda Hopper

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Aug. 2—Don't be surprised if the role of Demetrius in "The Robe" falls to a newcomer. The dark horse is Tom Holland, formerly of the merchant marine. Mervyn LeRoy, who's testing him, has had him in rehearsal for one month in preparation for the event. Holland has received a sharp workout, has had his teeth beautified, and is to be a star entry in a race which has had some fancy names mentioned as possibles, including Gregory Peck. Who wants to bet on the long shot? . . . Walter Saxer, the stern physical instructor for that illustrious exercise class whose pupils included George Cukor, Somerset Maugham, Constance Collier, and Clifton Webb, has lost one of his shining lights. Clifton can't take the gaff!

The Call of Hollywood

Judy Garland and Bridegroom Vincent Minelli are getting tired of honeymooning in "tropical Manhattan," and plan to return shortly to Hollywood. Judy's sister, Dorothy, has been booked for 14 weeks thru Florida. . . . While the announcement that England's Arthur Rank and Hollywood's David O. Selznick had blended in a movie setup was reported by us eight weeks ago, it was released generally only two days ago. . . . It's your guess whether career or love is uppermost in Venita Varden Oakie's mind these days. She's filing a petition to drop Jack's name and plans to embark on a wholesale dressmaking project for South American trade only. Well, she's also pretty serious about a South American richboy who's a big part of her good neighbor policy.

Chit Chat in Movieland

Hear all isn't so smooth with Eddie Bracken and Peggy Ryan on that South Pacific tour. . . . Picket liners at 20th Century-Fox can study the studio billboards as they pace back and forth. Present one reads, "Where do we go from here?" . . . Gossips have it that Betita and Bobby Specht have hit thin ice. The gossips insist one Joel McGinnis is top man now. . . . Bill Powell celebrated his birthday on "The Hoodlum Saint" set. The company turned down the lights and brought him a cup cake with one candle. . . . Hear Nancy Bruff of New York society holds a handful of tricks in her new story, "The Manatee." But producers can't get hold of this one until it's on the stands. Story's about a gruff guy, such as Humphrey Bogart, who falls in love with a mermaid.

Out of the Woods

Donald Woods was dropped by Warners and got busy selling himself, with the result he found a customer. Yes, Warners, who hired him back at four times his previous salary for "Night and Day." While he was working in that one, the producer of another picture on the lot decided he must have him for a role, too. Don worked in the two pictures at the same time, and this made the take eight times heavier in all. . . . Jack Carson writes he ran into a GI on one of the South Pacific islands, clad only in a suit of sunburn, mixing a concoction of fly spray, vanilla, alcohol, and a nip of boric acid. Piped Jack, "You're not going to rub that on your sunburn?" "Think I'm crazy?" yawned the GI. "I'm gonna drink it!" Clarence Williams writes from the South Pacific that Jack's show was great and his imitation of Frank Sinatra and Bing Crosby topped them all. The general disappointment, however, was Chili Williams, who failed to wear her trade mark—polka dots. . . . Then there's that one of Bert Gordon's about the nurse who had to subtract 10 beats from her patient's pulse to allow for her personality.

Chaplain to Give Sermon at Our Lady of Sorrows

Capt. Richard Keenan, army chaplain recently returned from Europe and now awaiting redeployment to the Pacific theater of war, will give the sermon at tonight's 8 o'clock service of the Perpetual Novena to Our Sorrowful Mother at Our Lady of Sorrows church, Jackson blvd. and S. Albany av. Father Keenan landed with troops on the southern coast of France, moved with them into Germany, and before leaving Europe visited nazi concentration camps.

Atten Wins in Junior Golf Final, 5 and 4

BY CHARLES BARTLETT

Jack Atten, the Edgewater 18-year-old who used to caddie for Chick Evans, then went out to play twilight nines with Chick, finally came into his own yesterday, when he won the 31st Junior closed championship of the Chicago District Golf association by defeating his Northwestern university team mate, Bob Abrahams of Brookwood, 5 and 4, in the 36 hole final at the Hinsdale Golf club.

Atten thus completed one of the best records ever compiled by a C. D. G. A. youngster. One month ago come Monday, Jack finished runner-up in the association's open tournament. Yesterday he scampered around Hinsdale's tidy yardage in 35, even par, for morning turning advantage of three up.

Loser's Putter Fails

Abrahams, the former state interscholastic title holder, practically matched Jack's play from tee to green, but came down with several putting lapses, and found himself four down at the noonday intermission.

In the afternoon front nine, Atten added another hole to his advantage, and after going six up on the 30th, where Abrahams needed three from the edge, Jack surrendered the 31st, where he drove the slope of a bunker. He halved the next to close out the match.

Don Johnson of N. U. Football Fame Decorated

First Lt. Donald C. Johnson, 24, center on the Northwestern university football teams of 1940 and 1941, has been awarded the bronze star for heroism in leading a platoon of marines March 10 on Iwo Island. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John K. Johnson, 5139 Thomas st.

Lt. Johnson made a reconnaissance of front line positions in the face of fierce enemy fire that had halted the advance of his platoon, directed 37 millimeter guns into position, and continued to expose himself to insure proper fire director and fire control, the citation said.

Lt. Johnson is a graduate of Austin High school and was graduated from Northwestern university in 1943.

BY WILFRID SMITH

Alabama, Auburn, and Oklahoma today contribute four linemen to the College All-Star football squad for the game with the Green Bay Packers in Soldiers' field Aug. 30 who have had 11 years of varsity experience before entering military service. They are Ted Cook, Alabama, and W. G. Lamb, Oklahoma, ends, and Mitchell Olenski, Alabama, and Joe Eddins, Auburn, tackles.

Cook played only two years for Alabama before entering service in April, 1943, but this 190 pound left end, who is 23 years of age, and 6 feet 2 inches tall, proved to be one of the finest pass receivers in southern football. Last year he continued his spectacular play and scored 42 points on seven touchdowns for his army eleven. Cook rates Don Hutson, who preceded him by a decade at Tuscaloosa, as his favorite athlete. There are many who believe he approaches Hutson in ability. The game Aug. 30 offers direct comparison, for Hutson, as the football world knows, will spark the Packers' attack.

Scores Twice in Orange Bowl

Cook's home is in Birmingham, Ala. He was captain of his freshman football team at Alabama, and he also received one varsity track award. In his last college football game Ted scored two touchdowns against Boston college in the Orange bowl game Jan. 1, 1943, in Miami, Fla.

Olenski, a 218 pound tackle, was Cook's teammate at Alabama, but he also started competition one year earlier. Olenski is 25 years of age and is 6 feet 3 inches tall. During his three years he played th the 1942 Cotton bowl game and in the Orange bowl game the following year. He was a four sport man, winning two letters in track and one each in baseball and basketball.

Olenski's home is in Vestal, N. Y., where he played football at Union-Endicott High school. He was graduated from Alabama with a degree in business administration.

Captains Oklahoma Eleven

Lamb, whose home is Ardmore, Okla., was captain of the University of Oklahoma eleven in 1942. He is 24 years of age, weighs 195 pounds, and is 6 feet 2 inches tall. Altho he played end for the Sooners for three years, he was called into service in Feb., 1943 and did not graduate. Lamb's greatest thrill in collegiate football was in the 1941 game with Oklahoma A. & M., when he caught a pass and ran 56 yards for the first touchdown of the season.

Eddins, who completes the quartet of players announced today, comes from Birmingham, Ala., where he played at West End High school before matriculating at Auburn. He

THE FBI once collared Peanuts Lowrey, Cub left fielder, and threatened to throw him in the clink, all because of an application he had filed for a job in a California war plane plant. . . . Sometimes Peanut spelled himself L-o-w-e-r-y and other times L-o-w-r-e-y. . . . "Just what IS your REAL name, bud?" demanded the G men menacingly. . . . "L-o-w-r-y," responded Peanuts, whereupon the sleuths released him and he got the job. . . . Al Jancauskas, husky freshman tackle prospect in Marquette university's summer football practice, will not be 17 years old until Nov. 29. . . . He is from Chicago's St. Ignatius High. . . . The All-America conference will hold its next meeting in Chicago Aug. 31 and Sept. 1, according to Commissioner Jim Crowley. . . . Ensign Henry Altepeter, 1944 half back at Northwestern and former Big Ten quarter mile champion, is gunnery officer aboard an LST in a forward Pacific area. . . . Elmer Layden has done a good job in reducing travel by National league football clubs, despite attacks upon one or two club owners by unfriendly columnists.

Baseball players have fallen into field boxes, dugouts, or just plain trances in chasing fly balls, but the most amusing incident of all time is held by Sox Seybold, old time Philadelphia Athletics' star outfielder. . . . One day when the A's were playing Washington in Philadelphia an overflow crowd necessitated ground rules, more than 2,000 fans being roped off in the outfield. . . . Hot dog vendors were pushing their carts thru this throng when Seybold backed up for a long fly. . . . He not only backed into the ropes, falling squarely on a vendor's wagon, but he also dropped smack into a bowl of mustard. . . . When the fans got a glimpse of the seat of his pants the ensuing roar was heard for miles. . . . Neither Henry J. Sandberg, who lost $35,000 last year backing the Portland Rockets, nor Al Davies, who dropped a similar sum in Seattle, will operate teams in the Pacific Coast Pro Football league this fall. . . . Chicago's Junior Association of Commerce predicts that attendance at the annual All-Star football luncheon in the Sherman hotel Aug. 23 will break all records for the affair.

GOLDEN GLOVER KNOCKS OUT NIPS; GETS CITATION

Pvt. Vernon H. Fairchild, Elgin, Golden Gloves boxer now home on hospitalization leave, was cited by the war department yesterday for killing six Japs and knocking out two concealed machine guns which had pinned his company down for two days in the Mt. Calugong area on Luzon.

The citation said Fairchild volunteered to scout the area after the company had been pinned down. After deliberately making the enemy fire at him to expose their positions, Fairchild killed the Japs and knocked out the machine guns, the citation said.

Fairchild, who participated in Golden Gloves matches in Rockford and Joliet, is visiting his mother, Mrs. Wayne Fairchild, 388 Algona av., Elgin. His wife, Mrs. Pearl Fairchild, and three children reside in South Beloit, Wis. He will return to Valley Forge hospital August 19.

WASHINGTON TO OPEN ITS OWN MEETING TODAY

Offer Rich Purses at Homewood

BY MAURICE SHEVLIN

With the most successful Arlington Park race meeting of all time now just a matter for the records, Washington Park will open its portion of the 64 day coördinated meeting at the Homewood track today. The schedule calls for 30 days, closing Sept. 6.

A dozen big stake events remain on the program arranged by Executive Director Benjamin F. Lindheimer and associates, including the $50,000 Arlington handicap tomorrow, and the American Derby and the Washington Park handicap, each of which also carries $50,000 in added money.

Speaking of records, Arlington Park's 34 days of nationally important thorobred competition showed a 15 per cent increase in attendance over 1944 and a 22 per cent rise in the mutuel handle above last year's record breaking meeting.

Wager More Than $40,000,000

Last summer Arlington Park ran for 40 days, including five days sponsored by the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., a venture in which all five Chicagoland tracks coöperated by giving up a day each from their allotted dates. The entire meeting drew 613,586 spectators and wagering totaled $38,536,552.

The mutuel handle for the 1945 meeting totaled $40,288,079 when yesterday's closing day crowd of 14,000 wagered $1,142,962. The average daily handle was $1,184,944 and the total attendance reached 584,628, an average of 17,194. Distribution of added money in stakes and purses amounted to $1,070,910 for the 34 days. Last year's figure was $777,924.

Recent workouts by Dave Straus' Daily Trouble, Calumet's Pot o' Luck, and Louis B. Mayer's Busher, indicate the fitness of these important candidates for the Arlington handicap tomorrow.

Pot o' Luck Is Ready

Daily Trouble, top weighted for the mile and a quarter race, was on the track Wednesday afternoon for a mile blowout in 1:44 4-5, which he accomplished handily over the muddy strip. This move of the Great Western and Equipoise mile winner pleased Trainer Howard Wells, who may start Walmac farm's Old Kentuck as a running mate.

The track was "good" Tuesday morning when Busher and Pot o' Luck received their preparation. The filly was breezed a mile and a furlong in 1:55 4-5 by Trainer George Odom.

Fred Burton, racing secretary, announced yesterday that 22 handicap stars have been nominated for the $15,000 Sheridan Wednesday. The distance of this historic stake, inaugurated in 1884, has been shortened to seven furlongs. Last year it was a mile affair and before that was run at a mile and an eighth and a mile and a quarter.

Daily Double Pays $230.40

Patrimony, Louis B. Mayer's 3 year old son of Beau Pere, clipped three-fifths of a second off the track record for a mile and a half on the turf course in winning Arlington's closing feature, the $5,000 Buen Ojo handicap. The winner's time of 2:32 4-5 was only two-fifths slower than the American record set by Bonnie Kelso at Sheepshead Bay, L. I., in 1909.

Jockey Willie Bailey kept Patrimony close behind Miss Transit, the early pacesetter, and took him to the front on the far turn the second time around the course. The winner paid $10.40.

The daily double was worth $230.40 when Tiger Boy, ridden by Al Bodiou, won the first race at $6.00, and Duquesne, Steve Brooks up, took the second at $43.20.

Indians Score Eight in Third Inning; Rout White Sox, 13-7

BY IRVING VAUGHAN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Cleveland, O., Aug. 2—The White Sox closed out a somewhat unhappy tour this afternoon but their actions hardly indicated they were even slightly concerned about going home to face their constitutents, if not their employer. For the final they submitted to a 13 to 7 pasting at the hands of the Indians, a result that gave James Dykes' entry a record of 10 defeats against 6 successes while en route.

Today's happenings could have been due to the heat and then again might have been because the pitching was weak, probably the latter. At any rate, even the Sox hit in a way that amazed all present but their unruly ways in this respect meant nothing because the Indians were just a trifle more potent. For instance, they finished the Chicagoans off for the afternoon with a snappy third inning that netted eight runs.

Starters Leave Early

Free scoring by both factions at the start made short work of Starters Johnny Humphries and Allie Reynolds, the latter seeking his 12th victory for the Indians. In looking over his bull pen help for a man who might be an improvement over Humphries, Boss Dykes picked Lee Ross to start the third. And, unfortunately for Ross, he was present while the eight run jamboree was under way in the third, the heavy thump of the inning being homer No. 10 by Pat Seerey with the bases filled.

The distressing third went something like this: With one out, Manager Lou Boudreau doubled and Frank Hayes was purposely passed. Felix Mackiewicz, Al Cihocki, and Jack Salveson, who had relieved Reynolds, all singled, this much scoring four runs. Dutch Meyers doubled and Mickey Rocco walked, filling the bases. And then Seerey exploded his homer. Naturally enough, Ross was not around for the next inning.

Mule Haas Is Chased

The usual complaint of Sox pitchers is that they are run starved. This wasn't true for Humphries today because the boys gave him one run in the first inning on hits by LeRoy Schalk, Kerby Farrell and John Dickshot and two more in the second on singles by Oris Hockett, Cass Michaels, and Wally Moses. But in this same stretch Humphries gave up four runs, a total that caused his removal.

After getting nowhere yesterday, when he beefed about Coach Burt Shotton of the Indians roaming beyond the confines of the coaching box, Manager Dykes had Mule Haas adopt the Shotton tactics today. As an experiment, it was a success. Mr. Haas was bounced by Ump George Pipgras.

The Sox will meet the Detroit Tigers under the Comiskey park lights tomorrow night.

BY EDWARD BURNS

Paul Derringer, biggest man on the Cubs, and Peanuts Lowrey, the littlest, who used a Derringer model bat in big Bill Nicholson's erstwhile spot in the batting order for the first time yesterday, were the main collaborators in a 1 to 0 Cub victory, a perfect checkoff of the 1 to 0 decision the Pirates' achieved Wednesday. While 230-pound Paul and 170-pound Peanuts were the main men, Paul with a three-hit performance and Peanuts with a double and two stellar catches, their duet would not have been so beautiful but for Don Johnson, who scored the only run on Lowrey's double after singling with two out in the sixth inning, then saved the edge with a spectacular tag-and-throw double play in the seventh.

The victory was Derringer's 12th of the year and the 219th of his National league career. He previously had not won as many as a dozen since he achieved that total with the Cincy Reds in 1941. It was his first shutout of the year but his 32d in National league competition.

Roe Is Pretty Good Too

Prior to their scoring enterprise in the sixth, the Cubs had been held by Preacher Roe to a single by Len Merullo with one out in the third inning, a single by Phil Cavarretta with two out in the fourth and a lead-off single by Andy Pafko in the fifth.

Derringer was thrown out by Frankie Gustine at the start of the victory sixth and Stan Hack was tossed out by Roe. Johnson then singled to left, whereupon Lowrey banged a double off the doorway in left center, scoring Johnson. Peanuts got to third on the relay to the plate, the only Cub other than Johnson to get that far. Cavarretta then ran the count to three balls and two strikes before grounding out to Gustine.

Colman Is Bogey Man

Two of the three hits off Derringer were by Frank Colman, who beat the Cubs with a double Wednesday. Al Glonfriddo made the first Pirate hit, a twisting bouncer past Merullo in the second inning. Colman's first hit was a single which bounced off his bat in the fifth when

BLIND SAILOR CREWS TRIUMPH OVER GI RIVALS

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 2 (AP)—Two crews of blind sailors stroked their way to victory today over sightless soldier sixes in quarter-mile races on the Schuylkill river.

The first navy crew, stroked by Marine Corp. Tom McQuade of Buffalo, N. Y., won by half a length in 2:25.

is 24 years of age, weighs 210 pounds, and is 6 feet tall. He best remembers Auburn's 1942 game with the University of Georgia when his team defeated the Rose bowl bound Bulldogs. Eddins was graduated with a bachelor of science degree in economics and entered military service Nov. 20, 1943.

Tickets Still Available

Addition of these experienced men to the All-Star squad is further proof that Head Coach Bernie Bierman and his assistants will have material with which to prepare for the best the professional champions have to offer on attack. The players report for practice Aug. 12 at Northwestern university.

While a capacity crowd is expected in Soldiers' field for the 12th game in the series sponsored by The Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., tickets for the $2.40 and $1.20 sections still may be purchased in The Tribune public service offices, 1 S. Dearborn st., and the lobby of Tribune Tower. They may be ordered by mail from the All-Star Ticket Manager, Tribune Tower.

Scorer's Correction Gives Eaton Credit for Victory

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 2 (AP)—An official scorer's correction today gave Relief Pitcher Zeb Eaton credit for the Detroit Tigers' 9 to 8 ninth inning victory over St. Louis Wednesday, instead of Frank (Stubby) Overmire, who replaced Eaton in the ninth and yielded three hits and two runs in one inning. The victory is Eaton's fourth of the season against a single defeat.

JOYCE, LARKIN TO BOX TONIGHT IN GARDEN RING

New York, Aug 2 (AP)—Willie Joyce and Tippy Larkin meet at Madison Square Garden tomorrow night in a 10 round bout that promises to more than make up for the lack of action on last week's card.

Early betting odds made Joyce, a Gary, Ind., lightweight, a 1 to 2 favorite to chalk up his fourth straight victory in the 8th av. arena. But the odds have dropped steadily as the boys recalled Larkin's ability as a boxer and a puncher. The latest quotation was 5 to 6.

Derringer and Cubs Shut Out Pirates, 1 to 0

The third and last Pirate hit was a simon pure double by Colman which stirred up a scare in the seventh. With one down, Colman doubled to the left field corner. Bill Salkeld lined to Pafko, who dropped the ball after a hard run. Colman, who had returned to second on the expected catch, having to stop at third. Gustine bounced to Johnson, who fumbled, recovered in time to tag Salkeld then threw to first to double Gustine.

Unless he was hiding some place, Manager Frankie Frisch was spared eye-witness pain of losing yesterday. He was chased in the sixth inning for hurling epithets at Umpire Tom Dunn from the shadows of the dugout.

They're Five and a Half Ahead

The game ended the Cub home stand, which included 22 completed and one suspended games. Under the practice of ignoring suspended games until they are completed, the Cubs won 17 of the 22, after bringing home a 10 game winning streak from their last road trip.

They were a game in first place when they came home. They left after yesterday's game on a five city road trip, 5½ games ahead of the second place Cardinals and six ahead of the third place Dodgers.

This evening they will meet the Reds in a twilight-night double header. They have whipped the Reds 13 out of 13 thus far this season.

Mangrum Is Leader in GI Golf with 216

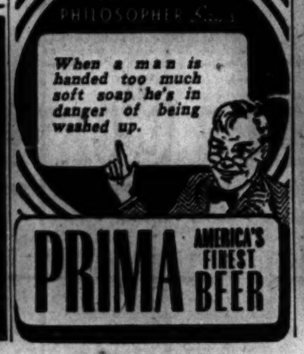
PLAY POSTPONED BOYS ALL-STAR GAME TOMORROW

The postponed half of a boys' double header baseball meeting will be played tomorrow in Rock-Ola stadium with the Metropolitan league All-Stars meeting a team selected from outstanding players in the Chicago Sports association's baseball schools. The game originally was scheduled for last Saturday, but was canceled because of rain after the C. Y. O. All-Stars had defeated an American Legion nine, 1 to 0, in seven innings.

Following tomorrow's contest, a group of major league scouts and amateur baseball officials will select the outstanding performer from competitors in the two games. The player so adjudged will represent the Chicago area in the annual East-West game in New York Aug. 28.

Kearns to Seek New Date for Ray Robinson Bout

Matchmaker Jack Kearns last night said he plans to leave for New York today to seek a new date for his 12 round bout between Ray [Sugar] Robinson and Jack Lamotta, scheduled in Comiskey park Aug. 23. The next available date in Comiskey park is Sept. 6.



RILEY, PETERSEN FIGHT TONIGHT AT WHITE CITY

Odell Riley, Detroit heavyweight boxer, who knocked out Johnny Flanagan twice and fought to a draw with Hubert Hood in three previous Chicago starts, returns tonight for a 10 round bout with Bill Petersen of Indiana Harbor in White City, 63d st. and South Park av. Petersen, who weighs 195 pounds, 14 more than Riley, knocked out Mack Parshey, also of Detroit, in three rounds in last Friday's headliner in the south side arena. Earlier Bill had stopped Johnny Vorce in the first round.

Bernard Paige, 1945 city Golden Gloves lightweight champion, will make his professional debut against Wray Carter, Golden Gloves featherweight winner, in one of two supporting matches of four rounds. The other will bring together Bill Sullivan, Los Angeles heavyweight, and Big Ed Lander of St. Louis. In one of three six round contests Benny Droll, capable Peoria middleweight, is paired with Pete Jackson of the south side.

Pvt. Tim Dalton, former Chicago Golden Gloves lightweight title holder, and Al Prislinger, ex-Catholic Youth organization welterweight champion, will appear in two contests of five rounds heading this evening's amateur show in Madison-Cicero outdoor arena, 4820 Madison st., the former against Johnny Mattius of Nashville, Tenn., and Prislinger against Albert Stephenson of the south side. Other matches:

Richard Brewer, Madison A. C., vs. William Tillman, Savoy A. C. [3], 138.

POPULARITY LIVES ON AND ON
The enjoyment of Johnnie Walker is one of life's enduring pleasures. Smooth as velvet... mellow as an old friendship... each sip of this choice scotch whisky is a memorable occasion.
Popular Johnnie Walker can't be everywhere all the time these days. If occasionally he is "out" when you call... call again.

NEW FINANCING METHOD USED FOR AIRCRAFT

Chattel Mortgage Given by T. W. A.

BY PHILIP HAMPSON

A method new to the air transport industry for financing new equipment was announced yesterday by Transcontinental and Western Air, Inc. The company arranged with nine banks a loan of $1,700,000 secured by a chattel mortgage to finance complete rebuilding and refurbishing of five 38 passenger 4 engine Stratoliners received back from the army and recently placed in service.

Jack Frye

The Harris Trust and Savings bank was the only Chicago bank to participate in the financing.

Jack Frye, president of T. W. A., said the transaction represented a "step toward establishing a new pattern for equipment financing in the rapidly growing air line industry."

Step Toward Rail Plan

The air lines and banks for several years have been studying methods to finance purchase of new equipment in a way similar to the equipment trust plan used by railroads. The T. W. A. financing was not made in this form, but Chicago bankers described it as a "step in that direction."

In the T. W. A. transaction the Commercial National Bank and Trust Company of New York acts as trustee. The air line holds the title to the planes and in the event of failure to meet payments the bank would foreclose under the mortgage.

Under the Philadelphia equipment trust plan, the one used most commonly by the railroads, title to equipment such as passenger or freight cars is held by the trustee and the equipment is leased to the railroad. Payment, in the form of rentals, is made to the trustee and when the entire cost has been paid title to the equipment is transferred to the railroad.

"Security" Could Skip Out

The reason the equipment trust plan has not been worked out for the air lines is a technical one. In the event of failure to meet a rail passenger car payment, for example, the trustee could go to the road and take physical possession of the equipment. But an airplane may fly out of the country and with it go the loan security.

The T. W. A. loan agreement provides a five year maturity with principal payable in 20 quarterly instalments and interest averaging below 2 per cent. The loan is based on 85 per cent of the net depreciated value of the collateral, in which substitutions may be made. The loan may be repaid at any time without penalty and the indenture may be modified.

Railroad equipment trust payments usually are completed in 10 years or less, with interest ranging down from 2½ or 3 per cent to less than 1 per cent for early maturities.

Rail trust certificates long have been regarded as top investment securities, and major air lines believe their earnings record justifies as favorable an equipment purchase system as that of the railroads.

Cash in Circulation Passes 27 Billions for First Time

Washington, D. C., Aug. 2 (AP)—Money in circulation has increased 204 million dollars in the last week after a net decrease of 6 millions in the preceding two weeks. The federal reserve board weekly condition statement today showed money in circulation has gone above 27 billions for the first time. The July increase was reported as 361 millions on the basis of preliminary information.

AVIATION CORP. DEAL TO BUY CROSLEY, WLW WINS FCC APPROVAL

Washington, D. C., Aug. 2 (AP)—Quick approval by the federal communications commission today cleared the way for the sale of control of the Crosley corporation, owner of station WLW, Cincinnati, and other radio facilities, to Aviation corporation. Acting only a few hours after final oral hearings, the FCC authorized the sale by Aug. 16 as provided in a 22 million dollar sale contract between the two companies.

Aviation corporation will purchase approximately 64 per cent of the 545,800 Crosley shares at $39 a share from Powel Crosley Jr. and family, and a similar offer has been made to minority stock holders. Operations of WLW will not be affected, said Crosley interests.

Commissioners Paul A. Porter, chairman; E. K. Jett, Charles R. Denny, and William H. Wills were the majority in the four to three decision, with Paul A. Walker, Ray C. Wakefield, and Clifford J. Durr dissenting. The commissioners were unanimous that the case raised problems requiring legislative clarification and which will be referred to congress with specific recommendations.

National Steel Earnings Rise in 2d Quarter

National Steel corporation, one of four steel producers which yesterday reported gains in earnings, had net income in the quarter ended June 30 of $3,453,183, or $1.56 a share, against $2,863,315, or $1.30 a share, a year earlier. Profit in the first six months of the year was $6,883,171, or $3.12 a share, compared to $5,413,458, or $2.45 a share.

Allegheny Ludlum Steel corporation had a profit of $1,027,097, or $1 cents a share, in the second quarter, against $865,065, or 65 cents, last year. Six months' profit was $1,963,787, or $1.55 a share, against $1,665,175, or $1.24 a share.

Hiland G. Batcheller, president, said Allegheny Ludlum plants were expected to continue to operate "substantially at capacity, with employment at high level," despite war cutbacks. He said a substantial volume of civilian business already had been booked.

Midland Gain Is Slight

Second quarter earnings of Midland Steel Products company were $383,015, or 70.3 cents a share, compared with $381,851, or 69.8 cents a share in the corresponding period of 1944. Six months' figures were $760,611, or $1.38 a share, against $752,761, or $1.35 a share.

Follansbee Steel corporation had net income in the first half of 1945 of $144,234, or 37 cents a share, in contrast with a $378,509 loss a year earlier.

Earnings of Hupp Motor Car corporation in the first half of the year, subject to renegotiation, rose to $803,388, or 40 cents a share, from $269,464, or 16 cents a share, a year ago. R. S. Geddes, president, said war contract cutbacks reduced unfilled orders to $5,900,000 on June 30 from 8 million on Dec. 31.

Comparisons Not Available

American Phenolic corporation, Chicago manufacturer of precision parts for the electronic and aircraft industries, had a second quarter profit of $203,598, or 50 cents a share, and a half year total of $425,085, or $1.06 a share. Comparative figures were not available, the company said, because of modification of auditing practices since a public offering of stock early this year. Unfilled orders in the first six months this year rose to 12 million from 9½ million dollars.

Byron Jackson company, manufacturer of oil industry equipment, had profit of $165,833, or 44 cents a share, in the quarter ended June 30, compared with $147,729, or 39 cents, a year ago. E. S. Dulin, president, said net billings were 12 per cent larger. Complete reconversion to peace time manufacture is expected by Sept. 1.

FCC WILL PROBE CABLE CHARGES OF 4 COMPANIES

Washington, D. C., Aug. 2 (AP)—The federal communications commission today ordered an investigation of message charges by R. C. A. Communications, Inc., Commercial Cable company, Mackay Radio and Telegraph company, and Western Union Telegraph company between Italy and the territories and possessions of the United States.

The commission suspended new increased telegraph charges filed by R. C. A. Communications between these points. The increases ranged from 6½ cents a word between Italy and Guam to 29 cents a word between Italy and St. Croix, Virgin Islands.

The commission authorized Press Wireless, Inc., to reduce press message rates between the United States and Bern, Switzerland. The reductions amount to approximately 2 cents a word for ordinary and deferred messages and 4 cents a word for urgent messages.

1944 REVENUES OF ROCK ISLAND LINE SET RECORD

Total operating revenue of the Rock Island railroad in 1944 of $190,401,106 established an all-time high for the road and exceeded 1943 by 7.8 per cent, a report filed with Federal Judge Igoe by the trustees disclosed yesterday. Net income, however, decreased $10,621,789 to $26,415,819, principally because of increased federal excess profits and income taxes, which amounted to $12,400,000.

Freight revenues of $131,528,322 and passenger revenues of $44,499,164 also were the highest in the history of the road, exceeding 1943 by 7 per cent and 11 per cent, respectively, said Joseph B. Fleming and Aaron Colnon, trustees.

Stockholders Authorize Pressed Steel Expansion

Pressed Steel Car company stockholders yesterday authorized the company to manufacture and deal in household appliances, and heating, air conditioning, and refrigeration equipment. The company will produce its new lines in its Hegewisch plant. Its proxy statement said expenditures of $750,000 would be required to convert the plant.

AVERY ASSAILS ARMY CURB ON FILLING ORDERS

Charges Attempt to Widen Seizure

Sewell Avery, chairman of Montgomery Ward & Co., yesterday wrote Secretary of War Stimson demanding that he rescind an order that certain of Ward's mail order houses now under army seizure refuse to fill orders from Ward stores not under seizure unless the unseized stores pay the sales price, taxes, and shipping costs charged the customer.

"You now have seized and retain more than $35,000,000 of Ward's merchandise and other property, for which you have paid Ward's nothing," the letter says. "You refuse to fill orders for Ward's customers out of Ward's merchandise unless Ward's pays a second time for this merchandise.

Called Widening of Seizure

"You threaten to deny service to thousands of Ward's customers unless Ward's accepts your demands. You threaten to deprive these customers of this service despite the fact that the executive order professing to authorize seizure of Ward's properties asserted that 'an interruption of the company activities would unduly delay and impede the war effort.' In other words, you are causing the very injury to the public which you were ordered to prevent.

"Without offering Ward's reimbursement for the $35,000,000 of Ward's property you retain, you are demanding a share of the profits earned by the unseized branches of the company. You are in effect attempting to seize these other branches without even the shadow of authority.

"Furthermore, your assertion that you are 'operating' the seized properties is not the fact. These properties continue to be operated by the personnel selected and employed by Ward's, under the guidance and advice of Ward's executives. Your officers are not equipped by experience or knowledge to manage these properties.

"Thousands" of Orders Unfilled

"Each day you are leaving thousands of customers' orders unfilled. If you continue to refuse to fill such orders, the consequent loss of business will soon require the discharge of many employes.

"In view of the damage you threaten to Ward's business and to its 60,000 shareholders, Ward's directors and officers are compelled to demand that you withdraw your indefensible order refusing to serve Ward's customers."

TEXAN SELECTED COORDINATOR TO SPEED BUILDING

Washington, D. C., Aug. 2 (AP)—Hugh Potter of Houston, Tex., former president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, today was appointed coördinator of a newly organized federal interagency committee by War Mobilizer Snyder to speed reconversion of the construction industry.

The committee will be composed of representatives of the office of war mobilization, office of economic stabilization, WPB, OPA, national housing agency, war labor board, federal works agency, war man power commission, the departments of commerce and labor, and the Smaller War Plants corporation.

Snyder said the committee will review programs and plans of various federal agencies with respect to construction activity; coördinate their policies and procedures to facilitate reconversion of the construction industry, determine impediments to speedy resumption of construction, and make recommendations to OWM.

IDLE IN STRIKES EXCEEDS 45,000, HIGHEST IN WEEK

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS]

The country's idle labor total rose above 45,000 yesterday, the highest mark in a week, with about two-fifths of those off their jobs workers in strategic metal working industries.

Nearly 1,375 open hearth workers renewed a walkout begun a week ago at the Republic Steel corporation, Cleveland, O., to enforce a "full crew" demand. All departments of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company, Youngstown, O., were closed except the coke ovens in a walkout of 32 maintenance employes which made 1,300 persons idle in a dispute over a change in a line shift.

Eight plants of Reynolds Metals company in New York City; Glendale, N. Y.; Louisville, Ky.; and Richmond, Va., were idle as 6,500 aluminum workers remained off their jobs over contract negotiations on 13 issues.

French Seek Quick Export Trade Boost

BY DAVID DARRAH

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

PARIS, Aug. 2—Economic planners in France's ministry of national economy have started an export program which has as a goal the partial recovery of former French export markets within a year, it was said in Paris today. The ministry is headed by Finance Minister Rene Pleven.

The French do not expect to have regained the full volume of their former export business by that time, but they believe they will be in a position to make a quick recovery of their former volume by that time, ministry officials said.

High Rate Curbs Exports

A rise in exports of luxury goods, including wines, brandies, champagnes, silks, and cheese, has been impeded because of the price factor. The franc exchange is so high that these goods cannot be sold in the United States, for instance, because of office of price administration price ceilings. A consignment of brandy now in New York is held up because French prices under the present exchange rate make its sale unprofitable under price regulations.

French officials said no change in exchange rates would be made until French industry is rehabilitated to permit exportation of industrial products.

French officials emphasized the price factor is the main obstacle in the resumption of the export trade and for the moment little can be done about this. They also said the need for acquiring balances in foreign currencies, particularly in dollars, is becoming more urgent because of the necessity of making purchases in the United States and other countries.

Tourist Trade Halted by War

Once France obtained a large amount of dollars thru the tourist trade, but this has gone since the war and likely will not be resumed for another couple of years. One suggestion is to relax exchange rates and put more purchasing power in the hands of soldier buyers.

Officials said that the lack of coal was the main factor holding up recovery of French industrial production. The requirement of 3½ million tons of coal monthly has been only a little more than half attained, but new sources of supply from the United States, the Saar, and the Ruhr are expected to rectify the position by the middle of next year.

Treaties Made Recently

The French in recent months have concluded trade treaties with Belgium, Holland, Spain, Switzerland, Sweden, and England, and are negotiating with the United States.

The French are keeping up a small volume of exports in raw materials, including 6 million tons of phosphates annually from North Africa and 50 million tons of potash from Alsace and some bauxite and iron ore.

VETERANS TOLD TO HELP SELVES KEEP FREEDOM

Altho it will be the task of every one to help make jobs for returning veterans, these men and women "must realize in convincing terms that the freedom for which they fought will be lost unless they are willing to stand on their own feet and create their success as civilians out of their own abilities," Hamilton Holt of Macon, Ga., president of Kiwanis International, told the Kiwanis Club of Chicago yesterday at a luncheon in the Hotel Sherman. The veterans will lose this freedom as surely as they rely too much on a paternalistic government, he warned.

DESIGNERS AND DRAFTSMEN

Process and Piping Designers and Draftsmen; Plumbing Designers and Draftsmen; Structural Designers and Draftsmen; urgently needed for employment in Engineering Department. Men must have experience in their particular line of work. Men lacking engineering degree but possessing practical experience, will be considered. LIGGETT, MYERS SELLS BIG ISSUE OF DEBENTURES

Forty million dollars of Liggett & Myers Tobacco company 2⅝ per cent sinking fund debentures have been sold at par to the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States, the company announced yesterday. The issue will provide for further expansion of its business.

Commencing in 10 years the company will pay 2 million dollars annually into a sinking fund for retirement of the securities due on Aug. 1, 1965. It also announced its revolving credit agreement with a group of banks, providing up to 75 million dollars until September, 1948, had been extended five years from Aug. 1.

Solar Aircraft company's registration of 50,000 common shares has become effective. Reynolds & Co. is the underwriter.

TOOL MAKERS DEMAND DRAFT POLICY CHANGE

Inductions Termed Curb on Output

The Tool and Die Institute of Chicago yesterday warned the ending of draft deferments for irreplaceable tool and die makers was defeating continued peak war production and hampering reconversion. The institute represents 150 producers.

It demanded remedial action by the government in a protest to War Mobilization Director Snyder.

"Under a directive from Washington, the various government procurement agencies have been forced to withdraw from the local draft boards certifications made by the agencies last spring for deferment from military service of many irreplaceable and indispensable tool and die makers under 30 years of age," the institute said.

Warns of Serious Depletion

"According to reports, only 10 per cent of the men in this age bracket will be left in Chicago tool and die shops, and elsewhere thruout the country, by fall."

Asking Snyder to countermand the Washington directive withdrawing the deferment certifications, the institute said special tools, dies, jigs, and fixtures are the cornerstone of all mass production. Without these special tools, industry is unable to start the mass production of anything.

Chicago tool and die shops already have lost 20 per cent of their highly skilled men to the military and any further drain on man power will create a serious bottleneck, it asserted. It takes 8,000 hours of training to make a skilled tool and diemaker, and every man now taken is irreplaceable, the institute said.

Cutbacks to Increase

It is obvious that war contract cutbacks and cancellations will increase as victory in the Pacific is approached, it said, asserting that industry must be prepared to take up the slack by resumption of peace time production on a wide scale if the country is to avoid mass unemployment and severe economic dislocation.

Lending strength to the protest was the war production board report Wednesday that months of unfilled orders congest the books of general industrial equipment producers, with the shortage of man power continuing in many cases.

CHEER UP! OTHER 11 MILLION TAX REFUNDS ON WAY

Washington, D. C., Aug. 2 (AP)—If you are one of the 11 million persons still waiting for refunds on income taxes, cheer up. It won't be long now.

Secretary of the Treasury Vinson announced today that refunds have been stepped up in an effort to complete the work by Sept. 15. The goal set earlier was Oct. 15. Last year, many tax payers still had not received their refund checks at the end of December.

About 22 million individual refunds must be made this year because too much was withheld from wages during 1944. As of last Friday 10,968,000 refund checks had been issued, amounting to $481,980,000.

Snyder Move to Keep WPB Rule Expected

John W. Snyder

Washington, D. C., Aug. 2 (AP)—War Mobilizer Snyder soon will recommend to President Truman that the war production board's operations be extended to cover reconversion.

His proposal would enable WPB to use its broad war time priority powers to break bottlenecks which might obstruct a rapid return to high level peace time activity.

WPB would work under policies laid down by directives from Snyder as director of the office of war mobilization and reconversion, said two officials familiar with the administration.

Follows Mead Lead

This would make WPB a ready-to-use operating arm of OWMR during the reconversion period, carrying out in part a recommendation of the senate war investigating committee headed by Sen. Mead [D., N. Y.].

The Mead committee, reporting reconversion has been moving too slowly since V-E day, urged that OWMR place itself on a "supervisory operating basis with direct control over other agencies" rather than "confine itself to umpiring disputes" between the lesser agencies.

The committee also urged that OWMR lay heavier emphasis on reconversion.

Whether the proposal would mean the continuance of the priority power after the war to channel materials and manufacturing facilities into the most important or most handicapped industries, was a question yet unanswered.

Shortages May Remain

WPB has declared its intention to step aside and "get out of the way of industry" when Japan capitulates. It is possible, however, that some shortages may linger after Japan's fall, necessitating longer government control.

The present authority of WPB limits its operations to shortages affecting national defense, and doubt has arisen whether WPB can continue to give preference to some industries over others, and to some plants over other plants, within the field of civilian production. The broadening of authority would reinforce WPB's hand in making such determinations for orderly reconversion.

Administration spokesmen believe the extended powers could be granted by executive action of President Truman, without further legislative authority than the reconversion act of last October.

SHORTAGE OF WHITE SHIRTS IS ATTRIBUTED TO EXCESSIVE EXPORT

Washington, D. C., Aug. 2 (AP)—Large shipments of shirt materials to foreign nations have left American manufacturers without the necessary goods for white shirts, Rep. Dickstein [D., N. Y.] asserted today.

Dickstein said the WPB and foreign economic administration had ruled that most domestic needs would be satisfied only after large quotas of foreign export are filled. From July 1, 1945, to Oct. 1, 1945, 20½ million yards of shirt material will be sent to South America, 1,100,000 to Mexico, and 128 million to other nations.

VANDENBERG'S LABOR PEACE PLAN INDORSED

Schwellenbach Will Call Parley

Washington, D. C., Aug. 2 (AP)—Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach today indorsed immediately a suggestion by Sen. Vandenberg [R., Mich.] that he sponsor a general industrial peace conference, but it may not be held until his contemplated departmental reorganization is accomplished.

Vandenberg recommended in a letter that leading representatives of industry, labor, and government be called together to seek a program to avoid strife in the reconversion period. Schwellenbach told his former senate colleague he had "been thinking more and more during these last few weeks about the desirability of calling a conference of industry and labor."

Coöperation Promised

William Green, American Federation of Labor president, said the AFL always was ready to seek coöperative relationships with industry representatives and that he would submit the proposals to the executive council meeting in Chicago next week.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States welcomed a voluntary labor-management conference, asserted Eric Johnston, president, and hoped government would confine its role in the parley to that of sponsor. Ira Mosher, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, termed the suggestion "encouraging" and said N. A. M. gladly would participate "in a movement that has its origin in an atmosphere of free give and take."

Delay May Be Advised

Some government officials concerned with labor said Schwellenbach was sold on the idea, but that he was deeply immersed in streamlining labor affairs and indicated they would advise him to postpone any such major project as the conference until that job is done.

Schwellenbach had hoped to have his reorganization plan outlined by Aug. 1, including a decision on proposals that all such agencies as the war labor board, national labor relations board, and other divorced divisions be integrated in the department. He had hoped to have the program in operation by Sept. 1, except for any matters that might require legislation, but this is considered improbable.

Vandenberg, who was a delegate to the San Francisco world security conference, urged following the example set when the delegates from 50 nations sat together and "frankly faced" their problems in a "triumph of the council table."

Fights Needless Strife

In urging industrial peace he said he was especially concerned lest "needless strife" interfere with reconversion "and permanently jeopardize the country and all its citizenship."

A sturdy base of common agreement already exists, he said, in industrial acceptance of collective bargaining, labor realization that "irresponsible strikes and subversive attacks upon essential production" threaten labor's own interests, and government knowledge that "social statutes are futile except as they largely stem from mutual wisdom and mutual consent."

STOCK MARKET TURNS LOWER; VOLUME SMALL

Traders Await Details of Big Three Result

New York, Aug. 2 (AP)—Stock market leaders, with a few exceptions, turned downward today without uncovering heavy selling. The principal excuse for the trimming of accounts and general aloofness was the wish to await publication of the Big Three conference results, released after the close.

Timidity also was attributed to expectation of possible far eastern developments and another decline of "nationalization" securities on the London exchange in reflection of the Labor party's election victory. Dividends and earnings prospects again aided individual favorites.

Dealings were slow from the start and transfers of 600,000 shares were the smallest for a full session since April 9 and compared with 650,000 Wednesday. Losses of a point or more were reduced in most cases in the final hour.

The Associated Press 60-stock average was off 0.2 at 64.4. The market again lacked breadth with only 802 issues traded. Of these 386 were down, 211 up, and 205 unchanged.

BOND PRICES DIP

New York, Aug. 2 (AP)—The bond market was lower today after early attempts to gain failed. The rails and industrials were lower on average with industrials at a new 1945 low. Utilities and low yields were unchanged and foreign bonds rose fractions. Sales of $3,310,000 were lower than the quiet Wednesday session, when volume reached $3,680,000.

CHICAGO ISSUES DECLINE

Prices declined and turnover increased to 25,000 shares yesterday on the Chicago Stock exchange. Among more active issues were Chicago corporation common and Commonwealth Edison, both unchanged; Admiral, down ⅛, and Swift, off ¼. Central and South West Utilities preferred closed at 145, up 1, a 1945 peak for the third consecutive day.

SUGAR SUBSIDY INCREASED FOR MANUFACTURERS

Washington, D. C., Aug. 2 (AP)—The department of agriculture took another step today to increase production of sugar by raising subsidy payments to sugar cane and sugar beet processors. Secretary of Agriculture Anderson yesterday announced an increase in the subsidy payments for producers or growers of sugar cane or sugar beets.

Processors of the 1945 sugar beet crop will be paid a subsidy of 18 cents per 100 pounds of refined sugar compared with 12½ cents last year to offset increased production costs. Louisiana and Florida processors of 1945 crop sugar cane will receive 15 cents per 100 pounds of raw sugar. Last year no subsidy was paid to processors in these states.

Processors of 1946 crop sugar cane in Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, and Hawaii will receive 15 cents per 100 pounds of raw sugar. The Puerto Rican and Virgin Islands subsidy on the 1945 crop was 10 cents. In Hawaii, where growers are also the processors, the government paid a combination subsidy of 55 cents.

UTILITIES FIGHT MVA AS GROUP, BACKERS CHARGE

Omaha, Neb., Aug. 2 (AP)—The regional committee for MVA tomorrow will ask congress to investigate what the committee termed a propaganda agency set up by holding companies "to pour millions of dollars into the fight" against a Missouri valley authority, Leif Erickson, committee president, said today.

"The private electric power industry is mobilizing for a fight against public ownership and against the principle of TVA type regional development," the former Montana Supreme court justice said.

Erickson said private utilities "have set up the National Association of Electric Companies" which "has opened Washington offices and is prepared to pour millions of dollars into the fight against an MVA."

Continental Casualty's Net Premium Writings Rise

Underwriting profit of the Continental Casualty company for the first half of 1945 was $1,662,971 and not $21,285,141 as was reported in yesterday's CHICAGO TRIBUNE. Net premium writings during the first six months of 1945 were $21,285,141, an increase of $2,065,638 over a year earlier.

R. R. DONNELLEY BUYS 623 FEET OF I. C. FRONTAGE

Plans Printing Plant to Cost Million

BY AL CHASE

Plans for a large new printing plant to cover an entire city block and cost more than 1 million dollars were disclosed yesterday when the R. R. Donnelley & Sons company, operator of the Lakeside Press, purchased 623 feet of frontage along the Illinois Central railroad right of way between 23d and 24th sts., extending to South Park way.

The site was bought from the La Salle National bank, trustee, for $160,000 thru Harry Harper, sole broker.

Two Story Building Planned

Herbert Zimmerman, president of the company, said plans for the new plant are being drawn by Albert Kahn, Detroit architect. A two story structure to cover the entire block, with foundations for additional stories, is being considered, he said.

The new unit will be a block south of the eight story Lakeside Press at Cermak rd. and Calumet av., which has more than 1 million square feet of floor space. It will be used entirely for printing work, Zimmerman said.

The Lakeside Press, one of the largest printing establishments under one roof, prints several nationally distributed magazines, as well as books, mail order catalogs, and telephone books.

State St. Land Transferred

Harper also was broker in a $225,000 loop purchase of land. Edwin T. Maynard bought 20 by 100 feet under a three story building at 208 S. State st. from Rodney Starkweather and others, represented by Gilbert Scribner of Winston & Co. The new owner will receive $16,000 annually on a 99 year lease to the 208 S. State St. Building corporation of which Daniel Kaufman is president.

Maynard recently bought 20 by 100 feet at 210 S. State st., giving him 40 feet of State st. frontage.

MIDDLE EAST'S DEMAND ACTIVE FOR U. S. GOODS

The war has created a pent-up demand in the middle east for American goods, Dr. Faud Sarruf, editor of the Arabic edition of Reader's Digest and University of Cairo professor of journalism, said yesterday. He addressed members of the Export Managers Club of Chicago and the Chicago Association of Commerce in the Hotel Sherman.

The importance of the middle east as a potential market arises from a strong urge for social betterment and a higher standard of living, he asserted. Because of increased mechanization of agriculture and the development of industries the economic status of the middle east has improved, he explained.

October, November Eggs Touch Five Week Lows

October and November shell egg futures at one time declined 0.40 to 0.55 cent a dozen to the lowest prices in five weeks before a late rally yesterday on the Chicago Mercantile exchange. Both closed at 44.55 cents, October down 0.20 cent and November, 0.35 cent. The slump was attributed to increased offerings of eggs on the Chicago wholesale market.

TURBINES AND GENERATORS

Please give me information on the business and earnings of Elliott company, whose stock is traded on the N. Y. Curb exchange.—N. N.

Elliott company's principal products are steam turbines and electric generators and motors of various types, but these do not include the very large or very small sizes. Among other products are steam condensers, tube cleaners, de-aerating water heaters, strainers, and turbochargers for diesel engines. Gas turbines developed by the company may become important in its future operations.

In recent years the company has been engaged largely in war work, including the production of equipment for submarines, other warships, and tankers. The $27,078,000 total sales in 1944 were more than double the 1942 volume, suggesting the probability of some decline in the company's business after the war.

Despite heavy excess profits taxes, average annual profit in the five years ended with 1944 increased to $555,774 from an average of $238,224 in the preceding five years, when profits fluctuated sharply. Giving effect to complete conversion of the $2.75 dividend preferred stock, called for redemption, Elliott will have outstanding about 328,079 common shares; also 40,000 $2.50 cumulative preferred shares recently offered publicly at 51. On the common then outstanding last year's $662,690 profit was equal to $2.57 a share. After allowance for conversion of the $2.75 preferred it is equal to $1.90 a common share. Common dividends from 1943 on have been at the yearly rate of $1.

STANDARD (IND.) ORGANIZES NEW RESEARCH UNIT

A. W. Peake, president of Standard Oil company (Indiana), yesterday announced that the company is organizing a chemical products department to canvass the market for petroleum chemicals, work with the research and manufacturing departments in developing and producing marketable derivatives, and manage sales and distribution.

Bruce K. Brown, vice president in charge of development, will head the new department and William B. Plummer, formerly manager of the company's development and patent department, will be manager.

The use of new synthetic processes for manufacturing petroleum products has reached an importance overshadowing older methods of refining, Plummer said, making new chemical by products available and opening the way to further developments in petroleum chemicals.

GRAIN FUTURES MOSTLY LOWER; WHEAT IS FIRM

Buying Held Removal of Export Hedges

Wheat futures prices were firm yesterday on the Chicago Board of Trade after buying of more than 4 million bushels attributed to the removal of hedges against exports of hard winter wheat to Mexico. Prices held in a narrow range, old crop months closing unchanged to ⅛ cent a bushel higher and July ⅜ lower.

Selling developed in rye and September sold at $1.45⅛, off 5⅝ cents from the high on Tuesday. Closing trades were ⅞ to 2¼ lower. Corn lost ⅜ to ¾ to the lowest in about a month, oats fell ¼ to ⅛, and barley ⅛ to ⅜.

Brokers Cautious of War

Expectations a private crop report to be issued today would indicate larger yields of wheat, corn, and oats affected prices. Brokers were cautious pending war developments and results of the Potsdam conference.

The wheat market received some support in the bidding for cash supplies in the southwest and west. Minneapolis received a car of new spring wheat from South Dakota which sold at the ceiling price.

Support in corn slackened and December slipped from the ceiling price with little opposition. The shortage of old corn grew more acute, however, Chicago receiving 168,000 bushels in the last two days, far short of processors' requirements. A little new corn was bought for October-November shipment from the country.

Oats Harvest Advanced

Reports to James E. Bennett & Co. from Illinois, Iowa, and Indiana said harvesting of oats is advanced. Altho farmers are binning a large percentage for feed, much surplus grain is being sold.

Stop loss orders were uncovered in rye. Cross trading in September and December narrowed the difference to 4¼ cents at the close compared with 7¼ cents early Tuesday.

LAMB AND SHEEP PRICES ADVANCE IN LIVELY TRADE

Lamb and sheep prices rose 15 to 25 cents a hundred pounds on lively competition yesterday at the stock yards. Top grades of new crop natives sold at $15.50, a 25 cent gain and the highest price since the middle of last week.

Cattle receipts were smaller and prices weak to lower. Steers and yearlings were 10 to 15 cents lower. Trading was slow in heifers, beef cows, canners, cutters, and calves, but prices were about steady. Bulls were weak to lower.

Hog receipts, at 8,500 including direct shipments to packers, were the third smallest of the year for a Thursday. Most stock sold quickly at ceiling prices.
